Paragraph (a) of § 1.121 relates to amendments in non-provisional applications, other than reissue applications, and retains a reference to § 1.52. Paragraph (a)(1) relates to the manner of making amendments in the specification, other than in the claims. Paragraph (a)(1)(i) requires the precise point in the specification to be indicated where an addition is to be inserted. Paragraph (a)(1)(ii) requires the precise point in the specification to be indicated where a deletion is to be made. This should be compared to addition or cancellation of material from the patent specification in a reissue application (paragraph (b)(1)(ii)) or in are examination proceeding (§ 1.530(d)(1)(ii), e.g., by way of a copy of the rewritten material). An amendment containing deletions mixed with additions will be treated according to both paragraphs (a)(1)(i) and (a)(1)(ii). Amendments to the specification, additions or deletions, do not require markings, only identification of an insertion point. However, where the changes made are not readily apparent the applicant may be requested by the examiner to provide an explanation of the changes or a marked up copy showing the changes made. Paragraph(a)(1)(iii) provides that to reinstate matter previously deleted it must be reinstated by a new amendment inserting the matter.

Paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.121 relates to the manner of making amendments in the claims of a non-reissue application. Paragraph (a)(2)(i) permits amendment by instructions to the Office for a deletion, paragraph (a)(2)(i)(A), or for an addition limited to five words in any one claim, paragraph (a)(2)(i)(B). The ability to provide directions to the Office for the handwritten deletion of five words or less for each claim does not encompass deletion of equations, charts or other non-word material. Paragraph (a)(2)(ii) sets forth that a claim may be amended by a direction to cancel the claim, or by rewriting the claim with markings showing material to be added and deleted. Additionally, previously rewritten claims are required to be so marked and not to have interlineations showing amendment(s) previous to the one currently being submitted.

Paragraph (a)(3) of § 1.121 clarifies that amendments to the original application drawings for non-reissue applications are not permitted and are to be made by way of a substitute sheet for each original drawing sheet that is to be amended. The paragraph contains material from cancelled § 1.115.

Paragraph (a)(4) of § 1.121 requires that any amendment presented in a substitute specification must be presented under the provision of this section either prior to or concurrent with the submission of the substitute specification. The paragraph contains material from cancelled § 1.115.

Paragraph (a)(5) of § 1.121 requires amendment of the disclosure in certain situations (i.e., to correct inaccuracies of description and definition) and to secure substantial correspondence. The paragraph contains material from cancelled § 1.117. The previous requirement for "correspondence" has been modified by use of "substantial correspondence." See comments to § 1.115.

Paragraph (a)(6) prohibits the introduction of new matter into the disclosure of a non-reissue, non-provisional application.

Paragraph (b) of § 1.121 applies to amendments in reissue applications. Paragraph (b)(1) of § 1.121 relates to the manner of making amendments to the specification, other than in the claims, in reissue applications. Paragraph (b)(1)(i) requires that amendments including deletions be made by submission of a copy of one or more newly added or rewritten paragraphs with markings, except that an entire paragraph may be deleted by a statement deleting the paragraph without presentation of the text of the paragraph. Paragraph (b)(1)(ii) requires indication of the precise point in the specification where the paragraph which is being amended is located. When a change in one sentence, paragraph or page results in only format changes to other pages (e.g., shifting of non-amended text to subsequent pages) not otherwise being amended, such format changes are not to be submitted. Compare to amendments to the specification, other than in the claims, of non-reissue applications wherein deletions are permitted, paragraph (a)(1)(ii) of this section. Paragraph (b)(1)(iii) defines the marking set forth in paragraph (b)(1)(ii) of this section. Proposed paragraph (b)(1)(iii), relating to a requirement for submission of all amendments be presented when any amendment to the specification is made, was not implemented.

Paragraph (b)(2) of § 1.121 relates to the manner of making amendments to the claims in reissue applications. Paragraph (b)(2)(i)(A) of § 1.121 requires the entire text of each patent claim that is being amended by the current amendment and of each claim being added by the current amendment. Requests that the Office hand-enter changes of five or less words, former § 1.121(c)(2), will no longer be permitted. Pending claims, whether previously amended or not, that are not being amended by the current amendment are not to be resubmitted. This procedure is different from § 1.121(a)(2)(i)(B), which permits requests that the Office hand-enter changes of five or less words in a non-reissue application. Additionally, provision is made for the cancellation of a patent claim by a direction to cancel without the need for marking by brackets. Paragraph (b)(2)(i)(B) requires that patent claims not be renumbered. Paragraph (b)(2)(i)(C) identifies the type of marking required by paragraph (b)(2)(i)(A), single underlining for added material and single brackets for material deleted.

Paragraph (b)(2)(ii) of § 1.121 requires that each amendment submission set forth the status (i.e., pending or cancelled) of all patent claims and all added claims as of the date of the submission, as not all claims (non-amended claims) are to be presented with each submission, paragraph (b)(2)(iv). The absence of submission of the claim status would result in an incomplete reply (§ 1.135(c)).

Paragraph (b)(2)(iii) of § 1.121 requires that each claim amendment be accompanied by an explanation of the support in the disclosure of the patent for the amendment. The absence of an explanation would result in an incomplete reply (§ 1.135(c)).

Comment 56: One comment requested that the Office clarify how an applicant would satisfy this requirement when the amendment involves a simple editorial change, or when the amendment uses terms that find no explicit support in the patent.

Response: When it is clear that the amendment simply involves an editorial change and doesnot add material for which support in the disclosure is required, the reply may simply explain that the amendment is merely making an editorial change. When the amendment uses terms that find no explicit support in the specification, the reply must set forth where the specification provides, at least implicitly, support for the amendment as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, ¶1. In addition, an amendment to the specification to secure correspondence between the specification and the claims will also be required. See § 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP 608.01(o). Obviously, an amendment that does not find either explicit or at least implicit support in the specification as required by 35 U.S.C. 112, ¶1, is not permitted. See 35 U.S.C. 251, ¶1, (last sentence).

Proposed paragraphs (b)(2)(iv) and (v) of this section, relating to a requirement for presentation of all amendments as of the date any amendment to the claims is made, and to the treatment of the failure to submit a copy of any added claim as a direction to cancel that claim, were not implemented.

Paragraph (b)(3) of § 1.121 clarifies that amendments to the patent drawings are not permitted and that any change must be by way of a new sheet of drawings with the amended figures being identified as "amended" and with added figures identified as "new" for each sheet that has changed. The paragraph contains material from cancelled § 1.115.

Paragraph (b)(4) of § 1.121, added in view of the deletion of § 1.115 paragraph (d), requires amendment of the disclosure in certain situations (i.e., to correct inaccuracies of description and definition) and to secure substantial correspondence between the claims, the remainder of the specification, and the drawings. The previous requirement for "correspondence" has been modified by use of "substantial correspondence." See comments to § 1.115.

Paragraph (b)(5) of § 1.121, containing material transferred from proposed paragraph (b)(2)(vi) (now deleted), clarifies that: (1) No reissue patent will be granted enlarging the scope of the claims unless applied for within two years from the grant of the original patent (additional broadening outside the two-year limit is appropriate as long as some broadening occurred within the two-year period, In re Doll, 419 F.2d 925, 164 USPQ 218 (CCPA1970)); and (2) no amendment may introduce new matter or be made in an expired patent.

Paragraph (b)(6) of § 1.121 has been added to clarify that all amendments must be made relative to (i.e., vis-à-vis) the specification (including the claims) and drawings of the original patent as of the date of the filing of the reissue application. If there was a prior change to the patent (made via a prior reexamination certificate, reissue of the patent, certificate of correction, etc.), the first amendment must be made relative to the patent specification aschanged by the prior proceeding or other mechanism for changing the patent. In addition, all amendments subsequent to the first amendment must be made relative to the patent specification in effect as of the date of the filing of the reissue application, and not relative to the prior amendment.

Paragraph (c) of § 1.121 clarifies that amendments in reexamination proceedings are to be made in accordance with § 1.530(d).

Section 1.121 as applied to reissue applications does not provide for replacement pages whereby a new page would be physically substituted for a currently existing page. However, an applicant can direct that a page or pages ("Page(s) _____") be cancelled and that updated materials be inserted in its place.

The wide availability of word processing should enable applicants to more easily submit updated material providing greater accuracy and thereby eliminating the need for the Office to hand-enter amendments. To that end, § 1.125 is amended to reflect current practice that a substitute specification may be submitted in an application, other than a reissue application, at any point up to payment of the issue fee as a matter of right, provided that such substitute specification is submitted in compliance with the requirements set forth in § 1.125.

Section 1.122: Section 1.122 is removed and reserved as representing internal Office instruction.

See comments related to § 1.101.

Section 1.123: Section 1.123 is removed and reserved and its subject matter transferred to § 1.121 for better context.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.123.

Section 1.124: Section 1.124 is removed and reserved and its subject matter transferred to § 1.121 for better context.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.124.

Section 1.125: Section 1.125 is amended by addition of paragraphs (a) through (d). Section 1.125(a) retains the current practice that a substitute specification may be required by the examiner and has been clarified to note that if the legibility of the application papers shall render it difficult to consider the application, the Office may require a substitute specification.

Section 1.125 is amended in view of the continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d), to reflect the current liberalized practice as set forth in MPEP 608.01(q), and to delete the verification requirement for the no new matter statement. See comments to § 1.4(d).

Section 1.125(b) specifically provides for the filing of a substitute specification, excluding the claims, at any point up to payment of the issue fee, if it is accompanied by: (1) a statement that the substitute specification includes no new matter; and (2) a marked-up copy of the substitute specification showing the matter being added to and the matter being deleted from the specification of record (i.e., the specification to be replaced by the substitute specification). While § 1.125(b)(2) requires the marked-up copy show the additions and deletions, it does not require that such additions and deletions be shown by underlining and bracketing. Rather, it permits the use of other indicia (e.g., redlining and strikeouts) to show additions and deletions so that the document-compare feature of conventional word-processing programs can be used to produce the marked-up substitute specification.

Section 1.125(b), as proposed, would have required that a substitute specification contain only changes that were previously or concurrently submitted by an amendment under § 1.121. The Office, however, is not adopting this proposal. Creating a copy of the substitute specification showing the additions and deletions is relatively easy using the document-compare feature of a conventional word-processing program, when compared to the burden of preparing an amendment under § 1.121(a)(1) showing numerous changes to a specification. Thus, the Office is adopting the requirement currently set forth in MPEP 608.01(q) for a marked-up copy of the substitute specification showing the additions and deletions.

Comment 57: One comment stated that it is not clear exactly what is to be submitted with the substitute specification under paragraph (b)(2) of this section even though paragraph (c) requires it to be in clean form without markings.

Response: Section 1.125 requires an applicant filing a substitute specification to submit:(1) the substitute specification in clean form without markings (§ 1.125(c)); (2) a marked-up copy showing the additions and deletions relative to the specification it is replacing (§ 1.125(b)(2)); and (3) a statement that the substitute specification includes no new matter (§ 1.125(b)(1)).

Section 1.125(c) is amended to clarify that a substitute specification is to be submitted without markings as to amended material.

Section 1.125(d) does not permit a substitute specification in reissue or reexamination proceedings as markings for changes from the patent are required therein.

Section 1.126: Section 1.126 is amended to delete the phrase ", except when presented in accordance with § 1.121(b)" for consistency with the change to § 1.121.

No comments were received regarding § 1.126.

Section 1.133: Section 1.133(b) is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.133.

Section 1.134: Section 1.134 is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.134.

Section 1.135: Section 1.135 paragraphs (a) and (c) are amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111. Section 1.135(b) is amended to clarify that the admission of or refusal to admit any amendment after final rejection, and not just an amendment not responsive to the last Office action, shall not operate to save the application from abandonment.

Section 1.135(c) is amended to provide that a new "time period" under § 1.134 may be given if a reply to a non-final Office action is substantially complete but consideration of some matter or compliance with some requirement has been inadvertently omitted. This replaces the practice in which an applicant may be given an opportunity to supply the omission through the setting of a "time limit" of one month that is not extendable. Under § 1.135(c) as adopted, a one-month shortened statutory time period will generally be set enabling an applicant to petition for extensions of time under § 1.136(a). Where 35 U.S.C. 133 requires a period longer than one month (i.e., actions mailed in the month of February), a shortened statutory period of 30 days will be set.

The setting of a time period for reply under § 1.134 (rather than a time limit) results in the date of abandonment (when no further reply is filed) being the expiration of the new time period rather than the date of expiration of the period of reply set in the original Office action for which an incomplete reply was filed. Thus, the amendment to § 1.135(c) permits the filing of a continuing application as an alternative to completing the reply, whereas the previous practice required an applicant to complete the reply that was held to be incomplete orelse the application was held to be abandoned (retroactively) as of the expiration of the original period for reply. Thus, applicants had to file an unnecessary reply to preservependency where their only intent was to file a continuing application. Section 1.135(c), as amended, sets forth a new period within which a continuing application can be filed, without the applicant having to supply the omission in the prior application to preserve pendency. In addition, applicant may file any other reply as may be appropriate under § 1.111, regardless of whether a continuing application is filed.

Comment 58: Two comments objected to the change on the basis that it is subject to intentional misuse. It is argued that it encourages an applicant to send in piecemeal replies and permits use of the time period as a subterfuge for extending prosecution as § 1.135(c) does not specify how many times an incomplete reply can be given.

Response: 35 U.S.C. 154 as amended by Pub.L. 103-465 should provide the necessary incentive for applicants to prosecute an application without undue delay. Additionally, the examiner can determine that the failure to provide a complete reply was not "inadvertent" (especially where an applicant was previously notified of the deficiencies in the reply), and not set a period under § 1.135(c).

Comment 59: One comment suggested amending § 1.135(c) from "may" to "shall" so that an examiner must provide an opportunity to an applicant to complete a reply, and that § 1.135(c) should not be limited to replies to non-final Office actions so that if an application is in condition for allowance except for an inadvertent omission it would be beneficial for all parties to provide the same benefit as for non-final actions.

Response: The term "may" is used rather than "shall" to encourage applicants to provide a complete reply, in that an applicant providing an incomplete reply cannot be certain of being provided with an additional time period to prosecute the application.

Section 1.113(a) provides that the only reply to a final Office action effective to avoid abandonment of an application is: (1) an amendment under § 1.116 that prima facie places the application in condition for allowance; or (2) a notice of appeal (and appeal fee) under § 1.191. Thus, the only reply under § 1.113(a) that will ensure that abandonment of the application will be avoided is: (1) an amendment under § 1.116 that cancels all of the rejected claims; or (2) a notice of appeal (and appeal fee) under § 1.191 (§ 1.113(a)). That is, an applicant filing a proposed amendment under § 1.116 or arguments in reply to a final Office action has no assurance that such reply will necessarily result in allowance of the application. Given the limited nature of the replies under § 1.113 to a final Office action, it is not appropriate to provide a time period under § 1.135(c) to complete a reply to a final Office action.

Section 1.135(c) is also amended to remove an unnecessary reference to consideration of the question of abandonment and to clarify that the reply for which applicant may be given a new time period to reply to must be a "non-final" Office action.

Section 1.136: Section 1.136(a)(1) is amended to recite the availability of a maximum of five rather than four months as an extension of time, subject to any maximum period for reply set by statute. For example, when a one-month or 30-day period is set for reply to a restriction requirement or for completing a reply under §1.135(c), that period may be extended up to the six-month statutory (35 U.S.C. 133) maximum. In addition, as the two-month period set in § 1.192(a) for filing an appeal brief is not subject to the six-month maximum period specified in 35 U.S.C. 133, the period for filing an appeal brief may be extended up to seven months.

Comment 60: At least one comment noted that there is no statutory authority under 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(8)(C) for the $2,010 amount set for the fifth month extension of time.

Response: See the response to comment 5.

Section 1.136(a)(1) is also amended by replacement of "respond" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111 and for clarification.

Section 1.136(a)(2) is amended by replacement of "respond" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111 and other clarification changes.

Comment 61: One comment questioned whether the addition in paragraph (a)(2) of § 1.136 that requires a reply to be filed prior to the expiration of the period of extension to avoid abandonment of the application will affect the timely filing of a reply under §§ 1.8 or 1.10 where the mail date rather than the receipt date is the end of the period for reply.

Response: The referred to addition has been noted to be a clarification and not a change in practice. The added language does not change current practice under §§ 1.8 and 1.10.

Section 1.136 is amended by addition of paragraph (a)(3) that provides for the filing in an application a general authorization to treat any reply requiring a petition for an extension of time for its timely submission as containing a request therefor for the appropriate length of time. The authorization may be filed at any time prior to or with the submission of a reply that would require an extension of time for its timely submission, including submission with the application papers. Previously, the mere presence of a general authorization, submitted prior to or with a reply requiring an extension of time, to charge all required fees does not amount to a petition for an extension of time for that reply (MPEP 201.06 and 714.17) and under the proposed amended rule the submission of a reply requiring an extension of time for its timely submission would not be treated as an inherent petition for an extension of timeabsent an authorization for all necessary extensions of time. The Office will continue to treat all petitions for an extension of time as requesting the appropriate extension period notwithstanding an inadvertent reference to a shorter period for extension and will liberally interpret comparable papers as petitions for an extension of time. Applicants are advised to file general authorizations for payment of fees and petitions for extensions of time as separate papers rather than as sentences buried in papers directed to other matters (such as an application transmittal letter). The use of individual papers directed only to an extension of time or to a general authorization for payment of fees would permit the Office to more readily identify the presence of such items and list them individually on the application file jacket, thus facilitating future identification of these authorizations.

Comment 62: Two comments requested that it be clarified whether the reference to submission of a paper with an authorization is to be construed as allowing for submission of a standard sentence in a general reply to an Office action that includes a check box on anapplication transmittal form.

Response: The comments have been adopted and the proposed language of paragraph (a)(3) of § 1.136 modified to replace the reference to "paper" with "written request."

Section 1.136(a)(3) is additionally amended to provide that general authorizations to charge fees are effective to meet not only the requirement for the extension of time fee for replies filed concurrent or subsequent to the authorization but also represent a constructive petition for an extension of time, which is a change from current practice wherein a general authorization to charge additional fees does not represent a petition for an extension of time, which petition must be separately requested.

Section 1.136(a)(3) also includes the sentence "[s]ubmission of the fee set forth in § 1.17(a) will also be treated as a constructive petition for an extension of time in any concurrent reply requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission." This provides for those instances in which an applicant files a reply with a check (or other means of payment under § 1.23) for the requisite fee under § 1.17(a)(1) through (5) for the petition under § 1.136(a) required to render such reply timely, but omits a request (i.e., a petition) for an extension of time under § 1.136(a). In such instances, the mere submission of the appropriate fee will be treated as a constructive petition for the extension of time to render the reply timely.

Section 1.136(b) is amended for clarity and to replace the phrase "response" with the phrase "reply" for consistency with § 1.111.

Section 1.137: Section 1.137 is amended to, inter alia, incorporate revival of abandoned applications and lapsed patents for the failure: (1) to timely reply to an Office requirement in a provisional application (§ 1.139); (2) to timely pay the issue fee for a design application (§ 1.155); (3) to timely pay the issue fee for a utility or plant application (§ 1.316); or (4) to timely pay any outstanding balance of the issue fee (§ 1.317) (lapsed patents).

Section 1.137(a) is amended to provide: (1) that it is the paragraph that applies to petitions under the "unavoidable" standard; (2) that "where the delay in reply was unavoidable, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application or a lapsed patent pursuant to [§ 1.137(a)]"; and (3) the requirements for a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) in paragraphs (a)(1) through (a)(4).

Section 1.137(a)(1) (and § 1.137(b)(1)) are amended to provide that a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) must be accompanied by "[t]he required reply, unless previously filed." Section 1.137(a)(1) (and § 1.137(b)(1)) is amended to further provide that "[i]n a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application" and that "[i]n an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof."

Under § 1.137(a)(1) (and § 1.137(b)(1)), a continuing application is a permissive (i.e., "may be met") reply in a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, in that an applicant in a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute may file a reply under § 1.111 to a non-final Office action or a reply under § 1.113 (e.g., notice of appeal) to a final Office action, or may simply file a continuing application as the required reply. The Office, however, may require a continuing application (or request for further examination pursuant to § 1.129(a)) to meet the reply requirement of § 1.137(a)(1) (or § 1.137(b)(1)) where, under the circumstances of the application, treating a reply under §§ 1.111 or 1.113 would place an inordinate burden on the Office. Exemplary circumstances of when treating areply under §§ 1.111 or 1.113 may place an inordinate burden on the Office are: (1) an application abandoned for an inordinate period of time; (2) the application file containing multiple or conflicting replies to the last Office action; and (3) the submission of a reply or replies under § 1.137(a)(1) (or § 1.137(b)(1)) that are questionable as to compliance with §§ 1.111 or 1.113.

While the revival of applications abandoned for failure to timely prosecute and for failure to timely pay the issue fee are incorporated together in § 1.137, the statutory provisions for the revival of an application abandoned for failure to timely prosecute and for failure to timely submit the issue fee are mutually exclusive. See Brenner v. Ebbert, 398 F.2d 762, 157USPQ 609 (D.C. Cir.), cert. denied 393 U.S. 926, 159 USPQ 799 (1968). 35 U.S.C. 151 authorizes the acceptance of a delayed payment of the issue fee, if the issue fee "is submitted . . . and the delay in payment is shown to have been unavoidable." 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(7) likewise authorizes the acceptance of an "unintentionally delayed payment of the fee for issuing each patent." Thus, 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(7) and 151 each require payment of the issue feeas a condition of reviving an application abandoned or patent lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee. Therefore, the filing of a continuing application without payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof is not an acceptable proposed reply in an application abandoned or patent lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof.

The Notice of Allowance requires the timely payment of the issue fee in effect on the date of its mailing to avoid abandonment of the application. In instances in which there is an increase in the issue fee by the time of payment of the issue fee required in the Notice of Allowance, the Office will mail a notice requiring payment of the balance of the issue fee then in effect. See In re Mills, 12 USPQ2d 1847 (Comm'r Pat. 1989). The phrase "for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof" applies to those instances in which the applicant fails to pay either the issue fee required in the Notice of Allowance or the balance of the issue feerequired in a subsequent notice. In such instances, the proposed reply must be the issue feethen in effect, if no portion of the issue fee was previously submitted, or any outstanding balance of the issue fee then in effect, if a portion of the issue fee was previously submitted.

These changes to § 1.137(a)(1) (and § 1.137(b)(1)) are necessary to incorporate into § 1.137 the revival of abandoned applications and lapsed patents for the failure to: (1) timely reply to an Office requirement in a provisional application (§ 1.139), (2) timely pay the issue fee (§§ 1.155 and 1.316), or (3) timely pay any outstanding balance of the issue fee (§ 1.317).

Section 1.137(a)(3) is amended to provide that a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) must be accompanied by "[a] showing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unavoidable."

Section 1.137(a) deletes the requirement that a petition thereunder be "promptly filed after the applicant is notified of, or otherwise becomes aware of, the abandonment." The genesis of the "promptly filed" requirement in § 1.137(a) is the legislative history of Pub. L. 97-247, § 3, 96 Stat. 317 (1982) (which provides for the revival of an "unintentionally" abandoned application), which provides, inter alia, that:

> In order to prevent abuse and injury to the public the Commissioner could require a terminal disclaimer equivalent to the period of abandonment and could require applicants to act promptly after becoming aware of the abandonment.

See H.R. Rep. No. 542, 97th Cong., 2d Sess. 7 (1982), reprinted in 1982 U.S.C.C.A.N. 771 (emphasis added).

Nevertheless, 35 U.S.C. 133 and 151 each require a showing that the "delay" was "unavoidable," which requires not only a showing that the delay which resulted in the abandonment of the application was unavoidable, but also a showing of unavoidable delay until the filing of a petition to revive. See In re Application of Takao, 17 USPQ2d 1155 (Comm'r Pat. 1990). The burden of continuing the process of presenting a grantable petition in a timely manner likewise remains with the applicant until the applicant is informed that the petition is granted. Id. Thus, an applicant seeking to revive an "unavoidably" abandoned application must cause a petition under § 1.137(a) to be filed without delay (i.e., promptly upon becoming notified, or otherwise becoming aware, of the abandonment of the application).

An applicant who fails to file a petition under § 1.137(a) "promptly" upon becoming notified, or otherwise becoming aware, of the abandonment of the application will not be able to show that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(a)] was unavoidable." The removal of the language in § 1.137(a) requiring that any petition thereunder be "promptly filed after the applicant is notified of, or otherwise becomes aware of, the abandonment" should not be viewed as: (1) permitting an applicant, upon becoming notified, or otherwise becoming aware, of the abandonment of the application, to delay the filing of a petition under § 1.137(a); or (2) changing (or modifying) the result in In re Application of S, 8 USPQ2d 1630 (Comm'r Pat. 1988), in which a petition under § 1.137(a) was denied due to the applicant's deliberate deferral in filing a petition under § 1.137. An applicant who deliberately chooses to delay the filing of a petition under § 1.137 (as in Application of S) will not be able to show that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(a)] was unavoidable" or even make an appropriate statement that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(b)] was unintentional."

Therefore, the requirement in § 1.137(a) that a petition thereunder be "promptly filed after the applicant is notified of, or otherwise becomes aware of, the abandonment" is deleted solely because it is considered redundant in light of the requirement for a showing that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) was unavoidable.

Section 1.137(a)(3) (and § 1.137(b)(3)) is further amended to delete the requirement that the showing (statement) must be a verified showing or statement if made by a person not registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office. Section 1.56 currently provides that each individual associated with the filing and prosecution of a patent application has a duty of candor and good faith. Sections 1.4(d) and 10.18 are amended to provide that a signature on a paper submitted to the Office constitutes an acknowledgment that willful false statements are punishable under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issuing thereon. Therefore, requiring additional verification of a showing or statement under § 1.137 would be redundant. In addition, this requirement results in delays in the treatment of the merits of petitions that include unverified statements.

Section 1.137(a)(4) (and § 1.137(b)(4)) are added to provide that a grantable petition under § 1.137 must be accompanied by "[a]ny terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in § 1.20(d)) required pursuant to [§ 1.137(c)]."

Section 1.137(b) is amended to provide: (1) that it is the paragraph that applies to petitions under the "unintentional" standard; (2) that "where the delay in reply was unintentional, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application or a lapsed patent pursuant to [§ 1.137(b)]"; and (3) the requirements for a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(b) in paragraphs (b)(1) through (b)(4).

Section 1.137(b)(1) is amended (as discussed supra) to provide that a grantable petition under § 1.137(b) must be accompanied by "[t]he required reply, unless previously filed." Section 1.137(b)(1) is amended to further provide that "[i]n a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application" and that "[i]n an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof."

Section 1.137(b)(3) is amended to provide that a grantable petition under § 1.137(b) must be accompanied by "[a] statement that the entire delay in providing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unintentional" and that "[t]he Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional." While the Office will generally require only the statement that the entire delay in providing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(b) was unintentional, the Office may require an applicant to carry the burden of proof to establish that the delay from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition was unintentional within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(7) and § 1.137(b) where there is a question whether the entire delay was unintentional. See In re Application of G, 11 USPQ2d 1378, 1380 (Comm'r Pat. 1989).

Section 1.137(b)(4) is amended to delete the one-year filing period requirement. Section 1.137(b)(4) is amended to provide that a grantable petition under § 1.137 must be accompanied by "[a]ny terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in § 1.20(d)) required pursuant to [§ 1.137(c)]."

Requirement that the entire delay until the filing of a grantable petition was unavoidable (§ 1.137(a)) or unintentional (§ 1.137(b)):

There are three periods to be considered during the evaluation of a petition under § 1.137: (1) the delay in reply that originally resulted in the abandonment; (2) the delay in filing an initial petition pursuant to § 1.137 to revive the application; and (3) the delay in filing a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137 to revive the application.

Where the applicant deliberately permits an application to become abandoned (e.g., due to aconclusion that the claims are unpatentable, that a rejection in an Office action cannot be overcome, or that the invention lacks sufficient commercial value to justify continued prosecution), the abandonment of such application is considered to be a deliberately chosen course of action, and the resulting delay cannot be considered as "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). See Application of G, 11 USPQ2d at 1380. Likewise, where the applicant deliberately chooses not to seek or persist in seeking the revival of an abandoned application, or where the applicant deliberately chooses to delay seeking the revival of an abandoned application, the resulting delay in seeking revival of the abandoned application cannot be considered as "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). An intentional delay resulting from a deliberate course of action chosen by the applicant is not affected by: (1) the correctness of the applicant's (or applicant's representative's) decision to abandon the application or not to seek or persist in seeking revival of the application; (2) the correctness or propriety of a rejection, or other objection, requirement, or decision by the Office; or (3) the discovery of new information or evidence, or other change in circumstances subsequent to the abandonment or decision not to seek or persist in seeking revival. Obviously, delaying the revival of an abandoned application, by a deliberately chosen course of action, until the industry or a competitor shows an interest in the invention (a submarine application) is the antithesis of an "unavoidable" or "unintentional" delay. An intentional abandonment of an application, or an intentional delay in seeking either the withdrawal of a holding of abandonment in or the revival of an abandoned application, precludes a finding of unavoidable or unintentional delay pursuant to § 1.137. See In re Maldague, 10 USPQ2d 1477, 1478 (Comm'r Pat. 1988).

The Office does not generally question whether there has been an intentional or otherwise impermissible delay in filing an initial petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) or (b), when such petition is filed: (1) within three months of the date the applicant is first notified that the application is abandoned; and (2) within one year of the date of abandonment of the application. Thus, an applicant seeking revival of an abandoned application is advised to file a petition pursuant to § 1.137 within three months of the first notification that the application is abandoned to avoid the question of intentional delay being raised by the Office (or by third parties seeking to challenge any patent issuing from the application).

Where a petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) or (b) is not filed within three months of the date the applicant is first notified that the application is abandoned, the Office may consider there to be a question as to whether the delay was unavoidable or even unintentional. In such instances, the Office may require: (1) a showing as to how the delay between the date the applicant was first notified that the application was abandoned and the date a § 1.137(a) petition was filed was "unavoidable"; or (2) further information as to the cause of the delay between the date the applicant was first notified that the application was abandoned and the date a § 1.137(b) petition was filed, and how such delay was "unintentional." To avoid delay in the consideration of a petition under § 1.137(a) or (b) in instances in which such petition was not filed within three months of the date the applicant was first notified that the application was abandoned, applicants should include a showing as to how the delay between the date the applicant is first notified by the Office that the application is abandoned and filing of a petition under § 1.137 was: (1) "unavoidable" in a petition under § 1.137(a); or (2) "unintentional" in a petition under § 1.137(b).

Where a petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) or (b) is not filed within one year of the date of abandonment of the application (note that abandonment takes place by operation of law, rather than the mailing of a Notice of Abandonment), the Office may require: (1) further information as to when the applicant (or the applicant's representative) first became aware of the abandonment of the application; and (2) a showing as to how the delay in discovering the abandoned status of the application occurred despite the exercise of due care or diligence on the part of the applicant (or the applicant's representative) (see Ex parte Pratt, 1887 Dec. Comm'r Pat. 31 (1887)). To avoid delay in the consideration of a petition under § 1.137(a)or (b) in instances in which such petition was not filed within one year of the date of abandonment of the application, applicants should include: (1) the date that the applicant first became aware of the abandonment of the application; and (2) a showing as to how the delay in discovering the abandoned status of the application occurred despite the exercise of due care or diligence on the part of the applicant.

In either instance, applicant's failure to carry the burden of proof to establish that the "entire" delay was "unavoidable" or "unintentional" may lead to the denial of a petition under § 1.137(a) or § 1.137(b), regardless of the circumstances that originally resulted in the abandonment of the application.

Section 1.137(d) specifies a time period within which a renewed petition pursuant to § 1.137 must be filed to be considered timely. So long as a renewed petition is timely filed under § 1.137(d) (including any properly obtained extensions of time), the Office will consider the delay in filing a renewed petition under § 1.137(a) "unavoidable" under § 1.137(a)(3), and will consider the delay in filing a renewed petition under § 1.137(b) "unintentional" under § 1.137(b)(3). Where an applicant files a renewed petition, request for reconsideration, or other petition seeking review of a prior decision on a petition pursuant to § 1.137 outside the time period specified in § 1.137(d), the Office may require, inter alia, a specific showing as to how the entire delay was "unavoidable" (§ 1.137(a)) or "unintentional" (§ 1.137(b)). As discussed supra, a delay resulting from the applicant deliberately choosing not to persist in seeking the revival of an abandoned application cannot be considered "unavoidable" or "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137, and the correctness or propriety of the decision on the prior petition pursuant to § 1.137, the correctness of the applicant's (or the applicant's representative's) decision not to persist in seeking revival, the discovery of new information or evidence, or other change in circumstances subsequent to the abandonment or decision to not persist in seeking revival are immaterial to such intentional delay caused by the deliberate course of action chosen by the applicant.

Retroactive application of § 1.137(b):

There was no prohibition in former § 1.137(b) against requests for waiver of its one-year filing period requirement; however, waiver of the one-year filing period requirement of former § 1.137(b) was subject to strictly limited conditions (§ 1.183). See Final Rule entitled "Changes in Procedures for Revival of Patent Applications and Reinstatement of Patents," published in the Federal Register at 58 FR 44277 (August 20, 1993), and in the Official Gazette at 1154 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 35 (September 14, 1993). Thus, under the terms of former § 1.137, an applicant in an application abandoned for more than one year could file either a petition under § 1.137(a) to revive the application on the basis of "unavoidable" delay, or a petition under §§ 1.183 and 1.137(b) to revive the application on the basis of "unintentional" delay. That is, where an application was abandoned for more than one year, and the delay was "unintentional" but not "unavoidable," it was incumbent upon an applicant desiring revival of the application to promptly file a petition under §§ 1.183 and 1.137(b) to revive the application.

While § 1.137(b), as amended, is, by its terms, applicable to applications abandoned prior to its effective date, § 1.137(b) requires, by its terms, "[a] statement that the entire delay in providing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unintentional." Thus, where an applicant (or the applicant's representative) previously chose not to seek revival of an application (e.g., due to the opinion that the former provisions of § 1.137(a) or (b) did not permit revival thereunder), the resulting delay in seeking revival of the application cannot be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). Likewise, where an applicant (or the applicant's representative) previously requested revival of an application, received an adverse decision (e.g., a dismissal or denial), and chose not to persist in seeking revival of the application (e.g., by request for reconsideration or review), the resulting delay in seeking revival of the application likewise cannot be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). The elimination of the one-year filing period requirement in § 1.137(b) does not create a newright to overcome any prior intentional delay caused by a deliberate course of action (or inaction) chosen by the applicant. Thus, any applicant filing a petition under § 1.137 after the effective date of this Final Rule, but outside the period set in § 1.137(d) for seeking reconsideration of a prior adverse decision on a request to revive an application will be considered to have acquiesced in the abandonment of the application or lapse of the patent.

Section 1.137(c) is amended to change the introductory phrase "[i]n all applications filed before June 8, 1995, and in all design applications filed on or after June 8, 1995" to "[i]n a design application, a utility application filed before June 8, 1995, or a plant application filed before June 8, 1995" for clarity. Section 1.137(c) is further amended to change the phrase "any petition to revive pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section" to "any petition to revive pursuant to this section," and the phrase "not filed within six months of the date of abandonment of the applications" is deleted. Section 1.137(c) is further amended to change the phrase "must also apply to any patent granted on any continuing application entitled under 35 U.S.C. 120 to the benefit of the filing date of the application for which revival is sought" to "must also apply to any patent granted on any continuing application that contains a specific reference under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) to the application for which revival is sought," since it is the claim for, and not the entitlement to, the benefit of the filing date of the application for which revival is sought that triggers the requirement for the filing of a terminal disclaimer in the continuing application.

Section 1.137(d) is amended to change "application" to "abandoned application or lapsed patent" to incorporate into § 1.137 the revival of lapsed patents. In view of the elimination of a time period from § 1.137(b), the provisions of former § 1.137(e) are incorporated into § 1.137(d) as "[u]nless a decision indicates otherwise, this time period may be extended under the provisions of § 1.136."

Section 1.137(e) is amended to expressly provide that a provisional application, abandoned for failure to timely reply to an Office requirement, may be revived pursuant to § 1.137(a) or (b) so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date. In accordance with 35 U.S.C. 111(b)(5), § 1.137(e) clearly indicates that "[u]nder no circumstances will a provisional application be regarded as pending after twelve months from its filing date." Prior § 1.139(a) and (b) each provided that a provisional application may be revived so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date, and that under no circumstances will a provisional application be regarded as pending after twelve months from its filing date.

Comment 63: The majority of comments opposed amending § 1.137(a) and (b) to include time limits based upon the mail date of a notification of abandonment, as well as the retroactive application of such a change to the rules of practice. While these comments recognized that any filing period requirement § 1.137 is better based upon the date of notification, rather than the date of abandonment, they argued that there will inevitably be instances in which a blameless applicant will not be able to meet the filing period requirement due to extenuating circumstances. The majority of comments supported amending § 1.137(a) and (b) to remove the filing period requirement, as well as the retroactive application of such a change to the rules of practice.

Response: The Office will adopt a § 1.137 that does not include filing period requirements, and will not limit the retroactive application of § 1.137(b) as adopted, other than by the terms of the rule (as discussed supra).

Comment 64: One comment generally supported the change to § 1.137(b) to remove the filing period requirement, but expressed concerns as to the routine revival of abandoned applications. The comment specifically suggested that the Office continue to require a high showing to justify the revival of an abandoned application, especially where the petition was filed substantially after abandonment or applicant's receipt of the notice of abandonment.

Response: The Office does not consider the revival of an abandoned application to be a "routine" matter. The Office will require, inter alia, a "showing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(a)] was unavoidable" as a prerequisite to the grant of any petition based upon unavoidable delay (§ 1.137(a)). The Office will require, inter alia, a "statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(b)] was unintentional" by a registered practitioner or other party in interest having firsthandknowledge of the circumstances surrounding the delay as a prerequisite to the grant of any petition based upon unintentional delay (§ 1.137(b)). The Office expects that such statement made by a registered practitioner not having first hand knowledge of the circumstances surrounding the delay be based upon a reasonable investigation of the circumstances surrounding the abandonment of the application (§ 10.18), and that such statement by any person be consistent with the duty of candor and good faith and the duty to disclose material information to the Office (§ 1.56).

Regardless of the length of the delay, § 1.137(a) requires that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(a) was unavoidable. Likewise, regardless of the length of the delay, § 1.137(b) requires that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(b) was unintentional. As "unintentional" delay does not require that the delay have occurred despite the exercise of due care and diligence (as does "unavoidable" delay), the Office does not routinely require a "showing" of unintentional delay for a petition under § 1.137(b). However, where there may be a question whether the delay was unintentional, the Office may require a showing of unintentional delay for a petition under § 1.137(b). Such question may arise from papers submitted to the Office prior to the petition under § 1.137(b) (e.g., a letter of express abandonment, or other communication evidencing a desire to discontinue prosecution) or from facts set forth in the petition itself. Such question may also arise simply from the length of the delay between the date the applicant was notified of the abandoned status of the application and the date action was taken to revive the abandoned application, or the length of the period of abandonment. Specifically, where there is a delay of three months between the date the applicant was notified of the abandoned status of the application (i.e., the mail date of the notice of abandonment) and the date a petition under § 1.137(b) was filed, or where the application was abandoned for more than one year prior to the date a petition under § 1.137(b) was filed, the Office may require further information and a showing that the delay was unintentional.

Finally, it should be stressed that the mere fact that a petition under § 1.137(b) was filed within three months of the date the applicant was notified of the abandoned status of the application (i.e., the mail date of the notice of abandonment) or within one year of the date of abandonment does not imply that the delay was "unintentional." That is, an applicant who deliberately delays the filing of a petition under § 1.137 until three months from the mail dateof the notice of abandonment (or based upon the one-year anniversary of the date of abandonment) cannot appropriately make the statement that "the delay was unintentional." This time frame is provided simply as an indication as to when an applicant should expect the Office to inquire further into the circumstances of the abandonment of an application for which a petition under § 1.137(b) is filed, and in which case the applicant may expedite consideration of such petition by providing information as to when applicant was notified of the abandoned status of the application, and the cause of the delay between the date of notification and the date a petition under § 1.137 was filed.

Comment 65: One comment suggested that the Office include in § 1.137 all of the basic interpretations and guidelines by which the Office applies § 1.137. The comment specifically suggested that § 1.137 include the time periods (e.g., three months) by which the Office measures the applicant's diligence in taking action to revive the application and the differences between post-abandonment delay in taking action to revive the application and any pre-abandonment delay which may have resulted in the abandonment.

Response: The Office will adopt a § 1.137 that does not include filing period requirements, but requires that the "entire" delay was "unavoidable" (§ 1.137(a)) or "unintentional" (§ 1.137(b)). The requirements for a petition to revive an abandoned application or lapsed patent are set forth in § 1.137; additionally, the Office will set forth its basic interpretations and guidelines for application of § 1.137 (instructional information) in the MPEP.

Section 1.181 provides the basis for generic requests for relief by petition, and sets forth a two-month time period therein for the timely filing of a petition (§ 1.181(f)). While the three-month time frame employed by the Office during the consideration petitions under § 1.137 exceeds the two-month period in § 1.181(f) for the timely filing of a petition, this three-month period is the most frequently set period for reply by an applicant (see MPEP 710.02(b)). While the Office considers the two-month period in § 1.181(f) to be the appropriate period by which the timeliness of a petition should be determined, it is certainly reasonable to expect that any applicant desiring to restore an abandoned application to pending status will file a petition under § 1.137 to revive such abandoned application no later than three months after notification of abandonment of the application. See In re Kokaji, 1 USPQ2d 2005, 2006 (Comm'r Pat. 1986).

The "three-month" time frame set forth in this Final Rule is a guideline as to when an applicant can expect further inquiry by the Office (and, as such, should attempt to provide the relevant information in the initial petition to avoid delay), in that: (1) it is possible that an applicant is incapable of filing a petition under § 1.137 within three months of the date of notification of abandonment (e.g., pro se applicant incapacitated from date of notification of abandonment until action taken to revive the application) rendering the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition unavoidable; and (2) it is also possible that an applicant, by a deliberately chosen course of action, delays the filing of a petition under § 1.137 until exactly three months after the date of notification of abandonment to use this period as an extension of time, in which case a statement that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unintentional" is not appropriate. To avoid substitution of the three-month time frame for review by the Office forthe requirement for unavoidable or unintentional delay, the Office will not amend § 1.137 to include this time frame.

Comment 66: One comment indicated that the phrase "the delay was unintentional" is unclear. The comment recited a specific example in which an applicant, under final rejection,submits an amendment or other correspondence which is believed by the applicant to place the application in condition for allowance (and thus constitute a reply within the meaning of § 1.113), and, as such, the applicant, in a deliberate course of action/inaction, takes no further steps to ensure the filing a reply within the meaning of § 1.113 (e.g., a notice of appeal) to the final rejection. The comment suggested that § 1.137 is unclear as to whether the delay in this situation, which may be deliberate or intentional in the literal sense, would constitute an "unintentional" delay within the meaning of § 1.137(b).

Response: The Office has amended § 1.137 to require that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition" was "unavoidable" (§ 1.137(a)) or "unintentional" (§ 1.137(b)). Thus, intentional delays occurring prior to the due date for reply to avoid abandonment do not preclude relief pursuant to § 1.137. Should the delay in the example given extend past the extendable due date for reply (under § 1.113) to the final rejection, an appropriate statement of unintentional delay could be made as the applicant did not intend to have the deadline for reply under § 1.113 to the final rejection expire.

In addition, there is a distinction between: (1) a delay resulting from an error in judgment as to whether to permit an application to become abandoned (whether to prosecute the application) or whether to seek or persist in seeking the revival of the abandoned application; and (2) a delay resulting from an error in judgment as to the steps necessary to continue the prosecution delay in seeking revival of the application. Where the abandonment and ensuing delay results from an error in judgment as to whether to permit an application to become abandoned (whether to prosecute the application) or whether to seek or persist in seeking the revival of the abandoned application, the abandonment of such application is considered a deliberately chosen course of action, and the resulting delay cannot be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). Where, however, an error in judgment asto the steps necessary to continue prosecution results in abandonment of the application, the abandonment of such application is not necessarily considered a deliberately chosen course of action, and the resulting delay may be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b).

However, §§ 1.116 and 1.135(b) are manifest that proceedings concerning an amendment after final rejection will not operate to avoid abandonment of the application in the absence ofa timely and proper appeal. Unless the applicant is informed in writing that the application is allowed prior to the expiration of the period for reply to the final Office action, it is the applicant's responsibility to timely file a notice of appeal (and fee) to avoid the abandonment of the application. The abandonment of an application subject to a final Office action is not "unavoidable" within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 133 and § 1.137(a) in the situation in which the applicant simply permits the maximum extendable statutory period for reply to a final Office action to expire while awaiting a notice of allowance or other action.

Comment 67: One comment opposed the changes to § 1.137 on the bases that: (1) it permits submarine patents, in that an applicant may permit an application to become abandoned and wait to see whether the invention was developed by other entities; and (2) the revival of along-abandoned application will have an adverse impact on the examiner, in that the examiner who originally examined that application may no longer be at the Office, or will have to reacquaint himself or herself with the application.

Response: The change to § 1.137(b) does not permit an applicant to obtain revival where either: (1) the applicant deliberately permitted the application to become abandoned; or (2) the applicant deliberately delayed seeking revival to see whether the invention was developed by other entities. It is well established that where applicant deliberately permits an application to become abandoned, the abandonment of such application is considered a deliberately chosen course of action, and the resulting delay cannot be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). See Application of G, 11 USPQ2d at 1380. Likewise, where the applicant deliberately chooses not to either seek or persist in seeking the revival of an abandoned application, the resulting delay in seeking revival of the application cannot be considered "unintentional" within the meaning of § 1.137(b). The intentional abandonment of an application, or an intentional delay in seeking either the withdrawal of a holding of abandonment in or the revival of an abandoned application, precludes a finding of unavoidable or unintentional delay pursuant to § 1.137. See Maldague, 10 USPQ2d at 1478.

While it is possible for an applicant to make a misleading statement that the delay was unintentional to obtain revival of an abandoned application, the Office simply must rely upon the candor and good faith of those prosecuting patent applications (e.g., it is equally possible for a party to fabricate evidence and obtain the revival of a long-abandoned application on the basis of unavoidable delay). Any applicant obtaining revival based upon a misleading statement that the delay was unintentional may find the achievement short-lived as a result of the question of intentional delay being raised by third parties challenging any patent issuing from the application.

The revival of any long-abandoned application will have an adverse impact on the examiner; however, long-abandoned applications have been previously revived pursuant to § 1.137(a) on the basis of unavoidable delay. See In re Lonardo, 17 USPQ2d 1455 (Comm'r Pat.1990) (application revived after being abandoned for more than sixteen years). Thus, this change to § 1.137(b) will not create a burden on examiners that did not exist before, and could in fact reduce the burden as a result of the requirement that in applications abandoned for excessive periods of time would have to show that the entire delay was "unavoidable" or "unintentional."

Comment 68: One comment suggested that the two-year limitation in 35 U.S.C. 41(c) is a "good compromise" in regard to a filing period for filing petitions to revive based upon unintentional delay.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. Changing the one-year filing period requirement in § 1.137(b) to a two-year filing period requirement would not substantially change the problem caused by a filing period requirement, namely, that it causes inequitable results in certain instances. In addition, the inclusion of any filing period requirement in § 1.137(a) or (b) will likely induce applicants, or their representatives, to delay the filing of a petition under § 1.137 until the end of such filing period. See Application of S, 8 USPQ2d at 1632. The Office has no discretion in regard to the twenty-four month filing period requirement in 35 U.S.C. 41(c), but the presence of a twenty-four month filing period requirement in 35 U.S.C. 41(c) does not imply that the Office must place a twenty-four month filing period requirement into the rules implementing 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(7), which contains no filing period requirement.

Comment 69: One comment opposed the changes to § 1.137 on the basis that the right to revive an abandoned application should be limited due to the public's right to practice a technology "that an applicant has abandoned."

Response: 35 U.S.C. 41(a)(7) authorizes the Office to revive an abandoned application wherethe abandonment was unintentional (or unavoidable, the epitome of unintentional), but not where the abandonment was intentional. Section 1.137 does not authorize the revival of an abandoned application where the applicant, by deliberate course of action, has abandoned an application or delayed seeking its revival. Additionally, in many instances the disclosure in a patent maturing from a revived application would not have been disclosed and the technology therein would not be public knowledge, but for the revival of the application.

Comment 70: One comment suggested the need for an intervening rights provision to protect innocent infringers.

Response: The issue of intervening rights relates to the enforcement of patent rights, which does not directly concern the conduct of proceedings in the Office. Thus, it is unclear whether the Office is authorized under 35 U.S.C. 6 to promulgate regulations including an intervening rights provision.

Comment 71: Several comments suggested that § 1.137(b) be amended to include the "promptly filed" requirement of § 1.137(a).

Response: The suggestion is effectively adopted, although via a different mechanism as explained below. While there is considerable merit to the suggestion for the inclusion of a "promptly filed" requirement in both § 1.137(a) and (b), the Office has eliminated the "promptly filed" requirement from § 1.137(a) to avoid confusion between "promptly filed" and "unavoidable delay." The phrase "promptly filed" has been associated with § 1.137(a)and its requirement for "unavoidable" delay, and, as such, the inclusion of a "promptly filed" requirement in § 1.137(b) might cause confusion in regard to the distinction between the circumstances that constitute unavoidable delay and the circumstances that constitute unintentional delay.

Section 1.137(a)(3) and (b)(3) as adopted requires that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition" has been "unavoidable" (§ 1.137(a)) or "unintentional" (§ 1.137(b)) to clarify the requirements for a petition under § 1.137(a) and (b). As discussed supra, an applicant who fails to file a petition under § 1.137(a) or (b) "promptly" upon becoming notified, or otherwise becoming aware, of the abandonment of the application will not be able to show that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(a)] was unavoidable," and will probably not even be able to make an appropriate statement that "the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to [§ 1.137(b)] was unintentional." Obviously, any petition under § 1.137(a) or (b) should be "promptly filed" upon discovery of abandonment to avoid a question as to whether the filing of such a petition was intentionally delayed.

Comment 72: One comment questioned how a patent could lapse for failure to pay the issue fee, as a patent does not issue unless the issue fee is paid.

Response: 35 U.S.C. 151 provides that where an applicant timely submits the sum specified in the Notice of Allowance as the issue fee, but a balance of the issue fee remains outstanding (due to a fee increase), the patent will lapse unless the balance of the issue fee is timely paid. See Mills, 12 USPQ2d at 1848; see also Ex parte Crissy, 201 USPQ 689 (Bd. Pat. App.1976).

Comment 73: One comment suggested that § 1.137(a)(1) and (b)(1) not require a continuing application if the application became abandoned for failure to reply to a non-final Office action.

Response: Section 1.137(a)(1) and (b)(1) each provide that a petition thereunder include:

The required reply, unless previously filed. In a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof.

As discussed supra, there may be circumstances under which the Office may require a continuing application to meet this reply requirement. Nevertheless, in a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, a continuing application is generally apermissive (i.e., "may be met") reply, in that an applicant in a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute may file a reply under § 1.111 to a non-final Office action or a reply under § 1.113 (e.g., notice of appeal) to a final Office action, or may simply file a continuing application as the required reply. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay any portion of the required issue fee, the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof is the mandatory (i.e., "must be") reply. As the "continuing application"option is limited to an abandoned nonprovisional application, the reply in an abandoned provisional application must be any outstanding reply to an Office requirement.

Comment 74: One comment suggested that § 1.137(c) be amended to take into account the provision in 35 U.S.C. 154(c) that an application (other than a design application) is entitled to a patent term of not less than twenty years from its filing date, or if the application contains a specific reference to an earlier filed application(s) under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c), the date twenty years from the filing date of the earliest such application(s).

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. The Office considers this situation to be applicableto a relatively small class of applications, and, as such, does not deem it prudent to introduce into § 1.137(c) the complexity necessary to account for this situation. Applicants in this situation (e.g., instances in which an application filed prior to June 8, 1995, is to be revived solely for purposes of copendency with an application filed on or after June 8, 1995) may file a petition pursuant to § 1.183 requesting that the Office waive the provisions of § 1.137(c) to the extent that § 1.137(c) requires a disclaimer of the period in excess of the date twenty years from the filing date of the application, or if the application contains a specific reference to an earlier filed application(s) under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c), the date twenty years from the filing date of the earliest such application(s). The Office will refund the § 1.17(h) petition fee if the § 1.183 petition is granted.

Comment 75: One comment suggested that the last paragraph of § 1.137 read:

Under no circumstance may a petition to revive a provisional application be filed more than twelve months after the filing date of the provisional application. No application filed more than twelve months after the filing date of a provisional application is entitled to a claim of priority from the provisional [application], notwithstanding the copendency of any petition to revive the provisional application.

Response: The suggestion is not adopted. 35 U.S.C. 111(b)(3)(C) authorizes the revival of an abandoned application on the basis of unavoidable or unintentional delay. 35 U.S.C.111(b)(5) provides that a "provisional application shall be regarded as abandoned 12 months after the filing date of such application and shall not be subject to revival thereafter." 35 U.S.C. 111(b) does not contain any limitation on the filing date of a petition to revive an abandoned provisional application (or the date by which such a petition must be granted), but only a limitation as to the period of pendency of the provisional application. Thus, § 1.137(e) as adopted provides that "[a] provisional application . . . may be revived . . . so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date. Under no circumstances will a provisional application be regarded as pending after twelve months from its filing date."

Section 1.139: Section 1.139 is removed and reserved and its subject matter added to§ 1.137.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.139.

Section 1.142: Section 1.142 is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.142.

Section 1.144: Section 1.144 is amended for clarification purposes.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.144.

Section 1.146: Section 1.146 is amended for clarification purposes.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.146.

Section 1.152: Section 1.152 is amended to place its former provisions into paragraphs (a),(a)(1), and (a)(2) for clarification.

Section 1.152 is also amended to remove the prohibition against color drawings and color photographs in design applications. Section 1.152 is amended to permit the use of color photographs and color drawings in design applications subject to the petition requirements of § 1.84(a)(2) inasmuch as color may be an integral element of the ornamental design. While pen and ink drawings may be lined for color, a clear showing of the configuration of the design may be obscured by this drafting method. New technologies, such as holographic designs, fireworks and laser light displays may not be accurately disclosed without the use of color.

The term "article" of § 1.152(a) is replaced by the term "design" as 35 U.S.C. 171 requires that the claim be directed to the "design for an article" not the article, per se. Therefore, to comply with the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, 1, it is only necessary that the design as embodied in the article be fully disclosed and not the article itself. The term "must" has been replaced by the term "should" to allow for latitude in the illustration of articles whose configuration may be understood without surface shading. Clarification language has been added to note that the use of solid black surfaces is permitted for representation of the color black as well as color contrast and that photographs and ink drawings must not be combined as formal drawings in one application.

A new § 1.152(b) is added to clarify Office practice concerning details disclosed in the ink drawings, color drawings, or photographs deposited with the original application papers. Specifically, § 1.152(b) provides that any details disclosed in the ink or color drawings, or photographs deposited with the original application papers constitutes an integral part of the disclosed and claimed design, except as otherwise provided in § 1.152(b). Section 1.152(b) further specifies that this detail may include color or contrast, graphic or written indicia, including identifying indicia of a proprietary nature (e.g., a company logo), surface ornamentation on an article, or any combination thereof. The "but not limited to" phrase in§ 1.152(b) clarifies that this list is exemplary, not exhaustive.

Section 1.152(b)(1) provides that when any detail shown in informal drawings or photographs does not constitute an integral part of the disclosed and claimed design, a specific disclaimer must appear in the original application papers either in the specification or directly on the drawings or photographs. This specific disclaimer in the original application papers will provide antecedent basis for the omission of the disclaimed detail(s) in later-filed drawings orphotographs. That is, in the absence of such a disclaimer, later-filed formal or informal drawings not including any detail disclosed in the original drawings will be considered tocontain new matter, and will be treated accordingly. See 35 U.S.C. 112, 1; § 1.121(a)(6).

Comment 76: One comment stated that applicant may misunderstand the implications of submitting a design drawing in color and suggested that § 1.152 should explain and give notice of the consequences of submitting an initial color drawing in design applications.

Response: The comment has been adopted.

Section 1.152(b)(2) provides that when informal color drawings or photographs are deposited with the original application papers without a disclaimer pursuant to § 1.152(b)(1), formal color drawings or photographs, or a black and white drawing lined to represent color, will be required.

Section 1.154: The heading of § 1.154 is amended to read "[a]rrangement of application elements" for consistency with §§ 1.77 and 1.163. Section 1.154 paragraph (a) is amended to clarify that a voluntary submission (see comments under § 1.152 relating to substitution of "design" for "article") may and should be made of "a brief description of the nature and intended use of the article in which the design is embodied." It is current practice for design examiners, in appropriate cases, to inquire as to the nature and intended use of the article in which a claimed design is embodied. The submission of such description will allow for a more accurate initial classification, and aid in providing a proper and complete search at the time of the first action on the merits. In those instances where this feature description is necessary to establish a clear understanding of the article in which the design is embodied, provision of the feature description would help in reducing pendency by eliminating the necessity for time-consuming correspondence. Specifically, requests for information prior to first action would be avoided. Absent an amendment requesting deletion of the description it would be printed on any patent that would issue.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.154.

Section 1.155: Section 1.155 is amended to include only the language of former § 1.155(a). The subject matter of former paragraphs (b) through (f) of § 1.155 were added to § 1.137.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.155.

Section 1.163: The heading of § 1.163 is amended to read "[s]pecification and arrangement of application elements" for consistency with §§ 1.77 and 1.154. Section 1.163(b) is amended to remove an unnecessary and outmoded reference to a "legible carbon copy of the original" specification for plant applications.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.163.

Section 1.165: The proposed amendment to § 1.165 to remove the reference to the artistic and competent execution of plant patent drawings is withdrawn.

Comment 77: One comment argued that the language proposed to be deleted was actually relied upon by examiners to obtain new and better illustrations.

Response: The comment was adopted to the extent that the proposed change is withdrawn to allow for further study of what language related to the type of plant drawings should appear in § 1.165.

Section 1.167: Section 1.167 is amended to include only the language of former § 1.167(a), in that paragraph (b) is removed as unnecessary in view of § 1.132.

Comment 78: One comment questioned whether § 1.132 covers paragraph (b) of § 1.167, which paragraph has been deleted.

Response: Paragraph (b) of § 1.167 provided for the submission of affidavits by qualified agricultural or horticultural experts regarding the novelty and distinctiveness of the variety of plant. Section 1.132 relates to affidavits traversing grounds of rejection, and is recognized as the appropriate rule under which an affidavit may be submitted which does not fall within or under other specific rules. See MPEP 716.

Section 1.171: Section 1.171 is amended to no longer require an order for a title report in reissue applications as the requirement for a certification on behalf of all the assignees under concomitantly amended § 1.172(a) obviates the need for a title report and fee therefor. Section 1.171 is also amended by deletion of the requirement for an offer to surrender the patent, which offer is seen to be redundant in view of § 1.178.

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.171.

Section 1.172: Section 1.172 is amended to require that all assignees establish their ownership interest in compliance with § 3.73(b). The amendment as originally proposed repeated requirements found in § 3.73(b) rather than incorporating § 3.73(b), as assignees of a part interest are frequently involved in reissue applications.

Comment 79: One comment noted that the proposed amendment repeated requirements already found in § 3.73(b) and was unnecessary.

Response: The comment was adopted, in that § 1.172 is amended to simply reference § 3.73(b). Section 3.73(b) is amended to replace a reference to an assignee of the entire right, title and interest with a reference to an assignee, so as to include assignees of a part interest.

Section 1.175: Section 1.175 relating to the content of the reissue oath or declaration (MPEP1414), as well as §§ 1.48 and 1.324 relating to correction of inventorship in an application and in a patent, respectively, are amended to remove the requirement for a factual showing relating to a matter in which a lack of deceptive intent must be established. A statement as to a lack of deceptive intent is sufficient to meet the statutory requirement under 35 U.S.C. 251 of a lack of deceptive intent relating to the error(s) to be corrected by reissue, and a factual showing of how the error(s) to be corrected by reissue arose or occurred is not required. As the Office no longer investigates fraud and inequitable conduct issues and a reissue applicant's statement of a lack of deceptive intent is normally accepted on its face (See MPEP 1448), the requirement in former § 1.175(a)(5) that it be shown how the error(s) being relied upon arose or occurred without deceptive intent on the part of the applicant appears to be unduly burdensome upon applicants and the Office, and is deleted. This applies to the initially identified error(s), under paragraph (a), and any subsequently identified error(s) under paragraph (b).

Comment 80: Although the elimination of the requirement for a factual showing relating to how the errors arose or occurred enjoyed overwhelming support, three comments cited the need for continued investigation by the Office. One comment, while agreeing that some relaxation of reissue oath or declaration requirements are in order, stated that the Office should not decline to investigate entirely or adopt a pro forma requirement that can merely be incanted. Two comments stated that it is hard to get the courts to review this issue and that the courts and the public are at a disadvantage absent an explanation of how the error occurred.

Response: Current Office practice is to reject reissue applications only where there is "smoking gun" evidence of deceptive intent, which will not be demonstrated by the type of inquiry limited to a showing of how the error arose or occurred without the ability to subpoena witnesses or evidence. Accordingly, the burden presented on all reissue applicants based on the mere collection of such information for every error is not seen to be warranted.

Comment 81: One comment suggested that a final declaration is not needed, and that, as an alternative, counsel should be allowed to submit a statement based on information and belief counsel is not aware of deceptive intent.

Response: 35 U.S.C. 251 requires that an error have been made without deceptive intention to be corrected via reissue. Accordingly, all errors being corrected by reissue must have been made without deceptive intention, in that an error made with deceptive intention cannot be bootstrapped onto an error made without deceptive intention and corrected via reissue. The parties with the best knowledge of the lack of deceptive intention are the patentees and owners of the patent, not counsel for the reissue application.

An initial reissue oath or declaration filed pursuant to § 1.175(a) is limited to identification ofthe cause(s) of the reissue, and stating generally that all errors being corrected in the reissue application at the time of filing of the oath or declaration arose without deceptive intent. Paragraph (a)(1) requires the identification of at least one error and only one error may be identified as the basis for reissue. The current practice under § 1.175(a)(3) and (a)(5) of specifically identifying all errors being corrected at the time of filing the initial oath or declaration is not retained. Although only one error need be identified to provide a basis for reissue, where only one error among more than one is so identified, applicant should carefully monitor that the error is retained or submit a supplemental oath or declaration identifying another error or errors.

Comment 82: One comment suggested that since a reissued patent and a reexamined patent may also be reissued, paragraph (a)(1) of § 1.175 may be clarified to substitute for "original patent" "reissued," or "existing patent" as what is wholly or partly inoperative or invalid.

Response: The effect of a reissue or reexamination proceedings is to cause a substitution for the original patent so that the reissued or reexamined patent becomes the original patent.

Paragraph (b)(1) of § 1.175 requires a supplemental reissue oath or declaration for errors corrected that were not covered by an earlier presented reissue oath or declaration, such as the initial oath or declaration pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section or one submitted subsequent thereto (a supplemental oath or declaration under this paragraph), stating generally that all errors being corrected, which are not covered by an earlier presented oath or declaration pursuant to § 1.175(a) and (b), arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant. A supplemental oath or declaration that refers to all errors that are being corrected, including errors covered by a reissue oath or declaration submitted pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, would be acceptable. The specific requirement for a supplemental reissue oath or declaration to cover errors sought to be corrected subsequent to the filing of an initial reissue oath or declaration is not a new practice, but merely recognition of a current requirement for a supplemental reissue oath or declaration when additional errors are to be corrected. However, the current practice of specifically identifying all supplemental errors being corrected in a supplemental reissue oath or declaration is not retained.

A supplemental oath or declaration under paragraph (b)(1) must be submitted prior to allowance. The supplemental oath or declaration may be submitted with any amendment prior to allowance, paragraph (b)(1)(i), or in order to overcome a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251 made by the examiner where there are errors sought to be corrected that are not covered by a previously filed reissue oath or declaration, paragraph (b)(1)(ii). Any such rejection by theexaminer will include a statement that the rejection may be overcome by submission of a supplemental oath or declaration, which oath or declaration states that the errors in issue arose without any deceptive intent on the part of the applicant. An examiner ordinarily will be introducing a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251 based on the lack of a supplemental declaration for the first time in the prosecution once the claims are determined to be otherwise allowable. The introduction of a new ground of rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251 will not prevent an action from being made final, except first actions pursuant to § 1.113(c), because of the combination of the following factors. (1) the finding of the case in condition for allowance is the first opportunity that the examiner has to make the rejection; (2) the rejection is being made in response to an amendment of the application (to deal with the errors in the patent); (3) all applicants are on notice that this rejection will be made upon finding of the case otherwise in condition for allowance where errors have been corrected subsequent to the last oath or declaration filed in the case, therefore, the rejection should have been expected by applicant; and (4) the rejection will not prevent applicant from exercising any rights as to curing the rejection, since applicant need only submit the supplemental oath or declaration with the above-described language, and it will be entered to cure the rejection provided it raises no additional issue, such as an informality or substantive reissue question (e.g., a previously omitted claim for priority under 35 U.S.C. 119).

A supplemental oath or declaration under paragraph (b) of this section would only be required for errors sought to be corrected during prosecution of the reissue application. Where an Office action contains only a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251 and indicates that a supplemental oath or declaration under this paragraph would overcome the rejection, applicants are encouraged to authorize the payment of the issue fee at the time the supplemental reissue oath or declaration is submitted in view of the clear likelihood that the reissue application will be allowed on the next Office action. Such authorization will reduce the delays in the Office awaiting receipt of the issue fee. Where there are no errors to be corrected over those already covered by an oath or declaration submitted under paragraphs (a) and (b)(1) of this section (e.g., the application is allowed on first action), or where a supplemental oath or declaration has been submitted prior to allowance and no further errors have been corrected, a supplemental oath or declaration under this paragraph, or additional supplemental oath or declaration under paragraph (b)(1), would not be required.

Paragraph (b)(2) provides that for any error sought to be corrected after allowance (e.g.,under § 1.312), a supplemental oath or declaration must accompany the requested correction stating that the error(s) to be corrected arose without any deceptive intent on the part of the applicant.

The quotes around lack of deceptive intent, currently found in § 1.175(a)(6), are removed as the exact language is not required. The reference to § 1.56, currently found in § 1.175(a)(7), is removed as unnecessary in view of the reference to § 1.56 in § 1.63 that is also referred to by § 1.175(a). The stated ability of applicant to file affidavits or declarations of others and the ability of the examiner to require additional information, currently found in § 1.175(b), is deleted as unnecessary in view of 35 U.S.C. 131 and 35 U.S.C 132.

New paragraph (c) of § 1.175 has been rewritten to clarify its intent that a subsequently submitted oath or declaration under this section need not identify any errors other than what was identified in the original oath or declaration provided at least one of the originally identified errors to be corrected is retained to provide a basis for the reissue.

In new paragraph (d) of § 1.175 a reference to § 1.53(f) is inserted to clarify that the initial oath or declaration under § 1.175(a) including those requirements under § 1.63 need not be submitted (with the specification, drawing and claims) in order to obtain a filing date.

Section 1.176: The adoption of a final change to § 1.176 is held in abeyance pending further consideration by the Office of the decision by the Federal Circuit in In re Graff, 111 F.3d874, 42 USPQ2d 1471 (Fed. Cir. 1997). Graff involved two issues: (1) whether it is permissible to have a continuation of a reissue application when the reissue application has issued as a reissue patent; and (2) whether broadened claims can be presented more than two years after the original patent date in a reissue application which was filed within two years but did not include any broadened claims. While Graff is more directly related to § 1.177 than § 1.176, §§ 1.176 and 1.177 are sufficiently interrelated that the Office considers it appropriate to hold the final changes to both § 1.176 and § 1.177 in abeyance pending further consideration by the Office of the decision in Graff.

Comment 83: A comment requested clarification regarding how restriction, between claims added in a reissue application and the original patent claims, by the examiner would be permitted in § 1.176 while § 1.177 would prohibit multiple reissue patents except among the distinct and separate parts of the thing patented.

Response: The comment will receive further consideration when a final change to § 1.176 is adopted.

Section 1.177: Section 1.177 was proposed to be amended to discontinue the current practice that copending reissue applications must be issued simultaneously unless ordered otherwise by the Commissioner pursuant to petition. As discussed supra, the adoption of a final change to § 1.177 is held in abeyance pending further consideration by the Office of the decision in Graff.

Comment 84: One comment would limit the granting of multiple reissue patents on different dates to where a petition for the grant of multiple reissue patents has been approved prior to the issuance of any reissue patent. Another comment thought that only one petition fee should be charged notwithstanding whether a petition in more than one reissue application is required.

Response: The comments will receive further consideration when a final change to § 1.177 is adopted.

Section 1.181: The proposed change to § 1.181 will not be made, see comments relating to § 1.101.

Comment 85: One comment requested that the material to be deleted from § 1.181, paragraphs (d), (e), and (g) should be retained as they give fair warning to all and the consequences of failure to pay a petition fee.

Response: The comment has been adopted.

Section 1.182: Section 1.182 is amended by providing that a petition under the section may be granted "subject to such other requirements as may be imposed" by the Commissioner, language similar to that appearing for petitions under § 1.183. The proposal to remove the statement that a decision on a petition thereunder will be communicated to interested parties in writing is withdrawn.

Comment 86: One comment opposed the proposal to remove the statement that a decision on a petition under § 1.182 will be communicated to interested parties in writing, arguing that it would not be appropriate for the Office to decide a petition under § 1.182 without communicating the decision to the interested parties in writing.

Response: The suggestion is adopted. The Office did not propose to remove the statement that a decision on a petition under § 1.182 will be communicated to interested parties in writing because the Office intended to discontinue providing written decisions on petitionsunder § 1.182 (or any other petition), but because it was considered unnecessary to state as much in the rule itself. While the Office will communicate the decision on any petition under § 1.182 to the interested parties in writing, such decision may not always take the form of a traditional decision on petition. For example, the grant of a petition under § 1.182 to accept the omitted page(s) or drawing(s) in a nonprovisional application and accord the date of such submission as the application filing date will be indicated by the issuance of a new filing receipt stating the filing date accorded the application. See Notice entitled "Change in Procedure Relating to an Application Filing Date" published in the Federal Register at 61 FR30041, 30043 (June 13, 1996), and in the Official Gazette at 1188 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 48, 50-51 (July 9, 1996).

Section 1.184: Section 1.184 is removed and reserved as representing internal instructions.

Comment 87: Comments suggested that § 1.184 not be deleted notwithstanding its internal directions. See response to comment relating to § 1.101.

Section 1.184 relates to the refusal of a subsequent Commissioner to reconsider a case once decided by a previous Commissioner, except in accordance with principles which govern the granting of new trials. As the Commissioner is free to waive any requirement of the rules not required by statute, the prohibition against reconsideration is ineffective. Additionally, the deletion of the material does not necessarily represent an intent to engage in reconsideration of matters previously decided.

Section 1.191: Section 1.191(a) is amended to permit every applicant, and every owner of a patent under reexamination, any of whose claims have been twice or finally (§ 1.113) rejected (rather than "any of the claims of which have been twice rejected or given a final rejection (§ 1.113)"), to file an appeal to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences (Board) to better track the language of 35 U.S.C. 134. Section 1.191(a) is also amended to: (1) explicitly refer to a "notice of appeal" to provide antecedent for such term in § 1.192; (2) replace "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111; and (3) refer to § 1.17(b) for consistency with the change to § 1.17.

Comment 88: One comment argued that the proposed change to § 1.191, limiting the "twice rejected" requirement for appeal to a particular application, was inconsistent with 35 U.S.C.134, as indicated by the Board in the unpublished decision Ex parte Lemoine, Appeal No. 94-0216 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter., December 27, 1994). A second comment argued that § 1.191 should permit an appeal based on one rejection in a prior application and one rejection in a continuing application to avoid requiring an applicant to file a pro forma a reply to meet the requirement that the particular application be twice rejected.

Response: The comments have been adopted by elimination of the limitation to twice rejected being related to a particular application. To avoid inconsistency between § 1.191 and 35 U.S.C. 134, § 1.191 as adopted tracks the language of 35 U.S.C. 134, except that § 1.191 states "twice or finally (§ 1.113) rejected" rather than "twice rejected." The patent statute and rules of practice do not permit an application to be finally rejected (even under first actionfinal practice) under 35 U.S.C. 132, unless the applicant is one "whose claims have been twice rejected" within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 134. Thus, the phrase "or finally (§ 1.113)" may be viewed as redundant. Nevertheless, as applicants generally delay appeal until final action (although Pub. L. 103-465 may change this practice), and there has been some confusion as to when 35 U.S.C. 134 and § 1.191 permit an applicant to appeal a rejection, § 1.191(a) as adopted states "twice or finally (§ 1.113) rejected."

Section 1.191(b) is amended to eliminate the requirement for a notice of appeal to: (1) besigned; or (2) identify the appealed claims. These two requirements have been deleted as being redundant of the requirements of § 1.192 for an appeal brief, which is necessary to avoid dismissal of the appeal. Section 1.33 requires that an appeal brief filed in either an application (§ 1.33(b)) or a reexamination proceeding (§ 1.33(c)) be signed. Thus, a signed appeal brief under § 1.192 (which must be filed to avoid dismissal of the appeal) will serve to, in effect, ratify any unsigned notice of appeal under § 1.191. Likewise, the former requirement of § 1.191(b) for an identification of the appealed claims is unnecessary as § 1.192(c)(3) requires that the appeal brief, inter alia, identify the "claims appealed." While it is no longer specifically required by § 1.191(b), an applicant or patent owner should continue to sign notice of appeals under § 1.191(b) (like other papers) and to also identify the claims appealed. The change to § 1.191(b), in effect, permits an appeal brief to constitute an automatic "correction" of a notice of appeal that is not signed or does not identify the appealed claims.

The failure to timely file an appeal brief will result in dismissal of an appeal (§ 1.192(b)). Thus, the failure to timely file an appeal brief (signed in compliance with § 1.33(b) or (c)) after the filing of an unsigned notice of appeal will result in dismissal of the appeal as of the expiration date (including any extensions of time actually obtained) for filing such appeal brief. It will not result in treatment of the application or patent under reexamination as if the notice of appeal had never been filed. This distinction is significant in an application containing allowed claims, in that dismissal of an appeal results in cancellation of the rejected claims and allowance of the application, not abandonment of the application (which would have occurred if the notice of appeal had never been filed).

The Office has eliminated the requirements for a notice of appeal to be signed and to identify the appealed claims to avoid the delay and expense to the applicant and the Office that is involved in treating a defective notice of appeal. These changes were not made to encourage the filing of unsigned notices of appeal or notices of appeal that do not identify the claims being appealed; rather, a notice of appeal should be signed and identify the claims appealed. As the change to § 1.191(b) does not affect other papers submitted with a notice of appeal (e.g., an amendment under § 1.116) or other actions contained within the notice of appeal (e.g., an authorization to charge fees to a deposit account), the failure to sign a notice of appeal (or accompanying papers) may have adverse effects notwithstanding the change to § 1.191(b). For example, an unsigned notice of appeal filed with an authorization (unsigned) to charge the appeal fee to a deposit account as payment of the notice of appeal fee (§ 1.17(b)) will be unacceptable as lacking the appeal fee, as § 1.191(b) applies to the notice of appeal, but not to an authorization to charge a deposit account that happens to be included in the notice of appeal.

Section 1.192: Section 1.192(a) is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111, and to refer to § 1.17(c) for consistency with the change to § 1.17.

Comment 89: One comment suggested that the appeal process could be improved by the imposition of a reasonable page limit on briefs.

Response: The suggestion will be reviewed for further consideration.

Section 1.193: Section 1.193, as well as §§ 1.194, 1.196, and 1.197, are amended to change "the appellant" to "appellant" for consistency. Section 1.193 is also amended by revision of paragraph (a) into paragraphs (a)(1) and (a)(2) and revision of paragraph (b) into paragraphs (b)(1) and (b)(2). Paragraph (a)(1) retains the subject matter of current paragraph (a), except that the phrase "and a petition from such decision may be taken to the Commissioner as provided in § 1.181" is deleted as superfluous. Section 1.181(a), by its terms, authorizes a petition from any action or requirement of an examiner in the ex parte prosecution of an application which is not subject to appeal.

Section 1.193(a)(2) specifically prohibits the inclusion of a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer, but also expressly provides that when (1) an amendment under § 1.116 proposes to add or amend one or more claims, (2) appellant was advised (in an advisory action) that the amendment under § 1.116 would be entered for purposes of appeal, and (3) the advisory action indicates which individual rejection(s) set forth in the action from which the appeal was taken (e.g., the final rejection) would be used to reject the added or amended claim(s), then (1) the appeal brief must address the rejection(s) of the claim(s) added or amended by the amendment under § 1.116 as indicated in the advisory action, and (2) the examiner's answer may include the rejection(s) of the claim(s) added or amended by the amendment under § 1.116 as indicated in the advisory action. This provision of § 1.193(a)(2) is intended for those situations in which a rejection is stated (i.e., applied to some claim) in the final Office action, but due to an amendment under § 1.116 (after final) such rejection is now applicable to a claim that was added or amended under § 1.116. For example, when an amendment under § 1.116 cancels a claim (the "canceled claim") and incorporates its limitations into the claim upon which it depends or rewrites the claim as a new independent claim (the "appealed claim"), the appealed claim has become the canceled claim since it now contains the limitations of the canceled claim (i.e., the only difference between the appealed claim and the canceled claim is the claim number). In such situations, the appellant has been given a fair opportunity to react to the ground of rejection (albeit to a claim having a different claim number). Thus, the Office does not consider such a rejection to constitute a "new ground of rejection" within the meaning of § 1.193(b). Nevertheless, § 1.193(b)(2) expressly permits such a rejection on appeal and further provides that "[t]he filing of an amendment under § 1.116 which is entered for purposes of appeal represents appellant's consent that when so advised any appeal proceed on those claim(s) added or amended by the amendmen tunder § 1.116 subject to any rejection set forth in the action from which the appeal was taken" to eliminate controversy as to the rejection(s) to which claim(s) added or amended under § 1.116 may be subject on appeal.

The phrase "individual rejections" in § 1.193(a)(2) addresses the situation in which claim 2 (which depends upon claim 1) was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 on the basis of A in view of B and claim 3 (which depends upon claim 1) was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 on the basis of A in view of C, but no claim was rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 on the basis of A in view of B and C, and an amendment under § 1.116 proposes to combine the limitations of claims 2 and 3 together into new claim 4: In this situation, the action from which the appeal is taken sets forth no rejection on the basis of A in view of B and C, and, as such, § 1.193(a)(2) does not authorize the inclusion of rejection of newly proposed claim 4 under 35 U.S.C. 103 on the basis of A in view of B and C in the examiner's answer. Of course, as a claim including the limitations of both claim 2 and claim 3 is a newly proposed claim in the application, such an amendment under § 1.116 may properly be refused entry as raising new issues. Conversely, that § 1.193(a)(2) would authorize the rejection in an examiner's answer of aclaim sought to be added or amended in an amendment under § 1.116 has no effect on whether the amendment under § 1.116 is entitled to entry. The provisions of § 1.116 control whether an amendment under § 1.116 is entitled to entry; the provisions of § 1.193(a)(2) control the rejections to which a claim added or amended in an amendment under § 1.116 may be subject in an examiner's answer.

While § 1.193(a) generally prohibits a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer, it does not prohibit the examiner from expanding upon or varying the rationale for a ground of rejection set forth in the action being appealed. That is, the parenthetical definition of "new ground of rejection" in MPEP 1208.01 as including an "other reason for rejection" of the appealed claims means another basis for rejection of the appealed claims, and not simply another argument, rationale, or reason submitted in support of a rejection previously of record.

There is no new ground of rejection when the basic thrust of the rejection remains the same such that an appellant has been given a fair opportunity to react to the rejection. See In re Kronig, 539 F.2d 1300, 1302-03, 190 USPQ 425, 426-27 (CCPA 1976). Where the statutory basis for the rejection remains the same, and the evidence relied upon in support of the rejection remains the same, a change in the discussion of or rationale for supporting the rejection does not constitute a new ground of rejection. Id. at 1303, 190 USPQ at 427 (reliance upon fewer references in affirming a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103 does not constitute a new ground of rejection). Where the examiner simply changes (or adds) a rationale for supporting a rejection, but relies upon the same statutory basis and evidence in support of the rejection, there is no new ground of rejection.

In any event, an allegation that an examiner's answer contains an impermissible new ground of rejection is waived if not timely (§ 1.181(f)) raised by way of a petition under § 1.181(a).

Section 1.193(b)(1) provides appellant with a right to file a reply brief in reply to an examiner's answer which is not dependent upon a new point of argument being present in the examiner's answer. The former practice of permitting reply briefs based solely on a finding of a new point of argument, as set forth in former paragraph (b), is eliminated thereby preventing present controversies as to whether a new point of argument has been made by the primary examiner. Appellant would be assured of having the last submission prior to review by the Board. Upon receipt of a reply brief, the examiner would either acknowledge its receipt and entry or reopen prosecution to respond to any new issues raised in the reply brief. Should the Board desire to remand the appeal to the primary examiner for comment on the latest submission by appellant or to clarify an examiner's answer (MPEP 1211, 1211.01, and1212), appellant would be entitled to submit a reply brief in reply to the answer by the examiner to the Board's inquiry, which answer would be by way of a supplemental examiner's answer.

Thus, § 1.193(a)(2) does not permit a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer, and § 1.193(b)(1) does not, in the absence of a remand by the Board, permit an answer (other than a mere acknowledgment) to a timely filed reply brief. Section 1.193 requires the examiner to reopen prosecution to either: (1) enter a new ground of rejection; or (2) provide a substantive answer to a reply brief.

Section 1.193(b)(2) provides that if appellant desires that the appeal process be reinstated in reply to the examiner's reopening of prosecution under § 1.193(b)(1), appellant would be able to file a request to reinstate the appeal and a supplemental appeal brief as an alternative to filing a reply (under §§ 1.111 or 1.113, as appropriate) to the Office action. Amendments, affidavits or other new evidence, however, would not be entered if submitted with a request to reinstate the appeal. Like a reply brief, a supplemental appeal brief submitted pursuant to § 1.193(b)(2)(ii) need not reiterate the contentions set forth in a previously filed appeal brief(or reply brief), but need only set forth appellant's contention with regard to the new ground of rejection(s) raised in the Office action that reopened prosecution. The supplemental appeal brief will automatically incorporate all issues and arguments raised in the previously filed appeal brief (or reply brief), unless appellant indicates otherwise.

The intent of the change to § 1.193(b) is to give appellant (rather than the examiner) the option to continue the appeal if desired (particularly under Pub. L. 103-465), or to continue prosecution before the examiner in the face of a new ground of rejection. Should a supplemental appeal brief be elected as the reply to the examiner reopening prosecution based on a new ground of rejection under § 1.193(b)(1), the examiner may under § 1.193(a)(1) issue an examiner's answer. Where an appeal is reinstated pursuant to § 1.193(b)(2)(ii), no additional appeal fee is currently required.

Comment 90: A number of comments favored permitting appellants to file a reply brief as amatter of right. One comment argued that the Board, rather than the examiner, should determine whether the appellant should be permitted to file a reply brief.

Response: Section 1.193 as adopted permits an appellant to file a reply brief as a matter of right. This change eliminates the authority of an examiner to refuse entry of a timely filed reply brief.

Comment 91: One comment suggested that a reasonable page limit could be placed on reply briefs.

Response: The comment will be studied.

Comment 92: A number of comments opposed the proposed change to require a substitute appeal brief, rather than a reply brief. These comments argued that requiring an entirely new brief reiterating previously submitted arguments, rather than a mere reply to the examiner's answer, would result in a less readable and coherent record.

Response: Section 1.193 as adopted permits a reply brief (rather than a substitute appeal brief) where the appellant desires to reply to an examiner's answer or and a supplemental appeal brief where the appellant requests reinstatement of an appeal. Contentions (orinformation) set forth in a previously filed appeal (or reply brief) need not be reiterated in a reply brief or supplemental appeal brief.

Comment 93: A number of comments favored prohibiting a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer.

Response: Section 1.193 as adopted prohibits a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer, except under the limited circumstance specifically provided for in § 1.193(a)(2).

Comment 94: Two comments suggested that if the examiner reopens prosecution after an appeal brief has been filed, §§ 1.193 or 1.113 should be amended to state that the action issued by the examiner cannot be made final.

Response: The finality of an Office action is determined under MPEP 706.07(a), which states that "any second or subsequent actions on the merits shall be final, except where the examiner introduces a new ground of rejection not necessitated by amendment of the application by applicant." Whether the action subsequent to the reopening of prosecution may be made final will be determined solely by whether such action includes a new ground of rejection not necessitated by amendment of the application by the applicant. Thus, where an amendment under § 1.116 entered as a result of reopening of prosecution necessitates a new ground of rejection, the action immediately subsequent to the reopening of prosecution may be made final. See MPEP 706.07(a) and 1208.01.

Comment 95: One comment would go further in permitting applicant to reinstate an appeal as a reply to the examiner reopening prosecution by permitting amendments, affidavits and other evidence to address the new ground of rejection. Another comment desired the ability to reply directly to the Board for any new ground of rejection raised by the Board.

Response: The comments amount to having the Board conduct the prosecution of the application and not act as an appellate review. Amended claims, affidavits and other evidence should be seen by the examiner first for a determination as to whether a new search is required, to conduct any newly required search, and also to evaluate the newly submitted and any newly discovered material at the examination level. See comments to § 1.196(d).

Comment 96: One comment would further amend § 1.193 to waive any subsequent appeal notice fee and appeal brief fee, and start the time period for extension of patent from the time of first appeal in that if the examiner did his or her duty properly there would be no need to reopen prosecution.

Response: Under current practice, a new fee is due for each notice of appeal, each brief, and each request for an oral hearing, so long as a decision on the merits by the Board resulted from the prior notice of appeal, brief, and request for an oral hearing. Thus, when an examiner reopens prosecution after appeal but prior to a decision by the Board on the appeal, the fee for the notice of appeal, brief, and request for an oral hearing will apply to a later appeal. The change to § 1.193 in this Final Rule is not germane to patent term extension under 35 U.S.C. 154(b) and § 1.701.

In any event, that prosecution is reopened subsequent to the filing of an appeal brief is not necessarily a concession that the rejection of the appealed claims was in error. It is often the case that prosecution is reopened subsequent to the filing of an appeal brief in the situation in which the examiner considers the rejection of the appealed claims to be appropriate (and thus the appeal to be without merit), but discovers a better basis for rejecting the claims at issue (e.g., even better prior art references). To characterize an examiner, who decides to reopen prosecution to avoid wasting the Board's resources (and the appellant's time) with a rejection that is not the best possible rejection of the appealed claims, as an examiner who is not properly performing his or her duties, would be non-sensical.

Comment 97: One comment opposed prohibiting a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer. The comment argued that this change will result in unnecessary delays inprosecution.

Response: The proposal to prohibit a new ground of rejection in an examiner's answer otherwise received overwhelming support. Under Pub. L. 103-465, any delay in prosecution resulting from the reopening of prosecution is to the detriment of the applicant. Thus, it is considered appropriate to give the applicant the choice of whether to prosecute the application before the examiner or reinstate the appeal.

Section 1.194: Section 1.194(b) is amended to provide that a request for an oral hearing must be filed in a separate paper, and to refer to § 1.17(d) for consistency with the change to § 1.17.

Section 1.194(c) is amended to provide that appellant will be notified when a requested oral hearing is unnecessary (e.g., a remand is required).

Comment 98: One comment argued that § 1.194 leaves an open statement as to when the Board may decide that an oral hearing is not necessary, in that this section does not limit considering an oral hearing not necessary to when the application has been remanded to the examiner.

Response: The situation in which an application has been remanded to the examiner was simply an exemplary situation of special circumstances in which the Board may determine that an oral hearing is not necessary. Section 1.194 was not meant to limit the discretion of the Board to determine that an oral hearing is not necessary to those situations when the application has been remanded to the examiner.

Section 1.196: Section 1.196 paragraphs (b) and (d) are combined by amending paragraph § 1.196(b) to specifically provide therein for a new ground of rejection for both appealed claims and for allowed claims present in an application containing claims that have been appealed rather than the current practice under § 1.196(d) of recommending a rejection of allowed claims that is binding on the examiner. The effect of an explicit rejection of an allowed claim by the Board is not seen to differ from a recommendation of a rejection and would serve to advance the prosecution of the application by having the rejection made at an earlier date by the Board rather than waiting for the application to be forwarded and acted upon by the examiner. The former practice that the examiner is not bound by the rejection should appellant elect to proceed under § 1.196(b)(1) and an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record in the opinion of the examiner overcomes the new ground of rejection, is not changed. A period of two months is now explicitly set forth for a reply to a decision by the Board containing a new ground of rejection pursuant to § 1.196(b), which would alter the one month previously set forth for replies to recommended rejections of previously allowed claims. See MPEP 1214.01. Extensions of time continue to be governed by § 1.196(f) and § 1.136(b) (and not by § 1.136(a)).

The last sentence of § 1.196(b)(2) is amended to clarify that appellants do not have to both appeal and file a request for rehearing where only a rehearing of a portion of the decision is sought. A decision on a request for rehearing will incorporate the earlier decision for purposes of appeal of the earlier decision in situations in which only a partial request for rehearing has been filed. Additionally, it is clarified that decisions on rehearing are final unless noted otherwise in the decision in that under some circumstances it may not be appropriate to make a decision on rehearing final as is currently automatically provided for. Section 1.196(b) is also amended to clarify that the appellant must exercise one of the two options with respect to the new ground of rejection under § 1.196(b) to avoid termination of proceedings (§ 1.197(c)) as to the rejected claims.

Section 1.196(b)(2) (and §§ 1.197(b) and 1.304(a)(1)) are amended to change the phrase "request for reconsideration" to "request for rehearing" for consistency with 35 U.S.C. 7(b). See In re Alappat, 33 F.3d 1526, 1533, 31 USPQ2d 1545, 1548 (Fed. Cir. 1994) (enbanc) (noting "imprecise regulation drafting" in regard to the phrase "request for reconsideration" in § 1.197).

Section 1.196(d) is amended to provide the Board with explicit authority to have an appellant clarify the record in addition to what is already provided by way of remand to the examiner (MPEP 1211), and appellant's compliance with the requirements of an appeal brief (§ 1.192(d)). Section 1.196(d) specifically provides that an appellant may be required to address any matter that is deemed appropriate for a reasoned decision on the pending appeal, which may include: (1) the applicability of particular case law that has not been previously identified as relevant to an issue in the appeal; (2) the applicability of prior art that has not been made of record; or (3) the availability of particular test data that would be persuasive in rebutting a ground of rejection. Section 1.196(d) also provides that appellant would be given a non-extendable time period (not a time limit) within which to reply to any requirementunder § 1.196(d).

Comment 99: One comment suggested that § 1.196(b) would appear to authorize the Board to reverse a restriction requirement, as § 1.196(b) authorizes the Board to reject any pending claim. The comment suggested that § 1.196(b) authorize the Board to reject any examined (rather than pending) claim.

Response: Section 1.196(b) authorizes, but does not require, the Board to reject claims not involved in the appeal. The Board has held that a restriction requirement is not an adverse decision within the meaning of 35 U.S.C. 7 and 134 subject to appeal, and the CCPA and Federal Circuit have supported this position. See In re Hengehold, 440 F.2d 1395, 169USPQ 473 (CCPA 1971); see also In re Watkinson, 900 F.2d 230, 14 USPQ2d 1407 (Fed.Cir. 1990). Thus, concerns that the Board will use the provisions of § 1.196(b) to review restriction requirements are misguided.

Comment 100: Several comments opposed the change to § 1.196(d) on the basis that it places the Board in the position of acting as an examiner in the first instance.

Response: Section 1.196(d) authorizes, but does not require, the Board to require an appellant to clarify the record without remanding the application to the examiner. This change will authorize the Board to obtain clarification directly from the appellant in those situations in which the Board considers a remand to or further action by the examiner unnecessary. Where the Board considers action by an examiner in the first instance to be necessary or desirable, the Board retains the authority to remand the application to the examiner for such action. Additionally, after reply to an inquiry under § 1.196(d) (e.g., does there exist test data that would be persuasive in rebutting a particular ground of rejection), a remand to the examiner may be deemed to be appropriate (e.g., to evaluate test data received in reply to an inquiry).

Section 1.197: Section 1.197(b) is amended to eliminate its use of the passive voice. Section 1.197(b) is also amended to change "reconsideration or modification" to "rehearing" for consistency with 35 U.S.C. 7(b). For consistency with the two-month period set forth in § 1.196(b), § 1.197(b) is also amended to provide a two-month period (rather than a one-month period) within which an appellant may file the single request for rehearing permitted by § 1.197(b).

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.197.

Section 1.291: Section 1.291(c) is amended by removing the blanket limitation of one protest per protestor and would provide for a second or subsequent submission in the form of additional prior art. Mere argument that is later submitted by an initial protestor would continue not to be entered and would be returned unless it is shown that the argument relates to a new issue that could not have been earlier raised. See MPEP 1901.07(b). Although later submitted prior art would be made of record by a previous protestor without a showing that it relates to a new issue, it should be noted that entry of later submitted prior art in the file record does not assure its consideration by the examiner if submitted late in the examination process. Accordingly, initial protests should be as complete as possible when first filed.

In view of the amendment to § 1.291(a) in the "Miscellaneous Changes in Patent Practice" Final Rule (discussed supra) to require that a protest be filed prior to the mailing of a notice of allowance under § 1.311 to be considered timely (§ 1.291(a)(1)), the restriction of protests by number is deemed unnecessary and is recognized as ineffective, in that a party may effectively file multiple protests by submitting each protest through a third party agent acting on behalf of such party.

Comment 101: One comment suggested that permitting more than one submission by a particular party relating to prior art poses a risk that a third party may sequentially submit individual pieces of prior art as a delaying factor.

Response: Any delay in submission of a piece of prior art by a third party poses the risk that the later submitted prior art will not be considered, particularly if it is seen as part of a pattern. The review of any piece of prior art, assuming it is not part of a large package, to determine its value is not seen to result in any delay in issuing an Office action. It isrecognized that some delay may result where a piece of prior art in a second submission by a third party is utilized in a rejection that could have been made sooner if that art had been submitted earlier; however, on balance the Office would prefer to delay prosecution of an application and consider and apply a newly submitted reference not found by the examiner rather than issue an invalid claim.

Section 1.291(c) is also amended to: (1) delete the sentence "[t]he Office may communicate with the applicant regarding any protest and may require the applicant to reply to specific questions raised by the protest" as superfluous as the Office may communicate with an applicant regarding any matter, and require the applicant to reply to specific questions, concerning the application; (2) replace "respond" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

Section 1.293: Section 1.293 paragraph (c) is amended to replace the reference to § 1.106(e) with a reference to § 1.104(c)(5), to reflect a transfer of material.

Section 1.294: Section 1.294 paragraph (b) is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.294.

Section 1.304: Section 1.304(a)(1) is amended to replace "consideration" by "reconsideration" to correct a typographical error.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.304.

Section 1.312: Section 1.312(b) is amended to have a reference to § 1.175(b) added in view of the change in § 1.175(b) referencing § 1.312(b).

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.312.

Section 1.313: Section 1.313 will not be amended with the addition of paragraph (c) informing applicants that unless written notification is received that the application has been withdrawn from issue at least two weeks prior to the projected date of issue, applicants should expect that the application will issue as a patent. The matter will be further studied. It should be noted, however, that once an application has issued, the Office is without authority to grant a request under § 1.313 notwithstanding submission of the request prior to issuance of the patent.

Section 1.316: Section 1.316 is amended to include only the language of former § 1.316(a). The subject matter of former paragraphs (b) through (f) of § 1.316 were added to § 1.137.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.316.

Section 1.317: Section 1.317 is amended to include only the language of former § 1.317(a). The subject matter of former paragraphs (b), (c), (e) and (f) of § 1.317 were added to § 1.137.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.317.

Section 1.318: Section 1.318 is removed and reserved as being an internal Office instruction.

See comments relating to § 1.101.

Section 1.324: Section 1.324 is amended by creating paragraphs (a) and (b). The requirement for factual showings to establish a lack of deceptive intent is deleted, with a statement to that effect being sufficient, paragraph (a).

Office practice is to require the same type and character of proof of facts as in petitions under § 1.48(a). See MPEP 1481. Unlike former § 1.48, former § 1.324 contained no diligence requirement. See Stark v. Advanced Magnetics, Inc., 29 F.3d 1570, 1574, 31 USPQ2d 1290, 1293 (Fed. Cir. 1994). Section 1.324 (and § 1.48) as adopted contain no diligence requirement, for the reasons set forth in the discussion of § 1.48.

Section 1.324(b)(1) is amended to explicitly require a statement relating to the lack of deceptive intent only from each person who is being added or deleted as an inventor, as opposed to the current practice of requiring a statement from each original named inventor and any inventor to be added.

The current requirements for an oath or declaration under § 1.63 by each actual inventor is replaced, paragraph (b)(2) of § 1.324, by a statement from the current named inventors who have not submitted a statement under paragraph (b)(1) of § 1.324 either agreeing to the change of inventorship or stating that they have no disagreement in regard to the requested change. Not every original named inventor would necessarily have knowledge of each of the contributions of the other inventors and/or how the inventorship error occurred, in which case their lack of disagreement to the requested change would be sufficient.

Paragraph (b)(3) of § 1.324 requires the written consent of the assignees of all parties who submitted a statement under paragraph (b)(1) and (b)(2) of this section similar to the current practice of consents by the assignees of all the existing patentees. A clarification reference to § 3.73(b) is added.

Paragraph (b)(4) of § 1.324 states the requirement for a petition fee as set forth in § 1.20(b).

No adverse comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.324.

Section 1.325: The proposed removal of § 1.325 is withdrawn. See comments relating to § 1.101.

Section 1.351: The proposed removal of § 1.351 is withdrawn. See comments relating to § 1.101.

Section 1.352: Section 1.352 is removed and reserved as unnecessary as an internal instruction.

See comments relating to § 1.101.

Section 1.366: Section 1.366(b) is amended to remove the term

"certificate" as unnecessary. Section 1.366(c) is amended for clarity by changing "serial number" to "application number," which consists of the serial number and the series code (e.g., "08/").

Paragraph (d) removes the request for the information concerning the issue date of the original patent and filing date of the application for the original patent as unnecessary. The term "serial" is also removed from paragraph (d).

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.366.

Section 1.377: Section 1.377(c) is amended to remove the requirement that the petition be verified in accordance with the change to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.377.

Section 1.378: Section 1.378(d) is amended to remove the requirement that the statement be verified in accordance with the change to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.378.

Section 1.425: Section 1.425 is amended by removing paragraph (a) and its requirement for proof of the pertinent facts relating to the lack of cooperation or unavailability of the inventor for which status is sought. In addition, § 1.425 is further amended by deleting paragraph (b) and its requirements for proof of the pertinent facts, presence of a sufficient proprietary interest, and a showing that such action is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties or to prevent irreparable damage. Additionally, the requirement that the last known address of the non-signing inventor be stated has been removed. The current requirements are thought to be unnecessary in view of the need for submission of the same information in a petition under § 1.47 during the national stage. The paragraph added parallels the requirement in PCT Rule 4.15 for a statement explaining to the satisfaction of the Commissioner the lack of the signature concerned for submission of the international application.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.425.

Section 1.484: Section 1.484 paragraphs (d) through (f) are amended by replacement of "response" and "respond" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

Section 1.495: Section 1.495(c) is amended by replacement of "response" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.495.

Section 1.510: Section 1.510(e) is amended to replace a reference to § 1.121(f) with a reference to § 1.530(d), which sets forth the requirements for an amendment in a reexamination proceeding.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.510.

Section 1.530: The title has been changed by the addition of a semicolon to clarify that the section is intended to cover not only amendments submitted with the statement, but also amendments submitted at any other stage of the reexamination proceedings.

Section 1.530(d) is replaced by paragraphs (d)(1) through (d)(7) removing the reference to § 1.121(f) in accordance with the deletion of § 1.121(f). The manner of proposing amendments in reexamination proceedings is governed by § 1.530(d)(1) through (d)(6). Paragraph (d)(1) is directed to the manner of proposing amendments in the specification, other than in the claims. Paragraph (d)(1)(i) requires that amendments including deletions be made by submission of a copy of one or more newly added or rewritten paragraphs with markings, except that an entire paragraph may be deleted by a statement deleting the paragraph without presentation of the text of the paragraph. Paragraph (d)(1)(ii) requires indication of the precise point in the specification where the paragraph which is being amended is located. When a change in one sentence, paragraph, or page results in only format changes to other pages (e.g., shifting of non-amended text to subsequent pages) not otherwise being amended, such format changes are not to be submitted. Paragraph (d)(1)(iii) defines the markings set forth in paragraph (d)(1)(ii). Proposed paragraph (d)(1)(iii), relating to a requirement for submission of all amendments be presented when any amendment to the specification is made, was not implemented.

Paragraph (d)(2) of § 1.530 relates to the manner of proposing amendments to the claims in reexamination proceedings. Paragraph (d)(2)(i)(A) of § 1.530 requires that a proposed amendment include the entire text of each patent claim which is proposed to be amended by the current amendment and each proposed new claim being added by the current amendment. Additionally, provision has been made for the cancellation of a patent claim or of a previously proposed new claim by a direction to cancel without the need for marking by brackets. Paragraph (d)(2)(i)(B) prohibits the renumbering of the patent claims and requires that any proposed new claims follow the number of the highest numbered patent claim. Paragraph(d)(2)(i)(C) identifies the type of markings required by paragraph (d)(2)(i)(A), single underlining for added material and single brackets for material deleted.

Paragraph (d)(2)(ii) requires the patent owner to set forth the status (i.e., pending or cancelled) of all patent claims, and of all currently proposed new claims, as of the date of the submission of each proposed amendment. The absence of claim status would result in a notice of informal response.

Paragraph (d)(2)(iii) of § 1.530 requires an explanation of the support in the disclosure for any amendments to the claims presented for the first time on pages separate from the amendments along with any additional comments. The absence of an explanation would result in a notice of informal response.

Proposed paragraphs (d)(2)(iv) and (v), relating to a requirement for presentation of all amendments as of the date any amendment to the claims is made, and to the treatment of the failure to submit a copy of any added claim as a direction to cancel that claim, were not implemented.

Paragraph (d)(3) of § 1.530 provides that: (1) an amendment may not enlarge the scope of the claims of the patent, (2) no amendment may be proposed for entry in an expired patent, and (3) no amendment will be incorporated into the patent by certificate issued after the expiration of the patent.

Paragraph (d)(4) of § 1.530 provides that amendments proposed to a patent during reexamination proceedings will not be effective until a reexamination certificate is issued. This replaces paragraph (e) of § 1.530, which has been removed and reserved.

Paragraph (d)(5) of § 1.530 provides the criteria for the form of amendments in reexamination proceedings (i.e., paper size must be either letter size or A4 size, and not legal size).

Paragraph (d)(6) of § 1.530 clarifies that proposed amendments to the patent drawing sheets are not permitted and that any change must be by way of a new sheet of drawings with the proposed amended figures being identified as "amended" and with proposed added figures identified as "new" for each sheet that has changed. Material in paragraph (d)(6) has been transferred from cancelled § 1.115.

Paragraph (d)(7) of § 1.530, has been added in view of the deletion of § 1.115 paragraph (d), requires amendment of the disclosure in certain situations (i.e., to correct inaccuracies of description and definition) and to secure substantial correspondence between the claims, the remainder of the specification, and the drawings. The previous requirement for "correspondence" has been modified by use of "substantial correspondence." See comments to § 1.115.

Paragraph (d)(8) of § 1.530 has been added to clarify that all amendments to the patent being reexamined must be made relative to (i.e., vis-à-vis) the patent specification in effect as of the date of the filing of the request for reexamination (the patent specification includes the claims). If there was a prior change to the patent (made via a prior reexamination certificate, reissue of the patent, certificate of correction, etc.), the first amendment must be made relative to the patent specification as changed by the prior proceeding or other mechanism for changing the patent. In addition, all amendments subsequent to the first amendment must be made relative to the patent specification in effect as of the date of the filing of the request for reexamination, and not relative to the prior amendment.

Paragraph (e) of § 1.530 has been removed with the material formerly contained therein transferred to new paragraph (d)(4) of § 1.530.

The proposed change in §§ 1.530, 1.550, and 1.560 to replace "response," "responses" and "respond" with "reply" in accordance with the change to § 1.111 is not being adopted at this time. As the term "reply" in a reexamination proceeding refers to the "reply" of a third party requester (§ 1.535), the Office is withdrawing for further consideration what term should consistently be used for the "reply" or "response" by the patent owner and what term should consistently be used for the "reply" by a third party requester.

Section 1.550: Paragraph (a) of § 1.550 is amended to conform the citation to §§ 1.104 through 1.119 to the changes to §§ 1.104 through 1.119. Paragraphs (b) and (e) of § 1.550 are amended for clarification purposes. Paragraph (e) of § 1.550 clarifies present Office practice of requiring, after filing of a request for reexamination by a third party requester, the service of any document filed by either the patent owner or the third party on the other party in the reexamination proceeding in the manner provided in § 1.248.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.550.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.804.

Section 1.805: Section 1.805(c) is amended by deleting "verified" in accordance with the change to §§ 1.4(d) and 10.18 and removing unnecessary language noting that an attorney or agent registered to practice need not verify their statements.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to § 1.805.

Part 3: Portions of Part 3 are amended to incorporate Part 7, which part is removed and reserved.

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to Part 3.

Section 3.11: Section 3.11(a) is created for the current subject matter and a new paragraph(b) is added citing Executive Order 9424 of February 18, 1944 (9 FR 1959, 3 CFR 1943-1949 Comp., p. 303) and its requirements that several departments and other executive agencies of the Government forward items for recording.

Section 3.21: Section 3.21 is amended to replace the reference to "§ 1.53(b)(1)" with a reference to "§ 1.53(b)" and to delete the reference to "§ 1.62" for consistency with the amendment to § 1.53 and the deletion of § 1.62.

Section 3.26: Section 3.26 is amended to remove the requirement that an English language translation be verified in accordance with the change to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18.

Section 3.31: Section 3.31(c) is added to require that: (1) the cover sheet must indicate that the document is to be recorded on the Governmental Register; (2) the document is to be recorded on the Secret Register (if applicable); and (3) the document does not affect title (if applicable).

Section 3.41: The current subject matter of § 3.41 is designated as paragraph (a), and a paragraph (b) is added to specify when no recording fee is required for documents required to be filed pursuant to Executive Order 9424.

Section 3.51: Section 3.51 is amended by removing the term "certification" as unnecessary in accordance with the change to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18.

Section 3.58: Section 3.58 is added to provide for the maintaining of a Department Register to record Government interests required by Executive Order 9424 in § 3.58(a). New § 3.58(b) provides that the Office maintain a Secret Register to record Government interests also required by the Executive Order.

Section 3.73: Section 3.73(b) is amended to remove the sentence requiring an assignee to specifically state that the evidentiary documents have been reviewed and to certify that title is in the assignee seeking to take action. The sentence is deemed to be unnecessary in view of the amendment to §§ 1.4(d) and 10.18.

Section 3.73 paragraph (b) has also been amended to replace the language "assignee of the entire right, title and interest" with "assignee." This change provides for the applicability of the paragraph to assignees with a partial interest, such as is often encountered in reissue applications.

Section 3.73(b) is clarified by addition of a reference to an example of documentary evidence that can be submitted.

Part 5:

No comments were received regarding the proposed change to Part 5.

Part 10:

Section 10.18: The heading of § 10.18 is amended to read "[s]ignature and certificate for correspondence filed in the Patent and Trademark Office" to reflect that it, as amended, applies to correspondence filed by non-practitioners as well as practitioners.

Section 10.18(a) is amended to provide that for all documents filed in the Office in patent, trademark, and other non-patent matters, except for correspondence that is required to be signed by the applicant or party, each piece of correspondence filed by a practitioner in the Patent and Trademark Office must bear a signature, personally signed by such practitioner, in compliance with § 1.4(d)(1). This amendment is simply a clarification of the requirements of former § 10.18(a).

Section 10.18 is further amended (in § 10.18 paragraphs (b) and (c)) to include the changes proposed to § 1.4 paragraphs (d)(2) and (d)(3). These changes to 37 CFR Part 10 are to avoid a dual standard between 37 CFR Parts 1 and 10 as to practitioners. In addition, by operation of § 1.4(d)(2), the provisions of § 10.18 paragraphs (b) and (c) are applicable to any party (whether a practitioner or non-practitioner) presenting any paper to the Office. As any party (whether a practitioner or non-practitioner) presenting any paper to the Office is subject to the provisions of § 10.18 paragraphs (b) and (c), this change also avoids a dual standard between practitioners and non-practitioners as to the certification provisions of § 10.18(b) and the sanctions provisions of § 10.18(c). The only difference between a practitioner and a non-practitioner as to § 10.18 paragraphs (b) and (c) is that a practitioner may also be subject to disciplinary action for violations of § 10.18(b) in addition to or in lieu of sanctions under § 10.18(c).

Section 10.18(b)(1) is specifically amended to provide that, by presenting to the Office (whether by signing, filing, submitting, or later advocating) any paper, the party presenting such paper (whether a practitioner or non-practitioner) is certifying that all statements made therein of the party's own knowledge are true, all statements made therein on information and belief are believed to be true, and all statements made therein are made with the knowledge that whoever, in any matter within the jurisdiction of the Patent and Trademark Office, knowingly and willfully falsifies, conceals, or covers up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or makes any false, fictitious or fraudulent statements or representations, or makes or uses any false writing or document knowing the same to contain any false, fictitious or fraudulent statement or entry, shall be subject to the penalties set forth under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and that violations of this paragraph may jeopardize the validity of the application or document, or the validity or enforceability of any patent, trademark registration, or certificate resulting therefrom.

Section 10.18(b)(2) is specifically amended to provide that, by presenting to the Office any paper, the party presenting such paper (whether a practitioner or non-practitioner) is certifying that to the best of the party's knowledge, information and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances, that: (1) the paper is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass someone or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of prosecution before the Office; (2) the claims and other legal contentions therein are warranted by existing law or by a nonfrivolous argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law or the establishment of new law; (3) the allegations and other factual contentions have evidentiary support or, if specifically so identified, are likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery; and (4) the denials of factual contentions are warranted on the evidence, or if specifically so identified, are reasonably based on a lack of information or belief.

As discussed supra, the amendments to § 10.18, in combination with the amendment to § 1.4(d), will permit the Office to eliminate the verification requirement for a number of the rules of practice.

Section 10.18(c) specifically provides that violations of § 10.18(b)(1) may jeopardize the validity of the application or document, or the validity or enforceability of any patent, trademark registration, or certificate resulting therefrom, and that violations of any of § 10.18 paragraphs (b)(2)(i) through (iv) are, after notice and reasonable opportunity to respond, subject to such sanctions as deemed appropriate by the Commissioner, or the Commissioner's designee, which may include, but are not limited to, any combination of: (1) holding certain facts to have been established; (2) returning papers; (3) precluding a party from filing a paper, or presenting or contesting an issue; (4) imposing a monetary sanction; (5) requiring a terminal disclaimer for the period of the delay; or (6) terminating the proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office.

With regard to the sanctions enumerated in § 10.18(c), 35 U.S.C. 6(a) provides that "The Commissioner . . . may, subject to the approval of the Secretary of Commerce, establish regulations, not inconsistent with law, for the conduct of proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office." The issue of whether the Office is authorized to impose monetary sanctions was addressed in the rulemaking entitled "Patent Appeal and Interference Practice," published in the Federal Register at 60 FR 14488 (March 17, 1995), and in the Official Gazette at 1173 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office 36 (April 11, 1995).

The Commissioner's authority under 35 U.S.C. 6(a) to impose monetary sanctions is limited to sanctions which are remedial, and does not extend to sanctions that are punitive. Id. at 14494-96, 1173 Off. Gaz. Pat. Office at 41-43. An enabling statute (35 U.S.C. 6(a)) alone is not the express statutory authorization required for an agency to impose penal monetary sanctions. See, e.g., Commissioner v. Acker, 361 U.S. 87, 91 (1959); Gold Kist, Inc. v. Department of Agriculture, 741 F.2d 344, 348 (11th Cir. 1984). Thus, the line of demarcation between permissible and impermissible monetary sanctions under 35 U.S.C. 6(a) is that: (1) the imposition of a monetary sanction to cover the costs incurred by the Office due to the violation of § 10.18(b)(2) is a remedial (and thus permissible) sanction; and (2) the imposition of a monetary sanction that has no relationship to the costs incurred by the Office due to the violation of § 10.18(b)(2) (e.g., a pre-established or arbitrary fine or penalty) is a punitive (and thus impermissible) sanction. See United States v. Frame, 885 F.2d 1119, 1142-43 (3rd Cir. 1989) (late payment charge no higher than reasonable to cover lost interest and administrative costs incurred in the collection effort is a remedial sanction, and not a penalty, and, as such, is authorized by rulemaking enabling statute), cert. denied, 493 U.S.1094 (1990); see also Griffin & Dickson v. United States, 16 Cl. Ct. 347, 356-57 (1989) (agency has the inherent authority to manage its caseload by imposing sanctions including precluding party from presenting further evidence, disciplining of representative, or imposing costs against the representative or the party in interest). As the Office is an entirely fee-funded entity, it is reasonable to impose a monetary sanction on a party causing an unnecessary and inordinate expenditure of Office resources to cover the costs incurred by the Office due to such action, rather than impose these costs on the Office's customers in general.

Nevertheless, the Office has amended §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18 with the objective of discouraging the filing of frivolous or patently unwarranted correspondence in the Office, not to routinely review correspondence for compliance with § 10.18(b)(2) and impose sanctions under § 10.18(c). Thus, the amendment to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18 should cause no concern to practitioners and pro se applicants engaging in the ordinary course of business before the Office. The Office anticipates that sanctions under § 10.18(c) will be imposed only in rare situations in which such action is necessary for the Office to halt a clear abuse that is resulting in a needless and inordinate expenditure of Office resources.

Where the circumstances of an application or other proceeding warrant a determination of whether there has been a violation of § 10.18(b), the file or the application or other proceeding will be forwarded to the Office of Enrollment and Discipline (OED) for a determination of whether there has been a violation of § 10.18(b). In the event that OED determines that a provision of § 10.18(b) has been violated, the Commissioner, or the Commissioner's designee, will determine what (if any) sanction(s) under § 10.18(c) is to be imposed in the application or other proceeding. In addition, if OED determines that a provision of § 10.18(b) has been violated by a practitioner, OED will determine whether such practitioner is to be subject to disciplinary action (see §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18(d)). That is, OED will provide a determination of whether there has been a violation of § 10.18(b), and if such violation is by a practitioner, whether such practitioner is to be subject to disciplinary action; however, OED will not be responsible for imposing sanctions under § 10.18(c) in an application or other proceeding.

Section 10.18(d) provides that any practitioner violating the provisions of this section may also be subject to disciplinary action. This paragraph (and the corresponding provision of § 1.4(d)(2)) clarifies that a practitioner may be subject to disciplinary action in lieu of, or in addition to, the sanctions set forth in § 10.18(c) for violations of § 10.18.

Comment 102: A number of comments supported the changes to § 1.4(d) to make its certification applicable to all papers signed and submitted to the Office.

Response: The Office will adopt the changes to make such a certification applicable to all papers filed in the Office, but will do so by placing the certification requirement in § 10.18, and providing in § 1.4(d) that the presentation of any paper to the Office, whether by a practitioner or non-practitioner, constitutes a certification under § 10.18. Thus, the presentation of a paper to the Office by any person (even a non-practitioner) constitutes a certification under § 10.18.

Comment 103: A number of comments opposed the change to § 1.4(d) as increasing the burden on persons presenting papers to the Office, and, as such, inconsistent with the stated goal of reducing the burden on the public. One comment indicated that new burdens in § 1.4(d) on signers of papers submitted to the Office include: (1) conducting a reasonable inquiry concerning the document to be submitted to the Office; (2) not submitting the document to harass or seek a needless increase in the cost of prosecution; and (3) submitting only documents likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery.

Response: The change to §§ 1.4(d) and 10.18 should discourage the filing of frivolous papers in the Office, and thus reduce the cost to the Office of treating such papers, which cost is ultimately borne by the Office's customers. Thus, this change to §§ 1.4(d) and 10.18 will reduce the burden on the public and to the Office's customers in general. There is no reasonable argument as to why a person filing a document in the Office should be permitted to avoid the "burden" of conducting a reasonable inquiry concerning the document to be submitted to the Office, not submitting the document to harass or seek a needless increase in the cost of prosecution, or submitting only documents likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery.

Comment 104: Several comments opposed the addition of § 1.4(d)(2) (now § 10.18(b)(2)) on the basis that the phrase "formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" was too vague or was unclear as to how much of an inquiry must be made to meet the "reasonable inquiry" requirement.

Response: The phrase "formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" is taken from Rule 11(b) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure (Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b)), which provides that:

Representations to Court. By presenting to the court (whether by signing, filing, submitting, or later advocating) a pleading, written motion, or other paper, an attorney or unrepresented party is certifying that to the best of the person's knowledge, information and belief, formed after an inquiry reasonable under the circumstances, —

(1) it is not being presented for any improper purpose, such as to harass or to cause unnecessary delay or needless increase in the cost of litigation;

(2) the claims, defenses, and other legal contentions therein are warranted by existing law or by a nonfrivolous argument for the extension, modification, or reversal of existing law or the establishment of new law;

(3) the allegations and other factual contentions have evidentiary support or, if specifically so identified, are likely to have evidentiary support after a reasonable opportunity for further investigation or discovery; and

(4) the denials of factual contentions are warranted on the evidence or, if specifically so identified, are reasonably based on a lack of information or belief.

See Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b)(1993).

Section 10.18(b)(2) tracks the language of Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b)(1993) to avoid confusion as to what certifications a signature entails. The advisory committee notes to Fed. R. Civ. P.11(b) provide further information on the "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" requirement. See Amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure at 50-53 (1993), reprinted in 146 F.R.D. 401, 584-87. The "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" requirement of § 10.18(b)(2) is identical to that in Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b). The Federal courts have stated in regard to the "reasonable inquiry" requirement of Fed. R. Civ. P. 11:

In requiring reasonable inquiry before the filing of any pleading in a civil case in federal district court, Rule 11 demands "an objective determination of whether a sanctioned party's conduct was reasonable under the circumstances." In effect it imposes a negligence standard, for negligence is a failure to use reasonable care. The equation between negligence and the failure to conduct a reasonable precomplaint inquiry is . . . that "the amount of investigation required by Rule 11 depends on both the time available to investigate and on the probability that more investigation will turn up important evidence; the Rule does not require steps that are not cost-justified."

Hays v. Sony Electronics, 847 F.2d 412, 418, 7 USPQ2d 1043, 1048 (7th. Cir.1988) (citations omitted) (decided prior to the 1993 amendment to Fed. R. Civ. P. 11, but discussing a "reasonable under the circumstances" standard).

Comment 105: One comment opposed the change in § 1.4(d) to import the verification requirement into any papers signed and submitted to the Office, on the basis that the presence of a verification actually on the paper signed and submitted to the Office would cause the signer to carefully consider what is being signed and submitted to the Office.

Response: A separate verification requirement for certain papers results in delays during the examination of an application when such verification is omitted. The Office is convinced that people are inclined to either not make false, misleading or inaccurate statements in documents they sign, or are not deterred from making such statements by the presence of a verification clause in the document. The benefit obtained in the rare instance in which a person otherwise inclined to make a false, misleading or inaccurate statement is persuaded not to do so by averification clause simply does not outweigh the benefit obtained by the elimination of the delay that results from the requirement for such a verification clause.

Comment 106: One comment opposed the change to § 1.4(d) (now § 10.18(b)(2)) on the basis that "reasonable inquiry" requirement therein will expose a practitioner to malpractice liability.

Response: Legal malpractice is not an issue of Federal patent (or trademark) law, but of common law sounding in tort. See Voight v. Kraft, 342 F. Supp 821, 822, 174 USPQ 294,295 (D. Idaho 1972). Section 10.18(b)(2) does not affect the duty (or create a new duty) on the part of a practitioner to his or her client vis-à-vis the submission of papers to the Office.

The party's duties under § 10.18 are not to one's own clients; it is to the public in general, other parties before the Office (the examination of whose applications are delayed while the Office is, and whose fees must be applied to the cost of, responding to frivolous papers), and to the Office. Cf. Mars Steel Corp. v. Continental Bank, 880 F.2d 928, 932 (7th. Cir.1989) (just as tort law creates duties to one's client, Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 creates a duty to one's adversary, other litigants in the courts's queue, and the court itself); Hays, 847 F.2d at 418, 7USPQ2d at 1049 (same).

Comment 107: One comment indicated that the requirements in § 1.4(d)(2) (now § 10.18(b)(2)) may be onerous as to persons not registered to practice before the Office. Another comment opposed this change on the basis that it would create new issues during litigation, in that few non-lawyers have enough legal knowledge to accurately verify that the documents they sign are consistent with the law. The comment suggested that § 1.4(d)(2) simply be amended to include the verification statement from § 1.68.

Response: There is no reasonable argument as to why the certification for papers submitted to the Office should be any less than the certification required under Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b) for papers filed in the Federal courts. The Federal Rules of Civil Procedure do not permit a pro se litigant to avoid the requirements of Fed. R. Civ. P. 11(b) ("By presenting . . . an attorney or unrepresented party is certifying . . . ." (emphasis added)). It is, however, appropriate to take account of the special circumstances of pro se applicants in determining whether sanctions under § 10.18(c) are appropriate. See advisory committee notes to Fed. R. Civ. P. 11 (1983), reprinted in 97 F.R.D. 165, 198-99 (1983) ("Although the standard is the same for unrepresented parties, who are obligated themselves to sign the [papers], the court has sufficient discretion to take account of the special circumstances that often arise in pro se situations").

The Office expects that pro se applicants will often submit arguments that evidence little, if any, appreciation of the applicable law or procedure. The Office is not adopting §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18(b) and (c) for the purpose of imposing, and does not intend to impose, sanctions on pro se applicants in situations in which they simply submit arguments lacking an appreciation of the applicable law or procedure. See Finch v. Hughes Aircraft Co., 926 F.2d 1574, 1582,17 USPQ2d 1914, 1921 (Fed. Cir. 1991)("courts are particularly cautious about imposing sanctions on a pro se litigant, whose improper conduct may be attributed to ignorance of the law and proper procedures"); see also Hornback v. U.S., 40 USPQ2d 1694, 1697 (Cl. Ct. 1996) (pro se without legal training is not held to the same standard as trained counsel).

Where, however, a pro se applicant engages in a course of conduct that any reasonable person should have known was improper, and which causes a needless and inordinate expenditure of Office resources, such conduct may result in the imposition of sanctions on the pro se applicant. The Federal courts have subjected pro se litigants to sanctions for: (1) taking or persisting in actions that even a non-lawyer should have known were frivolous; (2) taking or persisting in actions that, after engaging in a sufficient course of litigation, the pro se litigant should have known were frivolous; or (3) taking or persisting in actions after having been warned by the court that such actions were frivolous. See Constant v. U.S., 929 F.2d 654,658, 18 USPQ2d 1298, 1301 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 501 U.S. 1206 (1991); Finch, 926F.2d at 1582-83, 17 USPQ2d at 1921; U.S. ex rel. Taylor v. Times Herald Record, 22 USPQ2d 1716, 1718 (S.D.N.Y. 1992), aff'd, 990 F.3d 623 (2d Cir. 1993)(table).

Comment 108: One comment argued that the change to § 1.4(d) would be particularly difficult to apply in the context of provisional applications.

Response: The patent statute and rules of practice do not require any papers other than a disclosure (with or without claims) and a cover sheet for a provisional application (e.g., an applicant need and should not submit legal arguments or other contentions with a provisional application). Thus, it is highly unlikely that the filing of a provisional application will result in a violation of § 10.18(b).

Comment 109: One comment opposed the change to § 1.4(d) on the basis that it was not clear whether a practitioner has an obligation in the case of a submission of a statement off acts to inform the party making the statement (or the client) of this certification effect, and the sanctions applicable to noncompliance. Another comment indicated that practitioners will now be placed under the obligation of questioning their clients each time they are given information or instructions.

Response: The submission by an applicant of misleading or inaccurate statements of facts during the prosecution of applications for patent has resulted in the patents issuing on such applications being held unenforceable. See, e.g., Refac International Ltd. v. Lotus Development Corp., 81 F.3d 1576, 38 USPQ2d 1665 (Fed. Cir. 1996); Paragon Podiatry Laboratory, Inc. v. KLM Laboratories, Inc., 984 F.2d 1182, 25 USPQ2d 1561 (Fed. Cir 1993); Rohm and Haas Corp. v. Crystal Chemical Co., 722 F.2d 1556, 200 USPQ 289 (Fed. Cir. 1983), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 851 (1984); Ott v. Goodpasture, 40 USPQ2d 1831 (D.N. Tex. 1996); Herman v. William Brooks Shoe Co., 39 USPQ2d 1773 (S.D. N.Y. 1996); Golden Valley Microwave Food Inc. v. Weaver Popcorn Co., 837 F. Supp. 1444, 24USPQ2d 1801 (N.D. Ind. 1992), aff'd, 11 F.3d 1072 (Fed. Cir. 1993) (table), cert. denied, 511 U.S. 1128 (1994). Likewise, false statements by a practitioner in a paper submitted to the Office during the prosecution of an application for patent has resulted in the patent issuing on such application also being held unenforceable. See General Electro Music Corp. v. Samick Music Corp., 19 F.3d 1405, 30 USPQ2d 1149 (Fed. Cir. 1994) (false statement in a petition to make an application special constitutes inequitable conduct, and renders the patent issuing on such application unenforceable). In addition, the failure to exercise due care in ascertaining the accuracy of the statements in a certification submitted to the Office has also resulted in a patent being held invalid. See DH Technology, 937 F. Supp. at 910; 40USPQ2d at 1761.

For the above-stated reasons, it is highly advisable for a practitioner to advise a client or third party that any information so provided must be reliable and not misleading, regardless of this amendment to §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18. Nevertheless, §§ 1.4(d)(2) and 10.18 as adopted do not require a practitioner to advise the client (or third party) providing information of this certification effect (or the sanctions applicable to noncompliance), or question the client (or third party) when such information or instructions are provided. When a practitioner is submitting information (e.g., a statement of fact) from the applicant or a third party, or relying in arguments upon information from the applicant or a third party, the Office will consider a practitioner's "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" duty under § 10.18 met so long as the practitioner has no knowledge of information that is contrary to the information provided by the applicant or third party or would otherwise indicate that the information provided by the applicant or third party was so provided for the purpose of a violation of § 10.18 (e.g., was submitted to cause unnecessary delay).

An applicant has no duty to conduct a prior art search as a prerequisite to filing an application for patent. See Nordberg, Inc. v. Telsmith, Inc., 82 F.3d 394, 397, 38 USPQ2d 1593, 1595-96 (Fed. Cir. 1996); FMC Corp. v. Hennessy Indus., Inc., 836 F.2d 521, 526 n.6, 5 USPQ2d 1272, 1275-76 n.6 (Fed. Cir. 1987); FMC Corp. v. Manitowoc Co., Inc., 835 F.2d 1411, 1415, 5 USPQ2d 1112, 1115 (Fed. Cir. 1987); American Hoist & Derrick Co. v. Sowa & Sons, Inc., 725 F.2d 1350, 1362, 220 USPQ 763, 772 (Fed. Cir.), cert. denied, 469 U.S. 821, 224 USPQ 520 (1984). The "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances"requirement of § 10.18 does not create any new duty on the part of an applicant for patent to conduct a prior art search. See MPEP 609; cf. Judin v. United States, 110 F.3d 780, 42 USPQ2d 1300 (Fed. Cir 1997) (the failure to obtain and examine the accused infringing device prior to bringing a civil action for infringement violates the 1983 version of Fed. R. Civ. P.11). The "inquiry reasonable under the circumstances" requirement of § 10.18, however, will require an inquiry into the underlying facts and circumstances when a practitioner provides conclusive statements to the Office (e.g., a statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.137(b) was unintentional).

Section 10.23: Section 10.23 is amended to change the phrase "knowingly signing" to "signing." This amendment to § 10.23 is for consistency with § 10.18, which contains no "knowingly" provision or requirement.

Review Under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995.

This Final Rule contains information collection requirements which are subject to review by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) under the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.). As required by the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3507(d)), the Office has submitted a copy of this Final Rule to OMB for its review of these information collections. Interested persons are requested to send comments regarding these information collections, including suggestions for reducing this burden, to the Office of Information and Regulatory Affairs of OMB, New Executive Office Bldg., 725 17th St. NW, rm. 10235, Washington, DC 20503, Attn: Desk Officer for the Patent and Trademark Office.

Other Considerations.

This Final Rule is in conformity with the requirements of the Regulatory Flexibility Act (5 U.S.C. 601 et seq.), Executive Order 12612 (October 26, 1987), and the Paperwork Reduction Act of 1995 (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.). It has been determined that this rulemaking is not significant for the purposes of Executive Order 12866 (September 30, 1993).

The Assistant General Counsel for Legislation and Regulation of the Department of Commerce has certified to the Chief Counsel for Advocacy, Small Business Administration that this Final Rule would not have a significant impact on a substantial number of small entities (Regulatory Flexibility Act, 5 U.S.C. 605(b)). The principal impact of this Final Rule is: (1) elimination of unnecessary rules of practice; (2) simplification or elimination of certain requirements of the rules of practice; (3) rearrangement of certain rules to improve their context; and (4) clarification of the requirements of the rules of practice.

The Office has determined that this Final Rule has no Federalism implications affecting the relationship between the National Government and the States as outlined in Executive Order 12612.

13. Section 1.27 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.27 Statement of status as small entity.

(a) Any person seeking to establish status as a small entity (§ 1.9(f) of this part) for purposes of paying fees in an application or a patent must file a statement in the application or patent prior to or with the first fee paid as a small entity. Such a statement need only be filed once in an application or patent and remains in effect until changed.

(b) When establishing status as a small entity pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, any statement filed on behalf of an independent inventor must be signed by the independent inventor except as provided in § 1.42, § 1.43, or § 1.47 of this part and must state that the inventor qualifies as an independent inventor in accordance with § 1.9(c) of this part. Where there are joint inventors in an application, each inventor must file a statement establishing status as an independent inventor in order to qualify as a small entity. Where any rights have been assigned, granted, conveyed, or licensed, or there is an obligation to assign, grant, convey, or license, any rights to a small business concern, a nonprofit organization, or any other individual, a statement must be filed by the individual, the owner of the small business concern, or an official of the small business concern or nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the small business concern or nonprofit organization identifying their status. For purposes of a statement under this paragraph, a license to a Federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a license as set forth in § 1.9 of this part.

(c)(1) Any statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of a small business concern must:

(i)Be signed by the owner or an official of the small business concern empowered to act on behalf of the concern;

(ii) State that the concern qualifies as a small business concern as defined in § 1.9(d); and

(iii) State that the exclusive rights to the invention have been conveyed to and remain with the small business concern or, if the rights are not exclusive, that all other rights belong to small entities as defined in § 1.9.

(2) Where the rights of the small business concern as a small entity are not exclusive, a statement must also be filed by the other small entities having rights stating their status as such. For purposes of a statement under this paragraph, a license to a Federal agency resulting from a funding agreement with that agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a license as set forth in § 1.9 of this part.

(d)(1) Any statement filed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section on behalf of a nonprofit organization must:

(i) Be signed by an official of the nonprofit organization empowered to act on behalf of the organization;

(ii) State that the organization qualifies as a nonprofit organization as defined in § 1.9(e) of this part specifying under which one of § 1.9(e)(1), (2), (3), or (4) of this part the organization qualifies; and

(iii) State that exclusive rights to the invention have been conveyed to and remain with the organization or if the rights are not exclusive that all other rights belong to small entities as defined in § 1.9 of this part.

(2) Where the rights of the nonprofit organization as a small entity are not exclusive, a statement must also be filed by the other small entities having rights stating their status as such. For purposes of a statement under this paragraph, a license to a Federal agency pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 202(c)(4) does not constitute a conveyance of rights as set forth in this paragraph.

14. Section 1.28 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.28 Effect on fees of failure to establish status, or change status, as a small entity.

(a)(1) The failure to establish status as a small entity (§§ 1.9(f) and 1.27 of this part) in any application or patent prior to paying, or at the time of paying, any fee precludes payment of the fee in the amount established for small entities. A refund pursuant to § 1.26 of this part, based on establishment of small entity status, of a portion of fees timely paid infull prior to establishing status as a small entity may only be obtained if a statement under § 1.27 and a request for a refund of the excess amount are filed within two months of the date of the timely payment of the full fee. The two-month time period is not extendable under § 1.136. Status as a small entity is waived for any fee by the failure to establish the status prior to paying, at the time of paying, or within two months of the date of payment of, the fee.

(2) Status as a small entity must be specifically established in each application or patent in which the status is available and desired. Status as a small entity in one application or patent does not affect any other application or patent, including applications or patents which are directly or indirectly dependent upon the application or patent in which the status has been established. The refiling of an application under § 1.53 as a continuation, division, or continuation-in-part (including a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d)), or the filing of a reissue application requires a new determination as to continued entitlement to small entity status for the continuing or reissue application. A nonprovisional application claiming benefit under 35 U.S.C. 119(e), 120, 121, or 365(c) of a prior application, or a reissue application may rely on a statement filed in the prior application or in the patent if the nonprovisional application or the reissue application includes a reference to the statement in the prior application or in the patent or includes a copy of the statement in the prior application or in the patent and status as a small entity is still proper and desired. The payment of the small entity basic statutory filing fee will be treated as such a reference for purposes of this section.

(3) Once status as a small entity has been established in an application or patent, the status remains in that application or patent without the filing of a further statement pursuant to § 1.27 of this part unless the Office is notified of a change in status.

(c) If status as a small entity is established in good faith, and fees as a small entity are paid in good faith, in any application or patent, and it is later discovered that such status as a small entity was established in error or that through error the Office was not notified of a change in status as required by paragraph (b) of this section, the error will be excused upon payment of the deficiency between the amount paid and the amount due. The deficiency is based on the amount of the fee, for other than a small entity, in effect at the time the deficiency is paid in full.

* * * * *

15. Section 1.33 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.33 Correspondence address respecting patent applications, reexamination proceedings, and other proceedings.

(a) The applicant, the assignee(s) of the entire interest (see §§ 3.71 and 3.73) or an attorney or agent of record (see § 1.34(b)) may specify a correspondence address to which communications about the application are to be directed. All notices, official letters, and other communications in the application will be directed to the correspondence address or, if no such correspondence address is specified, to an attorney or agent of record (see § 1.34(b)), or, if no attorney or agent is of record, to the applicant, so long as a post office address has been furnished in the application. Double correspondence with an applicant and an attorney or agent, or with more than one attorney or agent, will not be undertaken. If more than one attorney or agent is made of record and a correspondence address has not been specified, correspondence will be held with the one last made of record.

(b) Amendments and other papers filed in the application must be signed by:

(1) An attorney or agent of record appointed in compliance with § 1.34(b);

(2) A registered attorney or agent not of record who acts in a representative capacity under the provisions of § 1.34(a);

(3) The assignee of record of the entire interest, if there is an assignee of record of the entire interest;

(4) An assignee of record of an undivided part interest, and any assignee(s) of the remaining interest and any applicant retaining an interest, if there is an assignee of record of an undivided part interest; or

(5) All of the applicants (§§ 1.42, 1.43 and 1.47) for patent, unless there is an assignee of record of the entire interest and such assignee has taken action in the application in accordance with §§ 3.71 and 3.73.

16. Section 1.41 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.41 Applicant for patent.

(a) A patent is applied for in the name or names of the actual inventor or inventors.

(1) The inventorship of a nonprovisional application is that inventorship set forth in the oath or declaration as prescribed by § 1.63, except as provided for in § 1.53(d)(4) and§ 1.63(d). If an oath or declaration as prescribed by § 1.63 is not filed during the pendency of a nonprovisional application, the inventorship is that inventorship set forth in the application papers filed pursuant to § 1.53(b), unless a petition under this paragraph accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) is filed supplying or changing the name or names of the inventor or inventors.

(2) The inventorship of a provisional application is that inventorship set forth in the cover sheet as prescribed by § 1.51(c)(1). If a cover sheet as prescribed by § 1.51(c)(1) is not filed during the pendency of a provisional application, the inventorship is that inventorship set forth in the application papers filed pursuant to § 1.53(c), unless a petition under this paragraph accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(q) is filed supplying or changing the name or names of the inventor or inventors.

(3) In a nonprovisional application filed without an oath or declaration as prescribed by § 1.63 or a provisional application filed without a cover sheet as prescribed by § 1.51(c)(1), the name or names of person or persons believed to be the actual inventor or inventors should be provided for identification purposes when the application papers pursuant to § 1.53(b) or (c) are filed. If no name of a person believed to be an actual inventor is so provided, the application should include an applicant identifier consisting of alphanumeric characters.

17. Section 1.47 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.47 Filing when an inventor refuses to sign or cannot be reached.

(a) If a joint inventor refuses to join in an application for patent or cannot be found or reached after diligent effort, the application may be made by the other inventor on behalf of himself or herself and the nonsigning inventor. The oath or declaration in such an application must be accompanied by a petition including proof of the pertinent facts, the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) and the last known address of the nonsigning inventor. The Patent and Trademark Office shall, except in a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d), forward notice of the filing of the application to the nonsigning inventor at said address and publish notice of the filing of the application in the Official Gazette. The nonsigning inventor may subsequently join in the application on filing an oath or declaration complying with § 1.63.

(b) Whenever all of the inventors refuse to execute an application for patent, or cannot be found or reached after diligent effort, a person to whom an inventor has assigned or agreed in writing to assign the invention or who otherwise shows sufficient proprietary interest in the matter justifying such action may make application for patent on behalf of and as agent for all the inventors. The oath or declaration in such an application must be accompanied by a petition including proof of the pertinent facts, a showing that such action is necessary to preserve the rights of the parties or to prevent irreparable damage, the fee set forth in § 1.17(i), and the last known address of all of the inventors. The Office shall, excepting a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d), forward notice of the filing of the application to all of the inventors at the addresses stated in the application and publish notice of the filing of the application in the Official Gazette. An inventor may subsequently join in the application on filing an oath or declaration complying with § 1.63.

18. Section 1.48 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.48 Correction of inventorship in a patent application, other than a reissue application.

(a) If the inventive entity is set forth in error in an executed § 1.63 oath or declaration in an application, other than a reissue application, and such error arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the person named as an inventor in error or on the part of the person who through error was not named as an inventor, the application may be amended to name only the actual inventor or inventors. When the application is involved in an interference, the amendment must comply with the requirements of this section and must be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement from each person being added as an inventor and from each person being deleted as an inventor that the error in inventorship occurred without deceptive intention on his or her part;

(2) An oath or declaration by the actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.63 or as permitted by §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47;

(3) The fee set forth in § 1.17(i); and

(4) If an assignment has been executed by any of the original named inventors, the written consent of the assignee (see § 3.73(b)).

(b) If the correct inventors are named in a nonprovisional application, other than are issue application, and the prosecution of the application results in the amendment or cancellation of claims so that fewer than all of the currently named inventors are the actual inventors of the invention being claimed in the application, an amendment must be filed deleting the name or names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed. When the application is involved in an interference, the amendment must comply with the requirements of this section and must be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement identifying each named inventor who is being deleted and acknowledging that the inventor's invention is no longer being claimed in the application; and

(2) The fee set forth in § 1.17(i).

(c) If a nonprovisional application, other than a reissue application, discloses unclaimed subject matter by an inventor or inventors not named in the application, the application may be amended to add claims to the subject matter and name the correct inventors for the application. When the application is involved in an interference, the amendment must comply with the requirements of this section and must be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement from each person being added as an inventor that the amendment is necessitated by amendment of the claims and that the inventorship error occurred without deceptive intention on his or her part;

(2) An oath or declaration by the actual inventor or inventors as required by § 1.63 or as permitted by §§ 1.42, 1.43 or 1.47;

(3) The fee set forth in § 1.17(i); and

(4) If an assignment has been executed by any of the original named inventors, the written consent of the assignee (see § 3.73(b)).

(d) If the name or names of an inventor or inventors were omitted in a provisional application through error without any deceptive intention on the part of the omitted inventor or inventors, the provisional application may be amended to add the name or names of the omitted inventor or inventors. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement that the inventorship error occurred without deceptive intention on the part of the omitted inventor or inventors; and

(2) The fee set forth in § 1.17(q).

(e) If a person or persons were named as an inventor or inventors in a provisional application through error without any deceptive intention on the part of such person or persons, an amendment may be filed in the provisional application deleting the name or names of the person or persons who were erroneously named. Such amendment must be accompanied by:

(1) A petition including a statement by the person or persons whose name or names are being deleted that the inventorship error occurred without deceptive intention on the part of such person or persons;

(2) The fee set forth in § 1.17(q); and

(3) If an assignment has been executed by any of the original named inventors, the written consent of the assignee (see § 3.73(b)).

(f)(1) If the correct inventor or inventors are not named on filing a nonprovisional application under § 1.53(b) without an executed oath or declaration under § 1.63, the later submission of an executed oath or declaration under § 1.63 during the pendency of the application will act to correct the earlier identification of inventorship.

(2) If the correct inventor or inventors are not named on filing a provisional application without a cover sheet under § 1.51(c)(1), the later submission of a cover sheet under § 1.51(c)(1) during the pendency of the application will act to correct the earlier identification of inventorship.

(g) The Office may require such other information as may be deemed appropriate under the particular circumstances surrounding the correction of inventorship.

(b) Application filing requirements - Nonprovisional application. The filing date of an application for patent filed under this section, except for a provisional application under paragraph (c) of this section or a continued prosecution application under paragraph (d) of this section, is the date on which a specification as prescribed by 35 U.S.C. 112 containing a description pursuant to § 1.71 and at least one claim pursuant to § 1.75, and any drawing required by § 1.81(a) are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. No new matter may be introduced into an application after its filing date. A continuing application, which may be a continuation, divisional, or continuation-in-part application, may be filed under the conditions specified in 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c) and § 1.78(a).

(1) A continuation or divisional application that names as inventors the same or fewer than all of the inventors named in the prior application may be filed under this paragraph or paragraph (d) of this section.

(2) A continuation-in-part application (which may disclose and claim subject matter not disclosed in the prior application) or a continuation or divisional application naming an inventor not named in the prior application must be filed under this paragraph.

(c) Application filing requirements - Provisional application. The filing date of a provisional application is the date on which a specification as prescribed by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112, and any drawing required by § 1.81(a) are filed in the Patent and Trademark Office. No amendment, other than to make the provisional application comply with the patent statute and all applicable regulations, may be made to the provisional application after the filing date of the provisional application.

(1) A provisional application must also include the cover sheet required by § 1.51(c)(1) or a cover letter identifying the application as a provisional application. Otherwise, the application will be treated as an application filed under paragraph (b) of this section.

(d) Application filing requirements - Continued prosecution

(nonprovisional) application.

(1) A continuation or divisional application (but not a continuation-in-part) of a prior nonprovisional application may be filed as a continued prosecution application under this paragraph, provided that:

(i) The prior nonprovisional application is either:

(A) Complete as defined by § 1.51(b) and filed on or after June 8, 1995; or

(4) An application filed under this paragraph may be filed by fewer than all the inventors named in the prior application, provided that the request for an application under this paragraph when filed is accompanied by a statement requesting deletion of the name or names of the person or persons who are not inventors of the invention being claimed in the new application. No person may be named as an inventor in an application filed under this paragraph who was not named as an inventor in the prior application on the date the application under this paragraph was filed, except by way of a petition under § 1.48.

(5) Any new change must be made in the form of an amendment to the prior application as it existed prior to the filing of an application under this paragraph. No amendment in an application under this paragraph (a continued prosecution application) may introduce new matter or matter that would have been new matter in the prior application. Any new specification filed with the request for an application under this paragraph will not be considered part of the original application papers, but will be treated as a substitute specification in accordance with § 1.125.

(6) The filing of a continued prosecution application under this paragraph will be construed to include a waiver of confidentiality by the applicant under 35 U.S.C. 122 to the extent that any member of the public, who is entitled under the provisions of § 1.14 to access to, copies of, or information concerning either the prior application or any continuing application filed under the provisions of this paragraph, may be given similar access to, copies of, or similar information concerning the other application or applications in the file jacket.

(7) A request for an application under this paragraph is the specific reference required by 35 U.S.C. 120 to every application assigned the application number identified in such request. No amendment in an application under this paragraph may delete this specific reference to any prior application.

(8) In addition to identifying the application number of the prior application, applicant should furnish in the request for an application under this paragraph the following information relating to the prior application to the best of his or her ability:

(2) Any request for review of a notification pursuant to paragraph (e)(1) of this section, or a notification that the original application papers lack a portion of the specification or drawing(s), must be by way of a petition pursuant to this paragraph. Any petition under this paragraph must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) in an application filed under paragraphs (b) or (d) of this section, and the fee set forth in § 1.17(q) in an application filed under paragraph (c) of this section. In the absence of a timely (§ 1.181(f)) petition pursuant to this paragraph, the filing date of an application in which the applicant was notified of a filing error pursuant to paragraph (e)(1) of this section will be the date the filing error is corrected.

See § 1.63(d) concerning the submission of a copy of the oath or declaration from the prior application for a continuation or divisional application. If the required filing fee is not timely paid, or if the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(l) is not paid within one year of the date of mailing of the notification required by this paragraph, the application may be disposed of. The notification pursuant to this paragraph may be made simultaneously with any notification pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section. If the claim for priority or the certified copy of the foreign application is filed after the date the issue fee is paid, it must be accompanied by a petition requesting entry and by the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). If the certified copy is not in the English language, a translation need not be filed except in the case of interference; or when necessary to overcome the date of a reference relied upon by the examiner; or when specifically required by the examiner, in which event an English language translation must be filed together with a statement that the translation of the certified copy is accurate.

(i) An international application entitled to a filing date in accordance with PCT Article 11 and designating the United States of America; or

(ii) Complete as set forth in § 1.51(b); or

(iii) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) or § 1.53(d) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16; or

(iv) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(b) and have paid therein the processing and retention fee set forth in § 1.21(l) within the time period set forth in § 1.53(f).

(2) Except for a continued prosecution application filed under § 1.53(d), any nonprovisional application claiming the benefit of one or more prior filed copending nonprovisional applications or international applications designating the United States of America must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to each such prior application, identifying it by application number (consisting of the series code and serial number) or international application number and international filing date and indicating the relationship of the applications. The request for a continued prosecution application under § 1.53(d) is the specific reference required by 35 U.S.C. 120 to the prior application. The identification of an application by application number under this section is the specific reference required by 35 U.S.C. 120 to every application assigned that application number. Cross-references to other related applications may be made when appropriate (see § 1.14(a)).

(3) A nonprovisional application other than for a design patent may claim an invention disclosed in one or more prior filed copending provisional applications. Since a provisional application can be pending for no more than twelve months, the last day of pendency may occur on a Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday within the District of Columbia which for copendency would require the nonprovisional application to be filed on or prior to the Saturday, Sunday, or Federal holiday. In order for a nonprovisional application to claim the benefit of one or more prior filed copending provisional applications, each prior provisional application must name as an inventor at least one inventor named in the later filed nonprovisional application and disclose the named inventor's invention claimed in at least one claim of the later filed nonprovisional application in the manner provided by the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112. In addition, each prior provisional application must be:

(i) Complete as set forth in § 1.51(c); or

(ii) Entitled to a filing date as set forth in § 1.53(c) and include the basic filing fee set forth in § 1.16(k).

(4) Any nonprovisional application claiming the benefit of one or more prior filed copending provisional applications must contain or be amended to contain in the first sentence of the specification following the title a reference to each such prior provisional application, identifying it as a provisional application, and including the provisional application number (consisting of series code and serial number).

31. Section 1.84 is amended by revising paragraphs (a)(2)(i), (b), (c) and (g) to read as follows:

§ 1.84 Standards for drawings.

(a) * * *

(2) * * *

(i) The fee set forth in § 1.17(i);

* * * * *

(b) Photographs.

(1) Black and white. Photographs are not ordinarily permitted in utility patent applications. However, the Office will accept photographs in utility patent applications only after the granting of a petition filed under this paragraph which requests that photographs be accepted. Any such petition must include the following:

(i) The fee set forth in § 1.17(i); and

(ii) Three (3) sets of photographs. Photographs must either be developed on double weight photographic paper or be permanently mounted on bristol board. The photographs must be of sufficient quality so that all details in the drawings are reproducible in the printed patent.

(2) Color. Color photographs will be accepted in utility patent applications if the conditions for accepting color drawings have been satisfied. See paragraph (a)(2) of this section.

(c) Identification of drawings. Identifying indicia, if provided, should include the application number or the title of the invention, inventor's name, docket number (if any), and the name and telephone number of a person to call if the Office is unable to match the drawings to the proper application. This information should be placed on the back of each sheet of drawings a minimum distance of 1.5 cm. (5/8 inch) down from the top of the page. In addition, a reference to the application number, or, if an application number has not been assigned, the inventor's name, may be included in the left-hand corner, provided that the reference appears within 1.5 cm. (5/8 inch) from the top of the sheet.

* * * * *

(g) Margins. The sheets must not contain frames around the sight (i.e., the usable surface), but should have scan target points (i.e., cross-hairs) printed on two catercorner margin corners. Each sheet must include a top margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a left sidemargin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 1.5 cm. (5/8 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 1.0 cm. (3/8 inch), thereby leaving a sight no greater than 17.0 cm. by 26.2 cm. on 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN size A4) drawing sheets, and a sight no greater than 17.6 cm. by 24.4 cm. (6 15/16 by 9 5/8 inches) on 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 1/2 by 11 inch) drawing sheets.

32. Section 1.91 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.91 Models or exhibits not generally admitted as part of application or patent.

(a) A model or exhibit will not be admitted as part of the record of an application unless it:

(1) Substantially conforms to the requirements of § 1.52 or § 1.84;

(2) Is specifically required by the Office; or

(3) Is filed with a petition under this section including:

(i) The petition fee as set forth in § 1.17(i); and

(ii) An explanation of why entry of the model or exhibit in the file record is necessary to demonstrate patentability.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section, a model, working model, or other physical exhibit may be required by the Office if deemed necessary for any purpose in examination of the application.

33. Section 1.92 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.92 [Reserved]

34. Section 1.97 is amended by revising paragraphs (c) through (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.97 Filing of information disclosure statement.

* * * * *

(c) An information disclosure statement shall be considered by the Office if filed by the applicant after the period specified in paragraph (b) of this section, provided that the information disclosure statement is filed before the mailing date of either a final action under § 1.113, or a notice of allowance under § 1.311, whichever occurs first, and is accompanied by either:

(1) A statement as specified in paragraph (e) of this section; or

(2) The fee set forth in § 1.17(p).

(d) An information disclosure statement shall be considered by the Office if filed by the applicant after the period specified in paragraph (c) of this section, provided that the information disclosure statement is filed on or before payment of the issue fee and is accompanied by:

(1) A statement as specified in paragraph (e) of this section;

(2) A petition requesting consideration of the information disclosure statement; and

(3) The petition fee set forth in § 1.17(i).

(e) A statement under this section must state either:

(1) That each item of information contained in the information disclosure statement was cited in a communication from a foreign patent office in a counterpart foreign application not more than three months prior to the filing of the information disclosure statement; or

(2) That no item of information contained in the information disclosure statement was cited in a communication from a foreign patent office in a counterpart foreign application, and, to the knowledge of the person signing the statement after making reasonable inquiry, no item of information contained in the information disclosure statement was known to any individual designated in § 1.56(c) more than three months prior to the filing of the information disclosure statement.

35. Section 1.101 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.101 [Reserved]

36. Section 1.102 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.102 Advancement of examination.

(a) Applications will not be advanced out of turn for examination or for further action except as provided by this part, or upon order of the Commissioner to expedite the business of the Office, or upon filing of a request under paragraph (b) of this section or upon filing a petition under paragraphs (c) or (d) of this section with a showing which, in the opinion of the Commissioner, will justify so advancing it.

* * * * *

37. Section 1.103 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.103 Suspension of action.

(a) Suspension of action by the Office will be granted for good and sufficient cause and for a reasonable time specified upon petition by the applicant and, if such cause is not the fault of the Office, the payment of the fee set forth in § 1.17(i). Action will not be suspended when a reply by the applicant to an Office action is required.

* * * * *

38. Section 1.104 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.104 Nature of examination.

(a) Examiner's action.

(1) On taking up an application for examination or a patent in a reexamination proceeding, the examiner shall make a thorough study thereof and shall make a thorough investigation of the available prior art relating to the subject matter of the claimed invention. The examination shall be complete with respect both to compliance of the application or patent under reexamination with the applicable statutes and rules and to the patentability of the invention as claimed, as well as with respect to matters of form, unless otherwise indicated.

(2) The applicant, or in the case of a reexamination proceeding, both the patent owner and the requester, will be notified of the examiner's action. The reasons for any adverse action or any objection or requirement will be stated and such information or references will be given as may be useful in aiding the applicant, or in the case of a reexamination proceeding the patent owner, to judge the propriety of continuing the prosecution.

(3) An international-type search will be made in all national applications filed on and after June 1, 1978.

(4) Any national application may also have an international-type search report prepared thereon at the time of the national examination on the merits, upon specific written request therefor and payment of the international-type search report fee set forth in § 1.21(e). The Patent and Trademark Office does not require that a formal report of an international-type search be prepared in order to obtain a search fee refund in a later filed international application.

(5) Copending applications will be considered by the examiner to be owned by, or subject to an obligation of assignment to, the same person if:

(i) The application files refer to assignments recorded in the Patent and Trademark Office in accordance with Part 3 of this chapter which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization; or

(ii) Copies of unrecorded assignments which convey the entire rights in the applications to the same person or organization are filed in each of the applications; or

(iii) An affidavit or declaration by the common owner is filed which states that there is common ownership and states facts which explain why the affiant or declarant believes there is common ownership, which affidavit or declaration may be signed by an official of the corporation or organization empowered to act on behalf of the corporation or organization when the common owner is a corporation or other organization; or

(iv) Other evidence is submitted which establishes common ownership of the applications.

(b) Completeness of examiner's action. The examiner's action will be complete as to all matters, except that in appropriate circumstances, such as misjoinder of invention, fundamental defects in the application, and the like, the action of the examiner may be limited to such matters before further action is made. However, matters of form need not be raised by the examiner until a claim is found allowable.

(c) Rejection of claims.

(1) If the invention is not considered patentable, or not considered patentable as claimed, the claims, or those considered unpatentable will be rejected.

(2) In rejecting claims for want of novelty or for obviousness, the examiner must cite the best references at his or her command. When a reference is complex or shows or describes inventions other than that claimed by the applicant, the particular part relied on must be designated as nearly as practicable. The pertinence of each reference, if not apparent, must be clearly explained and each rejected claim specified.

(3) In rejecting claims the examiner may rely upon admissions by the applicant, or the patent owner in a reexamination proceeding, as to any matter affecting patentability and, insofar as rejections in applications are concerned, may also rely upon facts within his or her knowledge pursuant to paragraph (d)(2) of this section.

(4) Subject matter which is developed by another person which qualifies as prior art only under 35 U.S.C. 102(f) or (g) may be used as prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103 against a claimed invention unless the entire rights to the subject matter and the claimed invention were commonly owned by the same person or organization or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person or organization at the time the claimed invention was made.

(5) The claims in any original application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the same subject matter is claimed in the application and the statutory invention registration. The claims in any reissue application naming an inventor will be rejected as being precluded by a waiver in a published statutory invention registration naming that inventor if the reissue application seeks to claim subject matter:

(i) Which was not covered by claims issued in the patent prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration; and

(ii) Which was the same subject matter waived in the statutory invention registration.

(1) If domestic patents are cited by the examiner, their numbers and dates, and the names of the patentees must be stated. If foreign published applications or patents are cited, their nationality or country, numbers and dates, and the names of the patentees must be stated, and such other data must be furnished as may be necessary to enable the applicant, or in the case of a reexamination proceeding, the patent owner, to identify the published applications or patents cited. In citing foreign published applications or patents, in case only a part of the document is involved, the particular pages and sheets containing the parts relied upon must be identified. If printed publications are cited, the author (if any), title, date, pages or plates, and place of publication, or place where a copy can be found, shall be given.

(2) When a rejection in an application is based on facts within the personal knowledge of an employee of the Office, the data shall be as specific as possible, and the reference must be supported, when called for by the applicant, by the affidavit of such employee, and such affidavit shall be subject to contradiction or explanation by the affidavits of the applicant and other persons.

(e) Reasons for allowance. If the examiner believes that the record of the prosecution as a whole does not make clear his or her reasons for allowing a claim or claims, the examiner may set forth such reasoning. The reasons shall be incorporated into an Office action rejecting other claims of the application or patent under reexamination or be the subject of a separate communication to the applicant or patent owner. The applicant or patent owner may file a statement commenting on the reasons for allowance within such time as may be specified by the examiner. Failure to file such a statement does not give rise to any implication that the applicant or patent owner agrees with or acquiesces in the reasoning of the examiner.

§ 1.105 [Reserved]

40. Section 1.106 is removed and reserved.

43. Section 1.109 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.109 [Reserved]

44. Section 1.111 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.111 Reply by applicant or patent owner.

* * * * *

(b) In order to be entitled to reconsideration or further examination, the applicant or patent owner must reply to the Office action. The reply by the applicant or patent owner must be reduced to a writing which distinctly and specifically points out the supposed errors in the examiner's action and must reply to every ground of objection and rejection in the prior Office action. The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. If the reply is with respect to an application, a request may be made that objections or requirements as to form not necessary to further consideration of the claims beheld in abeyance until allowable subject matter is indicated. The applicant's or patent owner's reply must appear throughout to be a bona fide attempt to advance the application or the reexamination proceeding to final action. A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section.

* * * * *

45. Section 1.112 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.112 Reconsideration before final action.

After reply by applicant or patent owner (§ 1.111) to a non-final action, the application or patent under reexamination will be reconsidered and again examined. The applicant or patent owner will be notified if claims are rejected, or objections or requirements made, in the same manner as after the first examination. Applicant or patent owner may reply to such Office action in the same manner provided in § 1.111, with or without amendment, unless such Office action indicates that it is made final (§ 1.113).

46. Section 1.113 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.113 Final rejection or action.

(a) On the second or any subsequent examination or consideration by the examiner the rejection or other action may be made final, whereupon applicant's or patent owner's reply is limited to appeal in the case of rejection of any claim (§ 1.191), or to amendment as specified in § 1.116. Petition may be taken to the Commissioner in the case of objections or requirements not involved in the rejection of any claim (§ 1.181). Reply to a final rejection or action must include cancellation of, or appeal from the rejection of, each rejected claim. If any claim stands allowed, the reply to a final rejection or action must comply with any requirements or objections as to form.

(b) In making such final rejection, the examiner shall repeat or state all grounds of rejection then considered applicable to the claims in the application, clearly stating the reasons in support thereof.

47. Section 1.115 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.115 [Reserved]

48. Section 1.116 is amended by revising its heading and paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.116 Amendments after final action or appeal.

(a) After a final rejection or other final action (§ 1.113), amendments may be made cancelling claims or complying with any requirement of form expressly set forth in a previous Office action. Amendments presenting rejected claims in better form for consideration on appeal may be admitted. The admission of, or refusal to admit, any amendment after final rejection, and any related proceedings, will not operate to relieve the application or patent under reexamination from its condition as subject to appeal or to save the application from abandonment under § 1.135.

§ 1.117 [Reserved]

50. Section 1.118 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.118 [Reserved]

51. Section 1.119 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.119 [Reserved]

52. Section 1.121 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.121 Manner of making amendments.

(a) Amendments in nonprovisional applications, other than reissue applications: Amendments in nonprovisional applications, excluding reissue applications, are made by filing a paper, in compliance with § 1.52, directing that specified amendments be made.

(1) Specification other than the claims. Except as provided in § 1.125, amendments to add matter to, or delete matter from, the specification, other than to the claims, may only be made as follows:

(i) Instructions for insertions: The precise point in the specification must be indicated where an insertion is to be made, and the matter to be inserted must be set forth.

(ii) Instructions for deletions: The precise point in the specification must be indicated where a deletion is to be made, and the matter to be deleted must be set forth or otherwise indicated.

(iii) Matter deleted by amendment can be reinstated only by a subsequent amendment presenting the previously deleted matter as a new insertion.

(2) Claims. Amendments to the claims may only be made as follows:

(i) Instructions for insertions and deletions: A claim may be amended by specifying only the exact matter to be deleted or inserted by an amendment and the precise point where the deletion or insertion is to be made, where the changes are limited to:

(A) Deletions and/or

(B) The addition of no more than five (5) words in any one claim; or

(ii) Claim cancellation or rewriting: A claim may be amended by directions to cancel the claim or by rewriting such claim with underlining below the matter added and brackets around the matter deleted. The rewriting of a claim in this form will be construed as directing the deletion of the previous version of that claim. If a previously rewritten claim is again rewritten, underlining and bracketing will be applied relative to the previous version of the claim, with the parenthetical expression "twice amended," "three times amended," etc., following the original claim number. The original claim number followed by that parenthetical expression must be used for the rewritten claim. No interlineations or deletions of any prior amendment may appear in the currently submitted version of the claim. A claim canceled by amendment (not deleted and rewritten) can be reinstated only by a subsequent amendment presenting the claim as a new claim with a new claim number.

(3) Drawings.

(i) Amendments to the original application drawings are not permitted. Any change to the application drawings must be by way of a substitute sheet of drawings for each sheet changed submitted in compliance with § 1.84.

(ii) Where a change to the drawings is desired, a sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes in red, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner and should be in a separate paper.

(4) Any amendment to an application that is present in a substitute specification submitted pursuant to § 1.125 must be presented under the provisions of this paragraph either prior to or concurrent with submission of the substitute specification.

(5) The disclosure must be amended, when required by the Office, to correct inaccuracies of description and definition, and to secure substantial correspondence between the claims, the remainder of the specification, and the drawings.

(6) No amendment may introduce new matter into the disclosure of an application.

(b) Amendments in reissue applications: Amendments in reissue applications are made by filing a paper, in compliance with § 1.52, directing that specified amendments be made.

(1) Specification other than the claims. Amendments to the specification, other than to the claims, may only be made as follows:

(i) Amendments must be made by submission of the entire text of a newly added or rewritten paragraph(s) with markings pursuant to paragraph (b)(1)(iii) of this section, except that an entire paragraph may be deleted by a statement deleting the paragraph without presentation of the text of the paragraph.

(ii) The precise point in the specification must be indicated where the paragraph to be amended is located.

(iii) Underlining below the subject matter added to the patent and brackets around the subject matter deleted from the patent are to be used to mark the amendments being made.

(2) Claims. Amendments to the claims may only be made as follows:

(i)(A) The amendment must be made relative to the patent claims in accordance with paragraph (b)(6) of this section and must include the entire text of each claim which is being amended by the current amendment and of each claim being added by the current amendmentwith markings pursuant to paragraph (b)(2)(i)(C) of this section, except that a patent claim or added claim should be cancelled by a statement cancelling the patent claim or added claim without presentation of the text of the patent claim or added claim.

(B) Patent claims must not be renumbered and the numbering of any claims added to the patent must follow the number of the highest numbered patent claim.

(C) Underlining below the subject matter added to the patent and brackets around the subject matter deleted from the patent are to be used to mark the amendments being made. If a claim is amended pursuant to paragraph (b)(2)(i)(A) of this section, a parenthetical expression "amended," "twice amended," etc., should follow the original claim number.

(ii) Each amendment submission must set forth the status (i.e., pending or cancelled) as of the date of the amendment, of all patent claims and of all added claims.

(iii) Each amendment when originally submitted must be accompanied by an explanation of the support in the disclosure of the patent for the amendment along with any additional comments on page(s) separate from the page(s) containing the amendment.

(3) Drawings.

(i) Amendments to the original patent drawings are not permitted. Any change to the patent drawings must be by way of a new sheet of drawings with the amended figures identified as "amended" and with added figures identified as "new" for each sheet changed submitted in compliance with § 1.84.

(ii) Where a change to the drawings is desired, a sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes in red, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner and should be in a separate paper.

(4) The disclosure must be amended, when required by the Office, to correct inaccuracies of description and definition, and to secure substantial correspondence between the claims, the remainder of the specification, and the drawings.

(5) No reissue patent shall be granted enlarging the scope of the claims of the original patent unless applied for within two years from the grant of the original patent, pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 251. No amendment to the patent may introduce new matter or be made in an expired patent.

(6) All amendments must be made relative to the patent specification, including the claims, and drawings, which is in effect as of the date of filing of the reissue application.

(c) Amendments in reexamination proceedings: Any proposed amendment to the description and claims in patents involved in reexamination proceedings must be made in accordance with § 1.530(d).

53. Section 1.122 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.122 [Reserved]

54. Section 1.123 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.123 [Reserved]

55. Section 1.124 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.124 [Reserved]

56. Section 1.125 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.125 Substitute specification.

(a) If the number or nature of the amendments or the legibility of the application papers renders it difficult to consider the application, or to arrange the papers for printing or copying, the Office may require the entire specification, including the claims, or any part thereof, be rewritten.

(b) A substitute specification, excluding the claims, may be filed at any point up to payment of the issue fee if it is accompanied by:

(1) A statement that the substitute specification includes no new matter; and

(2) A marked-up copy of the substitute specification showing the matter being added to and the matter being deleted from the specification of record.

(c) A substitute specification submitted under this section must be submitted in clean form without markings as to amended material.

(d) A substitute specification under this section is not permitted in a reissue application or in a reexamination proceeding.

57. Section 1.126 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.126 Numbering of claims.

The original numbering of the claims must be preserved throughout the prosecution. When claims are canceled the remaining claims must not be renumbered. When claims are added, they must be numbered by the applicant consecutively beginning with the number next following the highest numbered claim previously presented (whether entered or not). When the application is ready for allowance, the examiner, if necessary, will renumber the claims consecutively in the order in which they appear or in such order as may have been requested by applicant.

58. Section 1.133 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.133 Interviews.

* * * * *

(b) In every instance where reconsideration is requested in view of an interview with an examiner, a complete written statement of the reasons presented at the interview as warranting favorable action must be filed by the applicant. An interview does not remove the necessity for reply to Office actions as specified in §§ 1.111 and 1.135.

59. The undesignated center heading in Subpart B-National Processing Provisions, following § 1.133 is revised to read as follows:

TIME FOR REPLY BY APPLICANT; ABANDONMENT OF APPLICATION

60. Section 1.134 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.134 Time period for reply to an Office action.

An Office action will notify the applicant of any non-statutory or shortened statutory time period set for reply to an Office action. Unless the applicant is notified in writing that a reply is required in less than six months, a maximum period of six months is allowed.

61. Section 1.135 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.135 Abandonment for failure to reply within time period.

(a) If an applicant of a patent application fails to reply within the time period provided under § 1.134 and § 1.136, the application will become abandoned unless an Office action indicates otherwise.

(b) Prosecution of an application to save it from abandonment pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section must include such complete and proper reply as the condition of the application may require. The admission of, or refusal to admit, any amendment after final rejection or any amendment not responsive to the last action, or any related proceedings, will not operate to save the application from abandonment.

(c) When reply by the applicant is a bona fide attempt to advance the application to final action, and is substantially a complete reply to the non-final Office action, but consideration of some matter or compliance with some requirement has been inadvertently omitted, applicant may be given a new time period for reply under § 1.134 to supply the omission.

62. Section 1.136 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.136 Extensions of time.

(a)(1) If an applicant is required to reply within a nonstatutory or shortened statutory time period, applicant may extend the time period for reply up to the earlier of the expiration of any maximum period set by statute or five months after the time period set for reply, if a petition for an extension of time and the fee set in § 1.17(a) are filed, unless:

(i) Applicant is notified otherwise in an Office action;

(ii) The reply is a reply brief submitted pursuant to § 1.193(b);

(iii) The reply is a request for an oral hearing submitted pursuant to § 1.194(b);

(iv) The reply is to a decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences pursuant to § 1.196, § 1.197 or § 1.304; or

(v) The application is involved in an interference declared pursuant to § 1.611.

(2) The date on which the petition and the fee have been filed is the date for purposes of determining the period of extension and the corresponding amount of the fee. The expiration of the time period is determined by the amount of the fee paid. A reply must be filed prior to the expiration of the period of extension to avoid abandonment of the application (§ 1.135), but in no situation may an applicant reply later than the maximum time period set by statute, or be granted an extension of time under paragraph (b) of this section when the provisions of this paragraph are available. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time relating to proceedings pursuant to §§ 1.193(b), 1.194, 1.196 or 1.197; § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action; § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings; and § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings.

(3) A written request may be submitted in an application that is an authorization to treat any concurrent or future reply, requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission, as incorporating a petition for extension of time for the appropriate length of time. An authorization to charge all required fees, fees under § 1.17, or all required extension of time fees will be treated as a constructive petition for an extension of time in any concurrent or future reply requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission. Submission of the fee set forth in § 1.17(a) will also be treated as a constructive petition for an extension of time in any concurrent reply requiring a petition for an extension of time under this paragraph for its timely submission.

(b) When a reply cannot be filed within the time period set for such reply and the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section are not available, the period for reply will be extended only for sufficient cause and for a reasonable time specified. Any request for an extension of time under this paragraph must be filed on or before the day on which such reply is due, but the mere filing of such a request will not effect any extension under this paragraph. In no situation can any extension carry the date on which reply is due beyond the maximum time period set by statute. See § 1.304 for extension of time to appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit or to commence a civil action; § 1.645 for extension of time in interference proceedings; and § 1.550(c) for extension of time in reexamination proceedings.

63. Section 1.137 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.137 Revival of abandoned application or lapsed patent.

(a) Unavoidable. Where the delay in reply was unavoidable, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application or a lapsed patent pursuant to this paragraph. A grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph must be accompanied by:

(1) The required reply, unless previously filed. In a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof;

(2) The petition fee as set forth in § 1.17(l);

(3) A showing to the satisfaction of the Commissioner that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unavoidable; and

(4) Any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in § 1.20(d)) required pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(b) Unintentional. Where the delay in reply was unintentional, a petition may be filed to revive an abandoned application or a lapsed patent pursuant to this paragraph. A grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph must be accompanied by:

(1) The required reply, unless previously filed. In a nonprovisional application abandoned for failure to prosecute, the required reply may be met by the filing of a continuing application. In an application or patent, abandoned or lapsed for failure to pay the issue fee or any portion thereof, the required reply must be the payment of the issue fee or any outstanding balance thereof;

(2) The petition fee as set forth in § 1.17(m);

(3) A statement that the entire delay in filing the required reply from the due date for the reply until the filing of a grantable petition pursuant to this paragraph was unintentional. The Commissioner may require additional information where there is a question whether the delay was unintentional; and

(4) Any terminal disclaimer (and fee as set forth in § 1.20(d)) required pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) In a design application, a utility application filed before June 8, 1995, or a plant application filed before June 8, 1995, any petition to revive pursuant to this section must be accompanied by a terminal disclaimer and fee as set forth in § 1.321 dedicating to the public a terminal part of the term of any patent granted thereon equivalent to the period of abandonment of the application. Any terminal disclaimer pursuant to this paragraph must also apply to any patent granted on any continuing application that contains a specific reference under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121, or 365(c) to the application for which revival is sought. The provisions of this paragraph do not apply to lapsed patents.

(d) Any request for reconsideration or review of a decision refusing to revive an abandoned application or lapsed patent upon petition filed pursuant to this section, to be considered timely, must be filed within two months of the decision refusing to revive or within such time as set in the decision. Unless a decision indicates otherwise, this time period may be extended under the provisions of § 1.136.

(e) A provisional application, abandoned for failure to timely respond to an Office requirement, may be revived pursuant to this section so as to be pending for a period of no longer than twelve months from its filing date. Under no circumstances will a provisional application be regarded as pending after twelve months from its filing date.

64.Section 1.139 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.139 [Reserved]

65. Section 1.142 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.142 Requirement for restriction.

(a) If two or more independent and distinct inventions are claimed in a single application, the examiner in an Office action will require the applicant in the reply to that action to elect an invention to which the claims will be restricted, this official action being called a requirement for restriction (also known as a requirement for division). Such requirement will normally be made before any action on the merits; however, it may be made at any time before final action.

* * * * *

66. Section 1.144 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.144 Petition from requirement for restriction.

After a final requirement for restriction, the applicant, in addition to making any reply due on the remainder of the action, may petition the Commissioner to review the requirement. Petition may be deferred until after final action on or allowance of claims to the invention elected, but must be filed not later than appeal. A petition will not be considered if reconsideration of the requirement was not requested (see § 1.181).

67. Section 1.146 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.146 Election of species.

In the first action on an application containing a generic claim to a generic invention (genus) and claims to more than one patentably distinct species embraced thereby, the examiner may require the applicant in the reply to that action to elect a species of his or her invention to which his or her claim will be restricted if no claim to the genus is found to be allowable. However, if such application contains claims directed to more than a reasonable number of species, the examiner may require restriction of the claims to not more than a reasonable number of species before taking further action in the application.

68. Section 1.152 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.152 Design drawings.

(a) The design must be represented by a drawing that complies with the requirements of § 1.84, and must contain a sufficient number of views to constitute a complete disclosure of the appearance of the design.

(1) Appropriate and adequate surface shading should be used to show the character or contour of the surfaces represented. Solid black surface shading is not permitted except when used to represent the color black as well as color contrast. Broken lines may be used to show visible environmental structure, but may not be used to show hidden planes and surfaces which cannot be seen through opaque materials. Alternate positions of a design component, illustrated by full and broken lines in the same view are not permitted in a design drawing.

(2) Color photographs and color drawings are not permitted in design applications in the absence of a grantable petition pursuant to § 1.84(a)(2). Photographs and ink drawings are not permitted to be combined as formal drawings in one application. Photographs submitted in lieu of ink drawings in design patent applications must comply with § 1.84(b) and must not disclose environmental structure but must be limited to the design for the article claimed.

(b) Any detail shown in the ink or color drawings or photographs (formal or informal) deposited with the original application papers constitutes an integral part of the disclosed and claimed design, except as otherwise provided in this paragraph. This detail may include, but is not limited to, color or contrast, graphic or written indicia, including identifying indicia of a proprietary nature, surface ornamentation on an article, or any combination thereof.

(1) When any detail shown in informal drawings or photographs does not constitute an integral part of the disclosed and claimed design, a specific disclaimer must appear in the original application papers either in the specification or directly on the drawings or photographs. This specific disclaimer in the original application papers will provide antecedent basis for the omission of the disclaimed detail(s) in later-filed drawings or photographs.

(2) When informal color drawings or photographs are deposited with the original application papers without a disclaimer pursuant to paragraph (b)(1) of this section, formal color drawings or photographs, or a black and white drawing lined to represent color, will be required.

69. Section 1.154 is amended by revising its heading and paragraph (a)(3) as to readfollows:

§ 1.154 Arrangement of application elements.

(a) * * *

(3) Preamble, stating name of the applicant, title of the design, and a brief description of the nature and intended use of the article in which the design is embodied.

* * * * *

70. Section 1.155 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.155 Issue of design patents.

If, on examination, it appears that the applicant is entitled to a design patent under the law, a notice of allowance will be sent to the applicant, or applicant's attorney or agent, calling for the payment of the issue fee (§ 1.18(b)). If this issue fee is not paid within three months of the date of the notice of allowance, the application shall be regarded as abandoned.

71. Section 1.163 is amended by revising its heading and paragraph (b) to read asfollows:

§ 1.163 Specification and arrangement of application elements.

* * * * *

(b) Two copies of the specification (including the claim) must be submitted, but only one signed oath or declaration is required.

* * * * *

72. Section 1.167 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.167 Examination.

Applications may be submitted by the Patent and Trademark Office to the Department of Agriculture for study and report.

73. Section 1.171 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.171 Application for reissue.

An application for reissue must contain the same parts required for an application for an original patent, complying with all the rules relating there to except as otherwise provided, and in addition, must comply with the requirements of the rules relating to reissue applications.

74. Section 1.172 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.172 Applicants, assignees.

(a) A reissue oath must be signed and sworn to or declaration made by the inventor or inventors except as otherwise provided (see §§ 1.42, 1.43, 1.47), and must be accompanied by the written consent of all assignees, if any, owning an undivided interest in the patent, but a reissue oath may be made and sworn to or declaration made by the assignee of the entire interest if the application does not seek to enlarge the scope of the claims of the original patent. All assignees consenting to the reissue must establish their ownership interest in the patent by filing in the reissue application a submission in accordance with the provisions of § 3.73(b).

* * * * *

75. Section 1.175 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) and adding paragraphs (c) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.175 Reissue oath or declaration.

(a) The reissue oath or declaration in addition to complying with the requirements of § 1.63, must also state that:

(1) The applicant believes the original patent to be wholly or partly inoperative or invalid by reason of a defective specification or drawing, or by reason of the patentee claiming more or less than the patentee had the right to claim in the patent, stating at least one error being relied upon as the basis for reissue; and

(2) All errors being corrected in the reissue application up to the time of filing of the oath or declaration under this paragraph arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant.

(b)(1) For any error corrected, which is not covered by the oath or declaration submitted under paragraph (a) of this section, applicant must submit a supplemental oath or declaration stating that every such error arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant. Any supplemental oath or declaration required by this paragraph must be submitted before allowance and may be submitted:

(i) With any amendment prior to allowance; or

(ii) In order to overcome a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 251 made by the examiner where it is indicated that the submission of a supplemental oath or declaration as required byt his paragraph will overcome the rejection.

(2) For any error sought to be corrected after allowance, a supplemental oath or declaration must accompany the requested correction stating that the error(s) to be corrected arose without any deceptive intention on the part of the applicant.

(c) Having once stated an error upon which the reissue is based, as set forth in paragraph (a)(1), unless all errors previously stated in the oath or declaration are no longer being corrected, a subsequent oath or declaration under paragraph (b) of this section need not specifically identify any other error or errors being corrected.

(d) The oath or declaration required by paragraph (a) of this section may be submitted under the provisions of § 1.53(f).

76. Section 1.182 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.182 Questions not specifically provided for.

All situations not specifically provided for in the regulations of this part will be decided in accordance with the merits of each situation by or under the authority of the Commissioner, subject to such other requirements as may be imposed, and such decision will be communicated to the interested parties in writing. Any petition seeking a decision under this section must be accompanied by the petition fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

77. Section 1.184 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.184 [Reserved]

78. Section 1.191 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.191 Appeal to Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(a) Every applicant for a patent or for reissue of a patent, and every owner of a patent under reexamination, any of whose claims has been twice or finally (§ 1.113) rejected, may appeal from the decision of the examiner to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences by filing a notice of appeal and the fee set forth in § 1.17(b) within the time period provided under §§ 1.134 and 1.136 for reply.

(b) The signature requirement of § 1.33 does not apply to a notice of appeal filed under this section.

* * * * *

79. Section 1.192 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 1.192 Appellant's brief.

(a) Appellant must, within two months from the date of the notice of appeal under § 1.191 or within the time allowed for reply to the action from which the appeal was taken, if such time is later, file a brief in triplicate. The brief must be accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(c) and must set forth the authorities and arguments on which appellant will rely to maintain the appeal. Any arguments or authorities not included in the brief will be refused consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, unless good cause is shown.

* * * * *

80. Section 1.193 and its heading are revised to read as follows:

§ 1.193 Examiner's answer and reply brief.

(a)(1) The primary examiner may, within such time as may be directed by the Commissioner, furnish a written statement in answer to appellant's brief including such explanation of the invention claimed and of the references and grounds of rejection as may be necessary, supplying a copy to appellant. If the primary examiner finds that the appeal is not regular in form or does not relate to an appealable action, the primary examiner shall so state.

(2) An examiner's answer must not include a new ground of rejection, but if an amendment under § 1.116 proposes to add or amend one or more claims and appellant was advised that the amendment under § 1.116 would be entered for purposes of appeal and which individual rejection(s) set forth in the action from which the appeal was taken would be used to reject the added or amended claim(s), then the appeal brief must address the rejection(s) of the claim(s) added or amended by the amendment under § 1.116 as appellant was so advised and the examiner's answer may include the rejection(s) of the claim(s) added or amended by the amendment under § 1.116 as appellant was so advised. The filing of an amendment under § 1.116 which is entered for purposes of appeal represents appellant's consent that when so advised any appeal proceed on those claim(s) added or amended by the amendment under § 1.116 subject to any rejection set forth in the action from which the appeal was taken.

(b)(1) Appellant may file a reply brief to an examiner's answer within two months from the date of such examiner's answer. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for filing a reply brief in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time for filing a reply brief in a reexamination proceeding. The primary examiner must either acknowledge receipt and entry of the reply brief or withdraw the final rejection and reopen prosecution to respond to the reply brief. A supplemental examiner's answer is not permitted, unless the application has been remanded by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences for such purpose.

(2) Where prosecution is reopened by the primary examiner after an appeal or reply brief has been filed, appellant must exercise one of the following two options to avoid abandonment of the application:

(i) File a reply under § 1.111, if the Office action is not final, or a reply under § 1.113, if the Office action is final; or

(ii) Request reinstatement of the appeal. If reinstatement of the appeal is requested, such request must be accompanied by a supplemental appeal brief, but no new amendments, affidavits (§§ 1.130, 1.131 or 1.132) or other evidence are permitted.

81. Section 1.194 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.194 Oral hearing.

(a) An oral hearing should be requested only in those circumstances in which appellant considers such a hearing necessary or desirable for a proper presentation of the appeal. An appeal decided without an oral hearing will receive the same consideration by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences as appeals decided after oral hearing.

(b) If appellant desires an oral hearing, appellant must file, in a separate paper, a written request for such hearing accompanied by the fee set forth in § 1.17(d) within two months from the date of the examiner's answer. If appellant requests an oral hearing and submits therewith the fee set forth in § 1.17(d), an oral argument may be presented by, or on behalf of, the primary examiner if considered desirable by either the primary examiner or the Board. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for requesting an oral hearing in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time for requesting an oral hearing in are examination proceeding.

(c) If no request and fee for oral hearing have been timely filed by appellant, the appeal will be assigned for consideration and decision. If appellant has requested an oral hearing and has submitted the fee set forth in § 1.17(d), a day of hearing will be set, and due notice thereof given to appellant and to the primary examiner. A hearing will be held as stated in the notice, and oral argument will be limited to twenty minutes for appellant and fifteen minutes for the primary examiner unless otherwise ordered before the hearing begins. If the Board decides that a hearing is not necessary, the Board will so notify appellant.

82. Section 1.196 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.196 Decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

* * * * *

(b) Should the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences have knowledge of any grounds not involved in the appeal for rejecting any pending claim, it may include in the decision a statement to that effect with its reasons for so holding, which statement constitutes a new ground of rejection of the claim. A new ground of rejection shall not be considered final for purposes of judicial review. When the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences makes a new ground of rejection, the appellant, within two months from the date of the decision, must exercise one of the following two options with respect to the new ground of rejection to avoid termination of proceedings (§ 1.197(c)) as to the rejected claims:

(1) Submit an appropriate amendment of the claims so rejected or a showing of facts relating to the claims so rejected, or both, and have the matter reconsidered by the examiner, in which event the application will be remanded to the examiner. The new ground of rejection is binding upon the examiner unless an amendment or showing of facts not previously of record be made which, in the opinion of the examiner, overcomes the new ground of rejection stated in the decision. Should the examiner reject the claims, appellant may again appeal pursuant to §§ 1.191 through 1.195 to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences.

(2) Request that the application be reheard under § 1.197(b) by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences upon the same record. The request for rehearing must address the new ground of rejection and state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which rehearing is sought. Where request for such rehearing is made, the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences shall rehear the new ground of rejection and, if necessary, render a new decision which shall include all grounds of rejection upon which a patent is refused. The decision on rehearing is deemed to incorporate the earlier decision for purposes of appeal, except for those portions specifically withdrawn on rehearing, and is final for the purpose of judicial review, except when noted otherwise in the decision.

* * * * *

(d) The Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences may require appellant to address any matter that is deemed appropriate for a reasoned decision on the pending appeal. Appellant will be given a non-extendable time period within which to respond to such a requirement.

* * * * *

83. Section 1.197 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.197 Action following decision.

(a) After decision by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, the application will be returned to the examiner, subject to appellant's right of appeal or other review, for such further action by appellant or by the examiner, as the condition of the application may require, to carry into effect the decision.

(b) Appellant may file a single request for rehearing within two months from the date of the original decision, unless the original decision is so modified by the decision on rehearing as to become, in effect, a new decision, and the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences so states. The request for rehearing must state with particularity the points believed to have been misapprehended or overlooked in rendering the decision and also state all other grounds upon which rehearing is sought. See § 1.136(b) for extensions of time for seeking rehearing in a patent application and § 1.550(c) for extensions of time for seeking rehearing in a reexamination proceeding.

* * * * *

84. Section 1.291 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.291 Protests by the public against pending applications.

* * * * *

(c) A member of the public filing a protest in an application under paragraph (a) of this section will not receive any communications from the Office relating to the protest, other than the return of a self-addressed postcard which the member of the public may include with the protest in order to receive an acknowledgment by the Office that the protest has been received. In the absence of a request by the Office, an applicant has no duty to, and need not, reply to a protest. The limited involvement of the member of the public filing a protest pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section ends with the filing of the protest, and no further submission on behalf of the protestor will be considered, except for additional prior art, or unless such submission raises new issues which could not have been earlier presented.

85. Section 1.293 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.293 Statutory invention registration.

* * * * *

(c) A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will be effective, upon publication of the statutory invention registration, to waive the inventor's right to receive a patent on the invention claimed in the statutory invention registration, in any application for an original patent which is pending on, or filed after, the date of publication of the statutory invention registration. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect the rights of any other inventor even if the subject matter of the statutory invention registration and an application of another inventor are commonly owned. A waiver filed with a request for a statutory invention registration will not affect any rights in a patent to the inventor which issued prior to the date of publication of the statutory invention registration unless a reissue application is filed seeking to enlarge the scope of the claims of the patent. See also § 1.104(c)(5).

86. Section 1.294 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.294 Examination of request for publication of a statutory invention registration and patent application to which the request is directed.

* * * * *

(b) Applicant will be notified of the results of the examination set forth in paragraph (a) of this section. If the requirements of § 1.293 and this section are not met by the request filed, the notification to applicant will set a period of time within which to comply with the requirements in order to avoid abandonment of the application. If the application does not meet the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112, the notification to applicant will include a rejection under the appropriate provisions of 35 U.S.C. 112. The periods for reply established pursuant to this section are subject to the extension of time provisions of § 1.136. After reply by the applicant, the application will again be considered for publication of a statutory invention registration. If the requirements of § 1.293 and this section are not timely met, the refusal to publish will be made final. If the requirements of 35 U.S.C. 112 are not met, the rejection pursuant to 35 U.S.C. 112 will be made final.

* * * * *

87. Section 1.304 is amended by revising paragraph (a)(1) to read as follows:

§ 1.304 Time for appeal or civil action.

(a)(1) The time for filing the notice of appeal to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit (§ 1.302) or for commencing a civil action (§ 1.303) is two months from the date of the decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences. If a request for rehearing or reconsideration of the decision is filed within the time period provided under § 1.197(b) or § 1.658(b), the time for filing an appeal or commencing a civil action shall expire two months after action on the request. In interferences, the time for filing a cross-appeal or cross-action expires:

(i) 14 days after service of the notice of appeal or the summons and complaint; or

(ii) Two months after the date of decision of the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, whichever is later.

* * * * *

88. Section 1.312 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.312 Amendments after allowance.

* * * * *

(b) Any amendment pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section filed after the date the issue fee is paid must be accompanied by a petition including the fee set forth in § 1.17(i) and a showing of good and sufficient reasons why the amendment is necessary and was not earlier presented. For reissue applications, see § 1.175(b), which requires a supplemental oath or declaration to accompany the amendment.

89. Section 1.316 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.316 Application abandoned for failure to pay issue fee.

If the issue fee is not paid within three months from the date of the notice of allowance, the application will be regarded as abandoned. Such an abandoned application will not be considered as pending before the Patent and Trademark Office.

90. Section 1.317 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.317 Lapsed patents; delayed payment of balance of issue fee.

If the issue fee paid is the amount specified in the notice of allowance, but a higher amount is required at the time the issue fee is paid, any remaining balance of the issue fee is to be paid within three months from the date of notice thereof and, if not paid, the patent will lapse at the termination of the three-month period.

91. Section 1.318 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.318 [Reserved]

92. Section 1.324 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.324 Correction of inventorship in patent.

(a) Whenever through error a person is named in an issued patent as the inventor, or through error an inventor is not named in an issued patent and such error arose without any deceptive intention on his or her part, the Commissioner may, on petition, or on order of a court before which such matter is called in question, issue a certificate naming only the actual inventor or inventors. A petition to correct inventorship of a patent involved in an interference must comply with the requirements of this section and must be accompanied by a motion under § 1.634.

(b) Any petition pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section must be accompanied by:

(1) A statement from each person who is being added as an inventor and from each person who is being deleted as an inventor that the inventorship error occurred without any deceptive intention on his or her part;

(2) A statement from the current named inventors who have not submitted a statement under paragraph (b)(1) of this section either agreeing to the change of inventorship or stating that they have no disagreement in regard to the requested change;

(3) A statement from all assignees of the parties submitting a statement under paragraphs (b)(1) and (b)(2) of this section agreeing to the change of inventorship in the patent, which statement must comply with the requirements of § 3.73(b); and

(4) The fee set forth in § 1.20(b).

93. Section 1.352 is removed and reserved.

§ 1.352 [Reserved]

94. Section 1.366 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) through (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.366 Submission of maintenance fees.

* * * * *

(b) A maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge submitted for a patent must be submitted in the amount due on the date the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge are paid. A maintenance fee or surcharge may be paid in the manner set forth in § 1.23 or by an authorization to charge a deposit account established pursuant to § 1.25. Payment of a maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge or the authorization to charge a deposit account must be submitted within the periods set forth in § 1.362(d), (e), or (f). Any payment or authorization of maintenance fees and surcharges filed at any other time will not be accepted and will not serve as a payment of the maintenance fee except insofar as a delayed payment of the maintenance fee is accepted by the Commissioner in an expired patent pursuant to a petition filed under § 1.378. Any authorization to charge a deposit account must authorize the immediate charging of the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge to the deposit account. Payment of less than the required amount, payment in a manner other than that set forth § 1.23, or in the filing of an authorization to charge a deposit account having insufficient funds will not constitute payment of a maintenance fee or surcharge on a patent. The procedures set forth in § 1.8 or § 1.10 may be utilized in paying maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges.

(c) In submitting maintenance fees and any necessary surcharges, identification of the patents for which maintenance fees are being paid must include the following:

(1) The patent number; and

(2) The application number of the United States application for the patent on which the maintenance fee is being paid.

(d) Payment of maintenance fees and any surcharges should identify the fee being paid for each patent as to whether it is the 3 1/2, 7 1/2, or 11 1/2-year fee, whether small entity status is being changed or claimed, the amount of the maintenance fee and any surcharge being paid, and any assigned customer number. If the maintenance fee and any necessary surcharge is being paid on a reissue patent, the payment must identify the reissue patent by reissue patent number and reissue application number as required by paragraph (c) of this section and should also include the original patent number.

* * * * *

95. Section 1.377 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.377 Review of decision refusing to accept and record payment of a maintenance fee filed prior to expiration of patent.

* * * * *

(c) any petition filed under this section must comply with the requirements of § 1.181(b) and must be signed by an attorney or agent registered to practice before the Patent and Trademark Office, or by the patentee, the assignee, or other party in interest.

96. Section 1.378 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.530 Statement; amendment by patent owner.

* * * * *

(d) Amendments in reexamination proceedings. Amendments in reexamination proceedings are made by filing a paper, in compliance with paragraph (d)(5) of this section, directing that specified amendments be made.

(1) Specification other than the claims. Amendments to the specification, other than to the claims, may only be made as follows:

(i)Amendments must be made by submission of the entire text of a newly added or rewritten paragraph(s) with markings pursuant to paragraph (d)(1)(iii) of this section, except that an entire paragraph may be deleted by a statement deleting the paragraph without presentation of the text of the paragraph.

(ii) The precise point in the specification must be indicated where the paragraph to be amended is located.

(iii) Underlining below the subject matter added to the patent and brackets around the subject matter deleted from the patent are to be used to mark the amendments being made.

(2) Claims. Amendments to the claims may only be made as follows:

(i)(A) The amendment must be made relative to the patent claims in accordance with paragraph (d)(8) of this section and must include the entire text of each claim which is being proposed to be amended by the current amendment and each proposed new claim being added by the current amendment with markings pursuant to paragraph (d)(2)(i)(C) of this section, except that a patent claim or previously proposed new claim should be cancelled by a statement cancelling the patent claim or proposed new claim without presentation of the text of the patent claim or proposed new claim.

(B) Patent claims must not be renumbered and the numbering of any new claims proposed to be added to the patent must follow the number of the highest numbered patent claim.

(C) Underlining below the subject matter added to the patent and brackets around the subject matter deleted from the patent are to be used to mark the amendments being made. If a claim is amended pursuant to paragraph (d)(2)(i)(A) of this section, a parenthetical expression "amended," "twice amended," etc., should follow the original claim number.

(ii) Each amendment submission must set forth the status (i.e., pending or cancelled) as of the date of the amendment, of all patent claims and of all new claims currently or previously proposed.

(iii) Each amendment, when submitted for the first time, must be accompanied by an explanation of the support in the disclosure of the patent for the amendment along with any additional comments on page(s) separate from the page(s) containing the amendment.

(3) No amendment may enlarge the scope of the claims of the patent or introduce new matter. No amendment may be proposed for entry in an expired patent. Moreover, no amendment will be incorporated into the patent by certificate issued after the expiration of the patent.

(4) Although the Office actions will treat proposed amendments as though they have been entered, the proposed amendments will not be effective until the reexamination certificate is issued.

(5) The form of amendments other than to the patent drawings must be in accordance with the following requirements. All amendments must be in the English language and must be legibly written either by a typewriter or mechanical printer in at least 11 point type in permanent dark ink or its equivalent in portrait orientation on flexible, strong, smooth, non-shiny, durable, white paper. All amendments must be presented in a form having sufficient clarity and contrast between the paper and the writing thereon to permit the direct reproduction of readily legible copies in any number by use of photographic, electrostatic, photo-offset, and microfilming processes and electronic reproduction by use of digital imaging or optical character recognition. If the amendments are not of the required quality, substitute typewritten or mechanically printed papers of suitable quality will be required. The papers, including the drawings, must have each page plainly written on only one side of a sheet of paper. The sheets of paper must be the same size and either 21.0 cm. by 29.7 cm. (DIN sizeA4) or 21.6 cm. by 27.9 cm. (8 and 1/2 by 11 inches). Each sheet must include a top margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), a left side margin of at least 2.5 cm. (1 inch), a right side margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and a bottom margin of at least 2.0 cm. (3/4 inch), and no holes should be made in the sheets as submitted. The lines must be double spaced, or one and one-half spaced. The pages must be numbered consecutively, starting with 1, the numbers being centrally located, preferably below the text, or above the text.

(6) Drawings.

(i) The original patent drawing sheets may not be altered. Any proposed change to the patent drawings must be by way of a new sheet of drawings with the amended figures identified as "amended" and with added figures identified as "new" for each sheet change submitted in compliance with § 1.84.

(ii) Where a change to the drawings is desired, a sketch in permanent ink showing proposed changes in red, to become part of the record, must be filed for approval by the examiner and should be in a separate paper.

(7) The disclosure must be amended, when required by the Office, to correct inaccuracies of description and definition and to secure substantial correspondence between the claims, the remainder of the specification, and the drawings.

(8) All amendments to the patent must be made relative to the patent specification, including the claims, and drawings, which is in effect as of the date of filing of the request for reexamination.

106. Section 1.550 is amended by revising paragraphs (a), (b) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 1.550 Conduct of reexamination proceedings.

(a) All reexamination proceedings, including any appeals to the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences, will be conducted with special dispatch within the Office. After issuance of the reexamination order and expiration of the time for submitting any responses thereto, the examination will be conducted in accordance with §§ 1.104, 1.110 through 1.113 and 1.116, and will result in the issuance of a reexamination certificate under § 1.570.

(b) The patent owner will be given at least thirty days to respond to any Office action. Such response may include further statements in response to any rejections or proposed amendments or new claims to place the patent in a condition where all claims, if amended as proposed, would be patentable.

* * * * *

(e) The reexamination requester will be sent copies of Office

actions issued during the reexamination proceeding. After filing of a request for reexamination by a third party requester, any document filed by either the patent owner or the third party requester must be served on the other party in the reexamination proceeding in the manner provided by § 1.248. The document must reflect service or the document may be refused consideration by the Office.

(1) The active participation of the reexamination requester ends with the reply pursuant to § 1.535, and no further submissions on behalf of the reexamination requester will be acknowledged or considered. Further, no submissions on behalf of any third parties will be acknowledged or considered unless such submissions are:

(i) In accordance with § 1.510; or

(ii) Entered in the patent file prior to the date of the order to reexamine pursuant to § 1.525.

(2) Submissions by third parties, filed after the date of the order to reexamine pursuant to § 1.525, must meet the requirements of and will be treated in accordance with § 1.501(a).

107. Section 1.770 is revised to read as follows:

§ 1.770 Express withdrawal of application for extension of patent term.

An application for extension of patent term may be expressly withdrawn before a determination is made pursuant to § 1.750 by filing in the Office, in duplicate, a written declaration of withdrawal signed by the owner of record of the patent or its agent. An application may not be expressly withdrawn after the date permitted for reply to the final determination on the application. An express withdrawal pursuant to this section is effective when acknowledged in writing by the Office. The filing of an express withdrawal pursuant to this section and its acceptance by the Office does not entitle applicant to a refund of the filing fee (§ 1.20(j)) or any portion thereof.

108. Section 1.785 is amended by revising paragraph (d) to read as follows:

§ 1.785 Multiple applications for extension of term of the same patent or of different patents for the same regulatory review period for a product.

* * * * *

(d) An application for extension shall be considered complete and formal regardless of whether it contains the identification of the holder of the regulatory approval granted with respect to the regulatory review period. When an application contains such information, or is amended to contain such information, it will be considered in determining whether an application is eligible for an extension under this section. A request may be made of any applicant to supply such information within a non-extendable period of not less than one month whenever multiple applications for extension of more than one patent are received and rely upon the same regulatory review period. Failure to provide such information within the period for reply set shall be regarded as conclusively establishing that the applicant is not the holder of the regulatory approval.

* * * * *

109. Section 1.804 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 1.804 Time of making an original deposit.

* * * * *

(b) When the original deposit is made after the effective filing date of an application for patent, the applicant must promptly submit a statement from a person in a position to corroborate the fact, stating that the biological material which is deposited is a biological material specifically identified in the application as filed.

110. Section 1.805 is amended by revising paragraph (c) to read as follows:

§ 1.805 Replacement or supplement of deposit.

* * * * *

(c) A request for a certificate of correction under this section shall not be granted unless the request is made promptly after the replacement or supplemental deposit has been made and the request:

(1) Includes a statement of the reason for making the replacement or supplemental deposit;

(2) Includes a statement from a person in a position to corroborate the fact, and stating that the replacement or supplemental deposit is of a biological material which is identical to that originally deposited;

(3) Includes a showing that the patent owner acted diligently —

(i) In the case of a replacement deposit, in making the deposit after receiving notice that samples could no longer be furnished from an earlier deposit; or

(ii) In the case of a supplemental deposit, in making the deposit after receiving notice that the earlier deposit had become contaminated or had lost its capability to function as described in the specification;

(4) Includes a statement that the term of the replacement or supplemental deposit expires no earlier than the term of the deposit being replaced or supplemented; and

(5) Otherwise establishes compliance with these regulations.

Assignments and other documents affecting title to patents or patent applications and documents not affecting title to patents or patent applications required by Executive Order 9424 to be filed will be recorded as provided in this part.

113. Section 3.21 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.21 Identification of patents and patent applications.

An assignment relating to a patent must identify the patent by the patent number. An assignment relating to an international patent application which designates the United States of America must identify the international application by the international application number (e.g., PCT/US90/01234). If an assignment of a patent application filed under § 1.53(b) is executed concurrently with, or subsequent to, the execution of the patent application, but before the patent application is filed, it must identify the patent application by its date of execution, name of each inventor, and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the patent application intended. If an assignment of a provisional application under § 1.53(c) is executed before the provisional application is filed, it must identify the provisional application by name of each inventor and title of the invention so that there can be no mistake as to the provisional application intended.

114. Section 3.26 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.26 English language requirement.

The Office will accept and record non-English language documents only if accompanied by an English translation signed by the individual making the translation.

(a) Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, documents and cover sheets to be recorded should be addressed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box Assignment, Washington, D.C. 20231, unless they are filed together with new applications or with a petition under § 3.81(b).

(b) A document required by Executive Order 9424 to be filed which does not affect title and is so identified in the cover sheet (see § 3.31(c)(2)) must be addressed and mailed to the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks, Box Government Interest, Washington, D.C. 20231.

116. Section 3.31 is amended by adding paragraph (c) to read as follows:

Except as provided in paragraph (b) of this section, a fee is required for each application, patent and registration against which the document is recorded as identified in the cover sheet. The recording fee is set in § 1.21(h) of this chapter for patents and in § 2.6(q) of this chapter for trademarks.

(b) No fee is required for each patent application and patent against which a document required by Executive Order 9424 is to be filed if:

(1) The document does not affect title and is so identified in the cover sheet (see§ 3.31(c)(2)); and

(2) The document and cover sheet are mailed to the Office in compliance with§ 3.27(b).

118. Section 3.51 is revised to read as follows:

§ 3.51 Recording date.

The date of recording of a document is the date the document meeting the requirements for recording set forth in this part is filed in the Office. A document which does not comply with the identification requirements of § 3.21 will not be recorded. Documents not meeting the other requirements for recording, for example, a document submitted without a completed cover sheet or without the required fee, will be returned for correction to the sender where a correspondence address is available. The returned papers, stamped with the original date of receipt by the Office, will be accompanied by a letter which will indicate that if the returned papers are corrected and resubmitted to the Office within the time specified in the letter, the Office will consider the original date of filing of the papers as the date of recording of the document. The procedure set forth in § 1.8 or § 1.10 of this chapter may be used for resubmissions of returned papers to have the benefit of the date of deposit in the United States Postal Service. If the returned papers are not corrected and resubmitted within the specified period, the date of filing of the corrected papers will be considered to be the date of recording of the document. The specified period to resubmit the returned papers will not be extended.

119. Section 3.58 is added to read as follows:

§ 3.58 Governmental registers.

(a) The Office will maintain a Departmental Register to record governmental interests required to be recorded by Executive Order 9424. Governmental interests recorded on the Departmental Register will be available for public inspection as provided in § 1.12.

(b) The Office will maintain a Secret Register to record governmental interests required to be recorded by Executive Order 9424. Any instrument to be recorded will be placed on this Secret Register at the request of the department or agency submitting the same. No information will be given concerning any instrument in such record or register, and no examination or inspection thereof or of the index thereto will be permitted, except on the written authority of the head of the department or agency which submitted the instrument and requested secrecy, and the approval of such authority by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks. No instrument or record other than the one specified may be examined, and the examination must take place in the presence of a designated official of the Patent and Trademark Office. When the department or agency which submitted an instrument no longer requires secrecy with respect to that instrument, it must be recorded anew in the Departmental Register.

120. The undesignated center heading in Part 3 - Assignment, Recording and Rights of Assignee, following § 3.61 is revised to read as follows:

* * * * *

(b) When an assignee seeks to take action in a matter before the Office with respect to a patent application, trademark application, patent, registration, or reexamination proceeding, the assignee must establish its ownership of the property to the satisfaction of the Commissioner. Ownership is established by submitting to the Office, in the Office file related to the matter in which action is sought to be taken, documentary evidence of a chain of title from the original owner to the assignee (e.g., copy of an executed assignment submitted for recording) or by specifying (e.g., reel and frame number) where such evidence is recorded in the Office. The submission establishing ownership must be signed by a party authorized to act on behalf of the assignee. Documents submitted to establish ownership may be required to be recorded as a condition to permitting the assignee to take action in a matter pending before the Office.

§ 5.3 Prosecution of application under secrecy orders; withholding patent.

(c) When the national application is found to be in condition for allowance except for the secrecy order the applicant and the agency which caused the secrecy order to be issued will be notified. This notice (which is not a notice of allowance under § 1.311 of this chapter) does not require reply by the applicant and places the national application in a condition of suspension until the secrecy order is removed. When the secrecy order is removed the Patent and Trademark Office will issue a notice of allowance under § 1.311 of this chapter, or take such other action as may then be warranted.

* * * * *

126. Section 5.4 is amended by revising paragraphs (a) and (d) to read as follows:

Appeal must be taken within sixty days from the date of the denial, and the party appealing, as well as the department or agency which caused the order to be issued, will be notified of the time and place of hearing.

127. Section 5.5 is amended by revising paragraphs (b) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 5.5 Permit to disclose or modification of secrecy order.

The petition must be filed in duplicate.

* * * * *

(e) Organizations requiring consent for disclosure of applications under secrecy order to persons or organizations in connection with repeated routine operation may petition for such consent in the form of a general permit. § 5.11 License for filing in a foreign country an application on an invention made in the United States or for transmitting international application.

* * * * *

(b) The license from the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks referred to in paragraph (a) would also authorize the export of technical data abroad for purposes relating to the preparation, filing or possible filing and prosecution of a foreign patent application without separately complying with the regulations contained in 22 CFR Parts 121 through 130 (International Traffic in Arms Regulations of the Department of State), 15 CFR Part 779 (Regulations of the Office of Export Administration, International Trade Administration, Department of Commerce) and 10 CFR Part 810 (Foreign Atomic Energy Programs of the Department of Energy).

(i) A license is not, or was not, required under paragraph (e)(2) of this section for the foreign patent application;

(ii) The corresponding United States application was not required to be made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181; and

(iii) Such modifications, amendments, and supplements do not, or did not, change the general nature of the invention in a manner which would require any corresponding United States application to be or have been available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181.

132. Section 5.12 is amended by revising paragraph (b) to read as follows:

§ 5.12 Petition for license.

* * * * *

(b) Petitions for license should be presented in letter form, and must include the petitioner's address and full instructions for delivery of the requested license when it is to be delivered to other than the petitioner. If expedited handling of the petition under this paragraph is sought, the petition must also include the fee set forth in § 1.17(h).

133. Section 5.13 is revised to read as follows:

§ 5.13 Petition for license; no corresponding application.

If no corresponding national or international application has been filed in the United States, the petition for license under § 5.12(b) must also be accompanied by a legible copy of the material upon which a license is desired. This copy will be retained as a measure of the license granted.

134. Section 5.14 is amended by revising paragraph (a) to read as follows:

§ 5.14 Petition for license; corresponding U.S. application.

(a) When there is a corresponding United States application on file, a petition for license under § 5.12(b) must also identify this application by application number, filing date, inventor, and title, but a copy of the material upon which the license is desired is not required. The subject matter licensed will be measured by the disclosure of the United States application.

135. Section 5.15 is amended by revising paragraph (a), (b), (c) and (e) to read as follows:

§ 5.15 Scope of license.

(a) Applications or other materials reviewed pursuant to §§ 5.12 through 5.14, which were not required to be made available for inspection by defense agencies under 35 U.S.C. 181, will be eligible for a license of the scope provided in this paragraph. This license permits subsequent modifications, amendments, and supplements containing additional subject matter to, or divisions of, a foreign patent application, if such changes to the application do not alter the general nature of the invention in a manner which would require the United States application to have been made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181. Grant of this license authorizing the export and filing of an application in a foreign country or the transmitting of an international application to any foreign patent agency or international patent agency when the subject matter of the foreign or international application corresponds to that of the domestic application. This license includes authority:

(1) To export and file all duplicate and formal application papers in foreign countries or with international agencies;

(2) To make amendments, modifications, and supplements, including divisions, changes or supporting matter consisting of the illustration, exemplification, comparison, or explanation of subject matter disclosed in the application; and

(3) To take any action in the prosecution of the foreign or international application provided that the adding of subject matter or taking of any action under paragraphs (a)(1) or (2) of this section does not change the general nature of the invention disclosed in the application in a manner which would require such application to have been made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181 by including technical data pertaining to:

(i) Defense services or articles designated in the United States Munitions List applicable at the time of foreign filing, the unlicensed exportation of which is prohibited pursuant to the Arms Export Control Act, as amended, and 22 CFR Parts 121 through 130; or

(ii) Restricted Data, sensitive nuclear technology or technology useful in the production or utilization of special nuclear material or atomic energy, dissemination of which is subject to restrictions of the Atomic Energy Act of 1954, as amended, and the Nuclear Non-Proliferation Act of 1978, as implemented by the regulations for Unclassified Activities in Foreign Atomic Energy Programs, 10 CFR Part 810, in effect at the time of foreign filing.

(b) Applications or other materials which were required to be made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181 will be eligible for a license of the scope provided in this paragraph. Grant of this license authorizes the export and filing of an application in a foreign country or the transmitting of an international application to any foreign patent agency or international patent agency. Further, this license includes authority to export and file all duplicate and formal papers in foreign countries or with foreign and international patent agencies and to make amendments, modifications, and supplements to, file divisions of, and take any action in the prosecution of the foreign or international application, provided subject matter additional to that covered by the license is not involved.

(c) A license granted under § 5.12(b) pursuant to § 5.13 or § 5.14 shall have the scope indicated in paragraph (a) of this section, if it is so specified in the license. A petition, accompanied by the required fee (§ 1.17(h)), may also be filed to change a license having the scope indicated in paragraph (b) of this section to a license having the scope indicated in paragraph (a) of this section. No such petition will be granted if the copy of the material filed pursuant to § 5.13 or any corresponding United States application was required to be made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181. The change in the scope of a license will be effective as of the date of the grant of the petition.

(e) Any paper filed abroad or transmitted to an international patent agency following the filing of a foreign or international application which changes the general nature of the subject matter disclosed at the time of filing in a manner which would require such application to have been made available for inspection under 35 U.S.C. 181 or which involves the disclosure of subject matter listed in paragraphs (a)(3)(i) or (ii) of this section must be separately licensed in the same manner as a foreign or international application. Further, if no license has been granted under § 5.12(a) on filing the corresponding United States application, any paper filed abroad or with an international patent agency which involves the disclosure of additional subject matter must be licensed in the same manner as a foreign or international application.

§ 5.18 Arms, ammunition, and implements of war.

(a) The exportation of technical data relating to arms, ammunition, and implements of war generally is subject to the International Traffic in Arms Regulations of the Department of State (22 CFR Parts 120 through 130); the articles designated as arms, ammunitions, and implements of war are enumerated in the U.S. Munitions List (22 CFR Part 121). However, if a patent applicant complies with regulations issued by the Commissioner of Patents and Trademarks under 35 U.S.C. 184, no separate approval from the Department of State is required unless the applicant seeks to export technical data exceeding that used to support a patent application in a foreign country. This exemption from Department of State regulations is applicable regardless of whether a license from the Commissioner is required by the provisions of §§ 5.11 and 5.12 (22 CFR Part 125).

(b) When a patent application containing subject matter on the Munitions List (22 CFR Part 121) is subject to a secrecy order under § 5.2 and a petition is made under § 5.5 for a modification of the secrecy order to permit filing abroad, a separate request to the Department of State for authority to export classified information is not required (22 CFR Part 125).

§ 5.19. Export of technical data.

(a) Under regulations (15 CFR 770.10(j)) established by the Department of Commerce, a license is not required in any case to file a patent application or part thereof in a foreign country if the foreign filing is in accordance with the regulations (§§ 5.11 through 5.25) of the Patent and Trademark Office.

(b) An export license is not required for data contained in a patent application prepared wholly from foreign-origin technical data where such application is being sent to the foreign inventor to be executed and returned to the United States for subsequent filing in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (15 CFR 779A.3(e)).

140. Section 5.20 is revised to read as follows:

§ 5.20 Export of technical data relating to sensitive nuclear technology.

Under regulations (10 CFR 810.7) established by the United States Department of Energy, an application filed in accordance with the regulations (§§ 5.11 through 5.25) of the Patent and Trademark Office and eligible for foreign filing under 35 U.S.C. 184, is considered to be information available to the public in published form and a generally authorized activity for the purposes of the Department of Energy regulations.

(1) All statements made therein of the party's own knowledge are true, all statements made therein on information and belief are believed to be true, and all statements made therein are made with the knowledge that whoever, in any matter within the jurisdiction of the Patent and Trademark Office, knowingly and willfully falsifies, conceals, or covers up by any trick, scheme, or device a material fact, or makes any false, fictitious or fraudulent statements or representations, or makes or uses any false writing or document knowing the same to contain any false, fictitious or fraudulent statement or entry, shall be subject to the penalties set forth under 18 U.S.C. 1001, and that violations of this paragraph may jeopardize the validity of the application or document, or the validity or enforceability of any patent, trademark registration, or certificate resulting therefrom; and

(c) Violations of paragraph (b)(1) of this section by a practitioner or non-practitionermay jeopardize the validity of the application or document, or the validity or enforceability of any patent, trademark registration, or certificate resulting therefrom. Violations of any of paragraphs (b)(2)(i) through (iv) of this section are, after notice and reasonable opportunity to respond, subject to such sanctions as deemed appropriate by the Commissioner, or the Commissioner's designee, which may include, but are not limited to, any combination of —

(1) Holding certain facts to have been established;

(2) Returning papers;

(3) Precluding a party from filing a paper, or presenting or contesting an issue;

(4) Imposing a monetary sanction;

(5) Requiring a terminal disclaimer for the period of the delay; or

(6) Terminating the proceedings in the Patent and Trademark Office.

8) Provisions for multiple prior art protests by a single party.

The Training and Implementation Guide will contain:

1) The text of the entire Final Rule as published in the Federal Register, which includes the revised rule language, the preamble portion explaining the revisions, and an Index to the Final Rule;
2) A rule-by-rule summary and three by-topic summaries (four summaries in total), the three by-topic summaries including a two-page highlights of the significant revisions, a condensed summary of the significant revisions, and a detailed summary of the revisions;

Reference Collections of U.S. Patents and Trademarks Available for Public Use in Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries

The following libraries, designated as Patent and Trademark Depository Libraries (PTDLs), receive patent and trademark information from the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office. Many PTDLs have on file patents issued since 1790, trademarks published since 1872, and select collections of foreign patents. All PTDLs receive both the patent and trademark sections of the Official Gazette of the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and numerical sets of patents in a variety of formats. Patent and trademark search systems in the Cassis CD-ROM series are available at all PTDLs to increase access to that information. It is through the CD-ROM systems and other depository materials that preliminary patent and trademark searches may be conducted through the numerically arranged collections.

Each PTDL offers reference publications which outline and provide access to the patent and trademark classification systems, as well as other documents and publications which supplement the basic search tools. PTDLs provide technical staff assistance in using all materials.

All information is available for use by the public free of charge. However, there may be charges associated with the use of on-line systems, photocopying and related services.

Since there are variations in the scope of patent and trademark collections among the PTDLs, and their hours of service to the public vary, anyone contemplating use of these collections at a particular library is urged to contact that library in advance about its collections, services, and hours in order to avert possible inconvenience.

Partnership PTDLs provide enhanced and expanded services for which fees are charged. They offer on-line patent text and image searching, on-line trademark searching, and videoconferencing for examiner interviews and workshops. They accept disclosure documents on site, order file wrappers, assignment documents and certified copies for their customers, and host a variety of seminars aimed at specific audiences, including practitioners, paralegals, and independent inventors. Currently, partnerships are located at the Great Lakes Patent and Trademark Center (GLPTC) at the Detroit Public Library in Detroit, Michigan and the Sunnyvale Center for Innovation, Invention and Ideas (SCI^3) in Sunnyvale, California.

*A communication from the examiner should have been received in most applications filed prior to this date.

Patents will Expire as Follows:
(1) The term of any utility or plant patent that is in force on or results from an application filed before June 8, 1995 is the greater of the 20 year term provided in 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2) or 17 years from grant subject to any terminal disclaimers. 35 U.S.C. 154(c)(1).
(2) All utility and plant patents granted on applications having an actual United States filing date on or after June 8, 1995 are granted for a term which begins on the date on which the patent is granted and ends 20 years from the date on which the application was filed in the United States. If the application contains a specific reference to an earlier application under 35 U.S.C. 120, 121 or 365(c), the patent term ends twenty years from that date on which the earliest application was filed. 35 U.S.C. 154(a)(2).
(3) All design patents are granted for a term of 14 years from the date of the grant.
However, the term of any patent may have been curtailed by disclaimer under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 153, have lapsed due to failure to pay maintenance fees, or have been extended under the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 154, 155, or 156. Thus, if more reliable information is needed with respect to a particular patent, then the specific patent file should be reviewed to determine the actual date of patent expiration.

SECTION 1.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).

SECTION 2.—INTERNATIONAL CLASSIFICATION

The short titles associated below with the international class numbers are terms designed merely for quick identification and are not an official part of the international classification. The full names of international classes are given in section 6.1 of the trademark rules of practice.

The designation "U.S. Cl." appearing in this section refers to the U.S. class in effect prior to Sep. 1, 1973 rather than the international class which applies to applications filed on or after that date. For adoption of international classification see notice in the OFFICIAL GAZETTE of Jun. 26, 1973 (911 O.G. TM 210).
